

GERMANS SAY BRITISH WANT STARVATION CAMPAIGN INSTEAD OF ACTUAL FIGHTING

Borah Says Embargo Repeal is British War Move

Senator Charges Plot To Involve U. S. Is Backed By Lord Lothian

Declares New British Ambassador Hopes To Draw Us Into Conflict On Side of the Allies

Washington, Oct. 22 (AP)—Senator Borah (R-Idaho) charged tonight that "powerful British influences" were trying to draw the United States into the war on the side of the Allies and that repeal of the arms embargo was the first step.

Speaking in opposition to the administration's neutrality bill, Borah said in a radio address (NBC) that, "If reports be true," Lord Lothian, new British ambassador to the United States, was "most active in advancing reasons" why the embargo should be repealed. The ambassador confers almost daily, he added, with administration officials.

"With some degree of pride," he said, "the (Lord Lothian) must look down from the Senate gallery, if he has the nerve to visit that humble scene, and note the progress toward repeal of a law he so early and boldly declared."

British Opposed Law

The Borah declared that the British government and its leaders had opposed the neutrality law and its prohibition on sales of arms and munitions to belligerents from the time it was enacted.

"This attack by a foreign power upon a law purely domestic, placed upon our statute books in the belief that it would help to protect our people against involvement in foreign wars, powers continued from its enactment all through the years," he said.

The Senate debate, Borah contended, already had demonstrated that advocates of repealing the arms embargo sought to take sides in the European war by aiding England and France.

Intervention, Not Neutrality

"The pending bill is not a neutrality measure at all," he added, "but rather a bill 'providing in effect' for intervention in a great European struggle for power."

The senator quoted a "leading journal" of the British Empire as approving that removal of the arms embargo would be a "starter, and a United States of America will turn in the war along about the middle of January."

Recent speeches of Chamberlain in England and Daladier of France

He said that the actual issues were questions of territory and of power.

Steel Plants of Nation Operating At Near Capacity

Reach 91 Per Cent and Are Maintaining Steady Gain

Export Business Overshadowed by Domestic Demands

Cleveland, Oct. 22 (AP)—Operations in the steel industry have reached ninety-one percent of capacity and producers see no let up in pressure for deliveries, says the magazine Steel.

With production up one and a half points last week, steelmakers reported new orders "rapidly" are filling what little available capacity remains on fourth quarter schedules.

"While recent operations on a percentage basis have been exceeded on numerous occasions in the past, tonnage output lately has been larger than for any other week in history," the publication said. "Additional plant facilities are being readied for service. In the Pittsburgh district alone five blast furnaces are being relined or repaired."

Ore Stocks Low

Despite heavy movement of iron ore by Great Lakes vessels, Steel said ore stocks on hand at blast furnaces and lower lake ports, Oct. 1 were 2,000,000 tons below those of a year ago.

"Export business in steel products continues overshadowed by domestic demand," steel said, "only relatively small lots being accepted for foreign shipment." Export prices are strong, with plates advanced an additional $5 a ton and black sheets up $3.

Tin Plate Higher

Tin plate production is up three points to 95 percent, with little further capacity available. Steel's scrap composite is off 83 cents to $21, now 1.16 below the early October peak but $7 higher than a year ago.

20,000 to 40,000 Killed in Warsaw

Stockholm, Oct. 22 (AP)—Lieut. Col. Erik De Laval, Swedish military attaché at Warsaw, declared in an interview today he believed 20,000 to 40,000 persons had been killed in the German bombardment of the Polish capital.

"I never before have seen a capital with more than 1,000,000 inhabitants so terribly bombed," the attaché said after returning from an inspection of the city he left Sept. 21, six days before its surrender.

Hurricane Damage Aboard the President Harding

Deck gear, chairs and other articles are shown stacked along a rail of the President Harding after members of the crew cleared up the litter caused when the vessel was buffeted about by hurricane enroute to New York. Seventy-three persons were injured and one man was washed overboard. The ship arrived with survivors of the torpedoed freighter, Heronspool.

Goebbels Says Churchill Ordered Athenia Sunk by Three British Destroyers

Points Out That Ship Remained Afloat 14 Hours Whereas Royal Oak Went Down Quickly

Berlin, Oct. 22 (AP)—Paul Joseph Goebbels, German minister of propaganda, in a radio address today charged Winston Churchill with ordering the sinking of the British liner Athenia and challenged the first lord of the British Admiralty to make a full explanation to the world.

Goebbels declared the ship was "sunk on British command in the most primitive and criminal plot in modern times" with the object of getting America into the European war.

The Nazi minister, addressing his remarks to Churchill, said: "You stand accused before the court of world opinion. It is your turn to speak. Go into the lower House or stand before the radio to tell the truth about the Athenia."

Demands Answers

In his address, Goebbels said Germany would not let the situation rest until a series of questions (Continued on Page Two)

50,200 in State To Get More Pay. Or Shorter Days

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 22 (AP)—Some 50,200 Maryland workers will wake up Tuesday to pay raises or shorter working days, Gov. Herbert R. O'Connor said today.

The governor said Harold D. Jacobs, deputy administrator of the wages and hours division of the U. S. labor department had advised him that number would be affected by the second year's operation of the fair labor standards act.

The statute provides that on and after Oct. 24, 1939, all persons employed in interstate commerce must be paid not less than thirty cents an hour and must be paid time and a half for all overtime in excess of forty-two hours weekly.

Jacobs told O'Connor that 36,200 Maryland workers are now employed more than forty-two hours weekly and must be paid a bonus or have their work-week reduced. Fourteen thousand others are receiving less than thirty cents hourly, Jacobs noted, and must be raised to this level.

The picture nationally shows some 690,000 workers paid less than the thirty-cent standard prescribed by the act, with some 2,382,500 working more than forty-two hours weekly, Jacobs said.

England May Fly American Planes Across Atlantic

Consider Various Plans To Speed Delivery of Many Ships

MAY USE CARRIERS FOR PART OF TRIPS

Another Plan Is To Load Them at Canadian Ports

By EDWARD E. BOMAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

Spectacular measures to speed the delivery of American-made warplanes to Europe may be expected if the arms embargo is lifted.

France and Britain need in a hurry the fighters, bombers and other craft ordered here to reinforce their defenses against any German aerial "Blitzkrieg."

Probably none of the 300 or so planes already awaiting delivery is capable of spanning the Atlantic by air, but they could go part of the way. Indications are that some at least will leave the United States under their own power, instead of in crates stowed away in the holds of slow-moving, vulnerable freighters.

To say the delay involved in shipping planes in knockdown form to be reassembled and tested upon arrival, they might be conveyed ready for action in a fast British or French aircraft carrier.

Might Sail From Canada
If a presidential proclamation or neutrality law ruling should bar a belligerent warship on such a mission from American ports, it could sail from Canada, after the planes had been flown across the border.

An even faster and more spectacular method would be to fly the planes several hundred miles at sea to a carrier which could launch them into the air upon reaching Europe and then speed back to this side of the Atlantic for another cargo.

Difficulties with the new 300-mile safety zone around the Americas might be forestalled by keeping the carrier beyond its outer limit but still well within the range of any combat plane.

As a further alternative, to minimize the peril of a submarine attack, the planes might be delivered to American, British or French islands in the West Indies and there either loaded on freighters or on a carrier's broad decks.

Regardless of British and French claims that they have overtaken (Continued on Page Two)

British Aviators Bored with Life On Western Front

By GODFREY ANDERSON
With the Royal Air Force somewhere in France (Passed by R.A.F. Censor), Oct. 22 (AP)—In the muddy plains behind the Maginot line where the rain has poured for nearly a week, I inspected today one of the advanced posts of the Royal Air Force.

Concealed among the foliage on a belt of trees, the post was hard to spot from the main road and probably could not have been discerned from above.

Outside the commander's hut the camouflaged planes stood ranged over the muddy surfaces of the flying field, spanned well apart so that in event of an attack no more than one machine could be disabled by a single bomb.

The commander, a native of Tasmania, was leaning over a desk made of packing cases writing a letter home.

Inviting me to sit down on a biscuit tin he told me "there's little to do but wait. I am trying to teach the men Australian rules of football on the muddy aerodrome but they can't play football all day."

The main complaint of the men was that "this is a boring war."

Conviction Spreading That 'Hunger Blockade' Is Planned by Allies

ILL IN MUNICH

The Hon. Unity Freeman-Mitford, daughter of a British peer and friend of Adolf Hitler, is reported seriously ill in a Munich hospital. The Nazi fuhrer once termed her a perfect specimen of Aryan beauty.

Finns Encouraged Russia Will Not Break Friendship

Believe Loss of Turkey Will Help Them at Conference

By WITT HANCOCK
Moscow, Oct. 22 (AP)—Finnish hopes for a peaceful settlement of negotiations with Soviet Russia rose today on the theory the U. S. S. R. was desirous of friendly neighbors on her northern flank particularly in view of the failure of talks with Turkey.

Speculation on the results of negotiations with Finland shared interest with word Russia shortly would send an economic mission to Germany headed by Ivan T. Tevosyan, people's commissar of shipbuilding.

Official quarters also watched voting today in the Russian-occupied portions of Poland (White Russia with the Ukraine) to decide whether the region would vote to join the U. S. S. R.

The Finnish delegation headed by Dr. Juho Kusti Paasikivi was due to arrive at 10:20 a. m. (2:30 a. m. E.S.T.) tomorrow.

May Give Up Islands
The Finns were said to be prepared to make some concessions to Russian demands, possibly with islands in the Gulf of Finland, but were determined not "to give too much away."

Observers, pointing out Russia has announced her intention of re- (Continued on Page Two)

Britain Reported Seeking To Form New German Government in London

New York, Oct. 22 (AP)—The Daily News says in a copyrighted story that, "according to information reaching New York through channels untouched by censors, the British government is considering recognition of a de jure—rightful, rather than actual—German government seated in London."

The strategy behind such action would be twofold, the News says:

1. It would make clear to the German people that the Allies have no desire to make war upon them and that "honorable" terms would be acceptable to a government other than Hitler's.
2. It would serve as an answer to former prime minister David Lloyd George, whose peace group is clamoring for careful consideration of Hitler's peace offers.

Not only would Britain and France recognize this new government-in-exile, according to the plan, but certain neutrals would be asked to do so. The News continues, "Feelers already have been extended to Secretary of State Cordell Hull in Washington, the report said."

The report said that four prominent German exiles, now living in England and France, have been approved as the nucleus of the new German "cabinet."

The story names the following as prospective cabinet members: Dr. Hermann Rauschning, former Nazi president of Danzig Senate, as chancellor; Dr. Rudolf Breitscheid, former Nazi and expert on foreign affairs, as foreign minister; Dr. Joseph Wirth, former German chancellor, as finance minister, and Capt.-Lieut. Gottfried Treviranus, one-time member of the Brüning cabinet, as minister without portfolio.

The paper says its report further (Continued on Page Two)

Millions of Germans Asking "When Is Enemy Going To Strike?" Western Front Peaceful

By MELVIN K. WHITELEATHER
Berlin, Oct. 22 (AP)—A terse army high command report of continued quiet on the western front today strengthened a growing German belief that the Allies were trying to crush Germany with a "hunger blockade" and diplomatic attack rather than on the battlefield.

The high command issued its shortest communique of the war today:

"In the west no special developments beyond minor artillery and scout troop activity."

A group of district Nazi leaders were spending the week end in Berlin, conferring on methods to meet internal problems. The leaders dined with Reichsfuehrer Hitler last night.

With only minor activity reported day after day from the western front, millions of Germans daily are asking: "when is the enemy going to strike?"

Suspect "Hunger Blockade"
The conviction appears spreading that the Allies will confine their efforts to tightening what Germans call the "hunger blockade" and increasing diplomatic efforts to isolate Germany.

(In London Saturday War Minister Leslie Hore-Belisha indicated the Allies would use "waiting war" tactics.)

Some quarters already are ruling out the possibility of a "blitzkrieg" or lightning war such as the Reich used to sweep over Poland.

Daily reports from the west where armies face each other on the Maginot line and west Wall without apparent offensive plans on either side were seen as strengthening the possibility the war would be a long one.

Germans Confident
German military men expressed confidence they have the upper hand in fighting materials and could smash their way across the Rhine if it should become necessary.

At the same time German leaders have asserted Britain's estimation of Germany's internal weakness was wrong and that the Reich can beat the Allies at their own waiting game.

Nazi officials laughed at foreign reports of internal dissension and pointed to the Russian economic agreement and the flow of raw materials and food from southeastern Europe and the Scandinavian countries as means of beating the sea blockade.

A campaign to strengthen the morale of the people is under way, Nazi leaders are telling mass meetings the restrictions on the civilian population are nothing compared to those the soldiers may have to endure.

A Nazi leader described the conflict as a "war of nerves" and predicted the people of France and Britain would break first.

ment-in-exile, according to the plan, but certain neutrals would be asked to do so. The News continues, "Feelers already have been extended to Secretary of State Cordell Hull in Washington, the report said."

The report said that four prominent German exiles, now living in England and France, have been approved as the nucleus of the new German "cabinet."

The story names the following as prospective cabinet members: Dr. Hermann Rauschning, former Nazi president of Danzig Senate, as chancellor; Dr. Rudolf Breitscheid, former Nazi and expert on foreign affairs, as foreign minister; Dr. Joseph Wirth, former German chancellor, as finance minister, and Capt.-Lieut. Gottfried Treviranus, one-time member of the Brüning cabinet, as minister without portfolio.

The paper says its report further (Continued on Page Two)

Cops and Robbers Play Leading Parts in the Dizzy News of Week

By GLADWIN HILL
New York, Oct. 22 (AP)—Cops and robbers contributed copious capers to a cavalcade of curiostities last week.

A 300-pound Pittsburgh officer ordered to reduce his waistline by four inches, to match his chest . . . A Columbus, N. J., cop chased a car that steered into the middle of a river and then lassoed it . . . A bank robber in Blanco, Tex., demanded a payoff of money—and bought his own bail . . . A Columbus, Ind., thief stole bottles of Coca-Cola from the front porch of the Newbury Hall . . . Pittsburgh equipped its traffic cops with individual identification tags . . .

A Harborside, N. Y., holdup man accepted the $10 in a woman's purse, took $2, and put the rest back . . . A Pittsburgh band, lining up its victims, inadvertently stepped on somebody's toe, he said . . .

A Northampton, Mass., cop, inspecting a store, locked himself in and had to telephone for help . . . Dizzy doings hither and yon—Mexico started a census of all the beds in the country . . . The city of Omaha figured out that spiders, gumming up the parking meters, were costing the taxpayers $3 a day . . .

A patron of a Lancaster, Pa., bar brought his own peanuts, and, when he departed, lugged away the shells . . . A New York man sat in a hotel window setting fire to dollar bills and tossing them down to the street . . . Two men pinched a speeding car in Berlin, N. J., turned out to be delegates hurrying to a safety convention . . .

When Seattle citizens reported to police that a man was walking around the streets in a dazed condition, the police reported back: "Man O K—this girl just told him she'd marry him!" . . .

GERMANS SAY BRITISH WANT STARVATION CAMPAIGN INSTEAD OF ACTUAL FIGHTING

Borah Says Embargo Repeal is British War Move

Senator Charges Plot To Involve U. S. Is Backed By Lord Lothian

Declares New British Ambassador Hopes To Draw Us Into Conflict On Side of the Allies

Washington, Oct. 22 (P)—Senator Borah (R-Idaho) charged tonight that "powerful British influences" were trying to draw the United States into the war on the side of the Allies and that repeal of the arms embargo was the first step.

Speaking in opposition to the administration's neutrality bill, Borah said in a radio address (NBC) that, "If reports be true," Lord Lothian, new British ambassador to the United States, was "most active in advancing reasons" why the embargo should be repealed. The ambassador confers almost daily, he added, with administration officials.

"With some degree of pride," he said, "he (Lord Lothian) must look down from the Senate gallery, if he deigns to visit that humble scene, and note the progress toward repeal of a law he so early and boldly denounced."

British Opposed Law.

Borah declared that the British government and its leaders had opposed the neutrality law and its prohibition on sales of arms and munitions to belligerents from the time it was enacted.

"This attack by a foreign power upon a law purely domestic, placed upon our statute books in the belief that it would help to protect our people against involvement in foreign powers continued from its enactment all through the years," he said.

The Senate debate, Borah contended, already had demonstrated that advocates of repealing the arms embargo sought to take sides in the European war by aiding England and France.

"The ruthless retaliation of the Germans and the shrewd and persistent propaganda of the British would put us into the war over night," he said.

Intervention, Not Neutrality

"The pending bill is not a neutrality measure at all," he added, but rather a bill "providing in effect intervention in a great European struggle for power."

The senator quoted a "leading journal" of the British Empire as saying that removal of the arms embargo would be a "starter, and the United States of America will be in the war along about the middle of January."

Turning to causes of the European war, Borah said England and France were trying to make "Nazism" the issue of this war in the United States.

Recent speeches of Chamberlain, England and Daladier of France made it perfectly plain, he asserted, that the actual issues were questions of territory and of power.

Steel Plants of Nation Operating At Near Capacity

Reach 91 Per Cent and Are Maintaining Steady Gain

Export Business Overshadowed by Domestic Demands

Cleveland, Oct. 22 (P)—Operations in the steel industry have reached ninety-one percent of capacity and producers see no let up in pressure for deliveries, says the magazine Steel.

With production up one and a half points last week, steelmakers reported new orders "rapidly are filling what little available capacity remains on fourth quarter schedules."

"While recent operations on a percentage basis have been exceeded on numerous occasions in the past, tonnage output lately has been larger than for any other week in history," the publication said. "Additional plant facilities are being readied for service. In the Pittsburgh district alone five more blast furnaces are being relined or replaced."

Ore Stocks Low

Despite heavy movement of iron ore by Great Lakes vessels, Steel said ore stocks on hand at blast furnaces and lower lake ports, Oct. 1 were 2,000,000 tons below those of a year ago.

"Export business in steel products continues overshadowed by domestic demand," steel said, "only relatively small lots being accepted for foreign shipment. Export prices are strong, with plates advanced an additional $5 a ton and black sheets up $3."

Tin Plate Higher

Tin plate production is up three points to 95 percent, with little further capacity available. Steel's scrap composite is off 83 cents to $21, now 116 below the early October peak but $7 higher than a year ago.

The ninety-two percent operating rate is 39 1/2 points above the corresponding 1938 period. Last week Pittsburgh gained three points to eighty-nine percent, Chicago one and a half to eighty-nine, Eastern Pennsylvania four to seventy-four, New England two to 100, St. Louis two and a half to seventy-seven and Cincinnati two to eighty-eight. Unchanged were Youngstown at ninety-four, Cleveland and Birmingham, both at ninety, and Wheeling at ninety-three.

20,000 to 40,000 Killed in Warsaw

Stockholm, Oct. 22 (P)—Lieut. Col. Erik De Laval, Swedish military attaché at Warsaw, declared in an interview today he believed 20,000 to 40,000 persons had been killed in the German bombardment of the Polish capital.

"I never before have seen a capital with more than 1,000,000 inhabitants so terribly bombed," the attaché said after returning from an inspection of the city he left Sept. 21, six days before its surrender.

Masses, cop. inspecting a store, locked himself in and had to telephone for help.

Dizzy doling hither and yon—Mexico started a census of all the beds in the country. . . . The city of Omaha figured out that spiders, gumming up the parking meters, were costing the taxpayers $2 a day. . . .

A patron of a Lancaster, Pa., bar brought his own peanuts, and when he departed, lugged away the shells. . . . A New York man sat in a hotel window setting fire to dollar bills and tossing them down to the street. . . . Two men pinched for speeding in Berlin, N. J., turned out to be delegates hurrying to a safety convention. . . .

When Seattle citizens reported to police that a man was walking around the streets in a dazed condition, the police reported back: "Man O. K.—His girl just told him she'd marry him."

By GLADWIN HILL

New York, Oct. 22 (P)—Cops and robbers contributed copious capers as a cavalcade of curiosities last night.

A 300-pound Pittsburgh officer ordered to reduce his waistline 10 inches, to match his chest. . . . Kearney, N. J., cop chased a flying steer into the middle of a bar and then lassoed it. . . .

A bank robber in Blanco, Tex., handed a paiful of money—and the night his own pain. . . . A Columbus, Ind., thief stole bottles of off the front porch of the city jail. . . . Pittsburgh equipped traffic cops with individual . . .

Hartsdale, N. Y., holdup man shed the $10 in a woman's purse, $2, and put the rest back. . . . A Pittsburgh bandit, lining up victims, inadvertently stepped on somebody's toe, he said, "don't me." . . . A Northampton, . . .

Hurricane Damage Aboard the President Harding

Deck gear, chairs and other articles are shown stacked along a rail of the President Harding after members of the crew cleared up the litter caused when the vessel was buffeted about by hurricane enroute to New York. Seventy-three persons were injured and one man was washed overboard. The ship arrived with survivors of the torpedoed freighter, Heronspool.

Goebbels Says Churchill Ordered Athenia Sunk by Three British Destroyers

Points Out That Ship Remained Afloat 14 Hours Whereas Royal Oak Went Down Quickly

Berlin, Oct. 22 (P)—Paul Joseph Goebbels, German minister of propaganda, in a radio address today charged Winston Churchill with ordering the sinking of the British liner Athenia and challenged the first lord of the British Admiralty to make a full explanation to the world.

Goebbels declared the ship was sunk on British command in the "most primitive and criminal plot in modern times" with the object of getting America into the European war.

The Nazi minister, addressing his remarks to Churchill, said: "You stand accused before the court of world opinion. It is your turn to speak. Go into the lower House or stand before the radio to tell the truth about the Athenia."

Demands Answers.

In his address, Goebbels said Germany would not let the situation rest until a series of questions (Continued on Page Two)

50,200 in State To Get More Pay. Or Shorter Days

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 22 (P)—Some 50,200 Maryland workers will wake up Tuesday to pay raises or shorter working days, Gov. Herbert R. O'Connor said today.

The governor said Harold D. Jacobs, deputy administrator of the wages and hours division of the U. S. labor department had advised him that number would be affected by the second year's operation of the fair labor standards act.

The statute provides that on and after Oct. 24, 1939, all persons employed in interstate commerce must be paid not less than thirty cents an hour and must be paid time and a half for all overtime in excess of forty-two hours weekly.

Jacobs told O'Connor that 36,200 Maryland workers are now employed more than forty-two hours weekly and must be paid a bonus or have their work-week reduced. Fourteen thousand others are receiving less than thirty cents hourly, Jacobs noted, and must be raised to this level.

The picture nationally shows some 690,000 workers paid less than the thirty-cent standard prescribed by the act, with some 2,382,500 working more than forty-two hours weekly, Jacobs said.

German Plane Is Shot Down Near Scotland Coast

British Aviators Bag One of Two Attacking Visitors

London, Oct. 22 (P)—A German plane was shot down on the southeast coast of Scotland this afternoon, it was announced officially, a few hours after air raid warnings sounded over coastal areas of north-eastern England.

Two German planes were sighted, the air ministry said in a communiqué, but were met by British defense aircraft.

"Early this afternoon two enemy aircraft were seen over the southeast coast of Scotland. Our fighters intercepted them and one enemy aircraft was shot down."

The air ministry later announced that five German airmen who took part in yesterday's attack on a British convoy in the North Sea had been picked up by trawlers and landed at Grimsby.

Three Planes Shot Down

Announcements last night said at least three German planes were shot down and another was forced to alight of twelve in the attacking party.

One trawler brought in two fliers, both badly injured; another brought three men, one injured, who were afloat in a rubber boat when picked up.

Air raid signals were sounded and the Royal Air Force fighters took the air in northeastern England when warplanes were sighted off the coast prior to the action over Scotland.

It was officially announced later that no bombs were dropped and no aircraft crossed the coast. The planes were not identified.

British Planes Up

A second official announcement said the planes were observed flying northward and that "precautionary (Continued on Page Two)

Browder Faces Prosecution for Admitted Use of Fake Passport

New York, Oct. 22 (P)—The federal departments of justice and state today closed in on Communists and Communist organizations suspected of using forged passports and intensified an investigation of foreign spies.

The records of at least one organization already have been subpoenaed: officials declined comment on reports that raids had been carried out and prisoners taken. Communist news sources were unable to reach Communist party officials by telephone for hours tonight for information.

The department of justice in Washington announced that it "expects some decisive action in a few hours" on an acknowledgment by . . .

England May Fly American Planes Across Atlantic

Consider Various Plans To Speed Delivery of Many Ships

MAY USE CARRIERS FOR PART OF TRIPS

Another Plan Is To Load Them at Canadian Ports

By EDWARD E. BOMAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

Spectacular measures to speed the delivery of American-made warplanes to Europe may be expected if the arms embargo is lifted.

France and Britain need in a hurry the fighters, bombers and other craft ordered here to reinforce their defenses against any German aerial "Blitzkrieg."

Probably none of the 300 or so planes already awaiting delivery is capable of spanning the Atlantic by air, but they could go part of the way. Indications are that some at least will leave the United States under their own power, instead of in crates stowed away in the holds of slow-moving, vulnerable freighters.

To save the delay involved in shipping planes in knockdown form to be reassembled and tested upon arrival, they might be conveyed ready for action in a fast British or French aircraft carrier.

Might Sail From Canada

If a presidential proclamation or neutrality law ruling should bar a belligerent warship on such a mission from American ports, it could sail from Canada, after the planes had been flown across the border.

An even faster and more spectacular method would be to fly the planes several hundred miles at sea to a carrier which could launch them into the air upon nearing Europe and then speed back to this side of the Atlantic for another cargo.

Difficulties with the new 300-mile safety zone around the Americas might be forestalled by keeping the carrier beyond its outer limit but still well within the range of any combat plane.

As a further alternative, to minimize the peril of a submarine attack, the planes might be delivered to American, British or French islands in the West Indies and there either loaded on freighters or on a carrier's broad decks.

Regardless of British and French claims that they have overtaken (Continued on Page Two)

British Aviators Bored with Life On Western Front

By GODFREY ANDERSON

With the Royal Air Force somewhere in France (Passed by R.A.F. Censor), Oct. 22 (P)—In the muddy plains behind the Maginot line where the rain has poured for nearly a week, I inspected today one of the advanced posts of the Royal Air Force.

Concealed among the foliage on a belt of trees, the post was hard to spot from the main road and probably could not have been discerned from above.

Outside the commander's hut the camouflaged planes stood ranged over the muddy surfaces of the flying field, spanned well apart so that in event of an attack no more than one machine could be disabled by a single bomb.

The commander, a native of Tasmania, was leaning over a desk made of packing cases writing a letter home.

Inviting me to sit down on a biscuit tin he told me "there's little to do but wait. I am trying to teach the men Australian rules of football on the muddy aerodrome but they can't play football all day."

The main complaint of the men was that "this is a boring war." Most billets have wireless sets and some fliers brought their dashboards when they flew over from England. France recognize this new govern-

Conviction Spreading That 'Hunger Blockade' Is Planned by Allies

ILL IN MUNICH

The Hon. Unity Freeman-Mitford, daughter of a British peer and friend of Adolf Hitler, is reported seriously ill in a Munich hospital. The Nazi Fuehrer once termed her a perfect specimen of Aryan beauty.

Finns Encouraged Russia Will Not Break Friendship

Believe Loss of Turkey Will Help Them at Conference

By WITT HANCOCK

Moscow, Oct. 23 (P)—Finnish hopes for a peaceful settlement of negotiations with Soviet Russia rose today on the theory the U. S. S. R. was desirous of friendly neighbors on her northern flank particularly in view of the failure of talks with Turkey.

Speculation on the results of negotiations with Finland shared interest with word Russia shortly would send an economic mission to Germany headed by Ivan T. Tevnyan, people's commissar of shipbuilding.

Official quarters also watched voting today in the Russian-occupied portions of Poland (White Russia with the Ukraine) to decide whether the region would vote to join the U. S. S. R.

The Finnish delegation headed by Dr. Juho Kusti Paasikivi was due to arrive at 10:20 a. m. (2:30 a. m. E.S.T.) tomorrow.

May Give Up Islands

The Finns were said to be prepared to make some concessions to Russian demands, possibly with islands in the Gulf of Finland, but were determined not "to give too much away."

Observers, pointing out Russia has announced her intention of re-

(Continued on Page Two)

Britain Reported Seeking To Form New German Government in London

New York, Oct. 22 (P)—The Daily News says in a copyrighted story that, "according to information reaching New York through channels untouched by censors, the British government is considering recognition of a de jure—rightful rather than actual—German government seated in London."

The strategy behind such action would be twofold, the News says:

1. It would make clear to the German people that the Allies have no desire to make war upon them and that "honorable" terms would be acceptable to a government other than Hitler's.

2. It would serve as an answer to former prime minister David Lloyd George, whose peace group is clamoring for careful consideration of Hitler's peace offers.

"Not only would Britain and France recognize this new govern-

Millions of Germans Asking "When Is Enemy Going To Strike?" Western Front Peaceful

By MELVIN K. WHITELEATHER

Berlin, Oct. 22 (P)—A terse army high command report of continued quiet on the western front today strengthened a growing German belief that the Allies were trying to crush Germany with a "hunger blockade" and diplomatic attack rather than on the battlefield.

The high command issued its shortest communiqué of the war today:

"In the west no special developments beyond minor artillery and scout troop activity."

A group of district Nazi leaders were spending the week end in Berlin, conferring on methods to meet internal problems. The leaders dined with Reichsfuehrer Hitler last night.

With only minor activity reported day after day from the western front, millions of Germans daily are asking: "when is the enemy going to strike?"

Suspect "Hunger Blockade"

The conviction appears spreading that the Allies will confine their efforts to tightening what Germans call the "hunger blockade" and increasing diplomatic efforts to isolate Germany.

In London Saturday War Minister Leslie Hore-Belisha indicated the Allies would use "waiting war" tactics.

Some quarters already are ruling out the possibility of a "blitzkrieg" or lightning war such as the Reich used to sweep over Poland.

Daily reports from the west where armies face each other on the Maginot line and west Wall without apparent offensive plans on either side were seen as strengthening the possibility the war would be a long one.

Germans Confident

German military men expressed confidence they have the upper hand in fighting materials and could smash their way across the Rhine if it should become necessary.

At the same time German leaders have asserted Britain's estimation of Germany's internal weakness was wrong and that the Reich can beat the Allies at their own waiting game.

Nazi officials laughed at foreign reports of internal dissension and pointed to the Russian economic agreement and the flow of raw materials and food from southeastern Europe and the Scandinavian countries as means of beating the sea blockade.

A campaign to strengthen the morale of the people is under way, Nazi leaders are telling mass meetings the restrictions on the civilian population are nothing compared to those the soldiers may have to endure.

A Nazi leader described the conflict as a "war of nerves" and predicted the people of France and Britain would break first.

The report said that four prominent German exiles, now living in England and France, have been approved as the nucleus of the new German "cabinet."

The story names the following as prospective cabinet members: Dr. Hermann Raushnigg, former Nazi president of Danzig Senate, as chancellor; Dr. Rudolf Breitscheid, former Nazi and expert on foreign affairs, as foreign minister; Dr. Joseph Wirth, former German chancellor, as finance minister, and Capt.-Lieut. Gottfried Treviranus, one-time member of the Brüning cabinet, as minister without portfolio.

The paper says its report further (Continued on Page Two)

Predict Vote on Neutrality Bill By End of Week

Administration Leaders
Say It May Be Taken
Wednesday

GARNER TAKES HAND IN SPEEDING DEBATE

Also Opposes Legislation
for Farm Relief at This Session

Washington, Oct. 22. (P)—Despite their failure to obtain a limitation on the neutrality debate, Senate leaders confidently predicted today that a vote on the measure would be reached by the end of the week.

Senator Byrnes (D-SC), an administration strategist, said he thought there was a possibility of a vote Wednesday. He said that if General debate was ended tomorrow, the pending amendments probably could be disposed of on Tuesday. On the other hand, Senator Borah (R-Idaho), a leader of the opposition to the administration program, said debate on the amendments might run for ten days.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, asked yesterday for unanimous agreement to limit general debate to one hour for each senator and debate on amendments to a half hour. Senator McNary of Oregon, the Republican leader, blocked this proposal, but said he would confer with Barkley Monday to see if there was not some way to expedite a decision.

Democratic leaders on the House side said it would not take that branch long to act.

Garner Becomes Active

Meantime, Vice-President Garner was reported to be taking a leading role in efforts of administration leaders to bring about the early adjournment of the special session of Congress, once it disposes of the neutrality legislation.

Garner was said to have advised some senators against seeking action on a proposed $50,000,000 appropriation for farm relief in the drought stricken areas of the west and southwest.

His opposition was said to have been based not only on his desire to limit the special session to consideration of neutrality legislation but also by his aversion to increased government spending.

Final Vote Delayed

It appeared that Senate action on the chief section of the neutrality bill—that repealing the present embargo on sale of arms to belligerents—would be delayed until all amendments have been considered. McNary said he would request that this procedure be followed.

Some opponents privately conceded the administration a margin of thirty votes on the question of repealing the embargo, but the division appeared to be much closer on proposals to alter the shipping and "title and carry" sections of the bill.

Eliminate Objections

Administration leaders believed they had eliminated most of the objections to these sections by drafting amendments to require payment of cash and to permit American vessels to continue to ply their trade in the South Atlantic, Pacific and Indian oceans, the Bay of Bengal and the Arabian and China Seas.

There was a movement under way in the Senate, however, to permit cargoes consigned to those exempted areas to be carried without previous transfer of title to foreign interests.

This was opposed, however, by Chairman Pittman (D-Nev.) of the Foreign Relations Committee, who said he was not inclined to accept further material changes in the measure.

Pope Urges Prayers To Dissipate War

Castel Gandolfo, Italy, Oct. 22. (P)—Pope Pius XII, in a farewell audience with local inhabitants before his return to the Vatican today urged them to pray that God might "dissipate the war's whirlwind, reconcile the nations and protect his church."

The pontiff contrasted the tranquility of Castel Gandolfo, his summer home, with the "human tempest unleashed in Europe" and said the world needed "that peace of which St. Augustine spoke, that is tranquillitas ordinis, peace governed by harmony among men."

"In this present hour of whirlwinds and tempests among nations," the Pope said, "it is the dawn of this peace which the church invokes on nations when it prays that the Lord may grant kings and Christian peoples peace and true concord and peace and unity to all Christian people."

German Plane

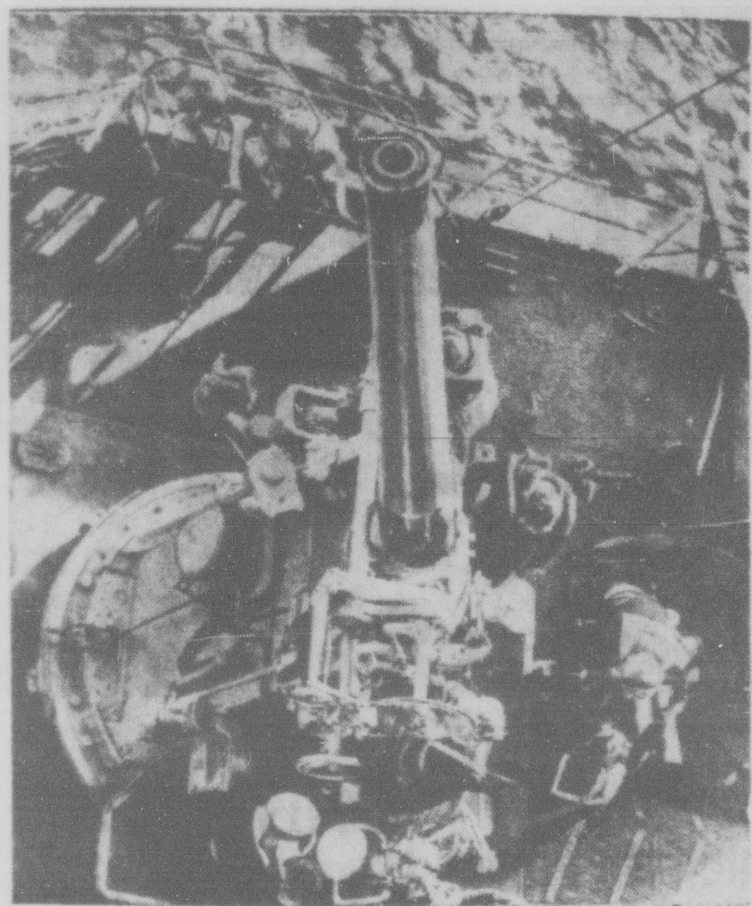

(Continued from Page One)

measures" were taken, including the dispatch of Royal Air Force aircraft.

Reports from the warning area said no gunfire or planes were heard but just after the "all clear" signal was given, some planes—presumably British—were heard passing overhead.

Two unidentified planes were sighted off the east coast yesterday.

GERMAN BOMBERS: BEWARE!

A dive bomber would never come so close to the deck of a warship to see the detail of a gun like this, but if it did this is how one of the anti-aircraft guns on the British cruiser Revenge would look. German bombers have tried conclusions with British warships on several occasions, but so far the plane-warship controversy still remains unsettled.

Industrialists Differ on How Long Business Boom Will Last

Foundations Weak, One
Group Holds, Will Last,
Others Say

By FREDERICK GARDNER

New York, Oct. 22. (P)—How strong are the foundations of the business boom?

Steel men, driving to fill the biggest pile of orders in a decade, have prodded Wall Street debate on the question.

Outspoken Ernest T. Weir, chairman of the National Steel Corp. and head of the American Iron & Steel Institute, says the rapid autumn advance rests "on a foundation about as strong as the filling in a cream puff."

Tom M. Girdler, chairman of the Republic Steel Corp., says he expects the improvement to last indefinitely.

Siding with Girdler is Andrew W. Robertson, chairman of Westinghouse Electric. He calls it a solid business recovery, promising prosperity even if the European war were to end suddenly.

Comeback Is Rapid

In the meanwhile, the industrial comeback has been one of the most rapid on record. Steel production, main bulwark of the heavy industries, has expanded from around 60 percent of capacity at the start of September to above 90.

Rarely, so far as veteran Wall Street observers recall, has there been such sharp division of opinion over the "fundamentals" of the upswing.

Skeptics magnify the influence of the war in causing buying for inventory, rather than consumption, and whipping up a flourish of spending for new equipment. Much of this, they insist, has been anticipation of war orders from Europe which may never materialize.

The believers in lasting recovery, on the other hand, point out a sturdy forward march along the home industrial front was in progress throughout the summer. The war, they hold, merely quickened this progress in conjunction with the usual autumn stimulus to business after Labor Day.

Weir Group Pessimistic

The Weir school maintains the American business system beneath the surface still is entangled in a depression growth of taxes, regulations, price maladjustments, anemic profits and other impediments to healthy enterprise.

War stocks came up a little last week, but partly because many plants have been employed to capacity or near capacity, analysts explained, the business advance appears to have slowed. The Associated Press industrial activity index, at its highest October level in ten years, had a slight setback for the first time in fourteen weeks.

Jitterbugger Breaks Leg Doing Dipsy Doodle

Detroit, Oct. 22. (P)—Jitterbugging has its perils.

Policemen Harvey Ferris and John Schoettle were assisting an ambulance crew with an automobile accident victim today when a man walked up.

"Victim of one of those jitterbug dances, is he?"

"No, no," said the officers.

"Well, we got a fellow down the street who was doing some rug cutting and he slipped and broke his leg."

Off dashed the policemen, to find Private James Baxter, 21, of Fort Wayne Army post, in an inn, with his left leg broken.

"I was doing the dipsy doodle, and my legs got crossed up," Baxter explained.

Cunarder Arrives Early

New York, Oct. 22. (P)—The Cunard White Star liner, Georgic, arrived unexpectedly today—24 hours ahead of the time customs officials estimated she might dock—and anchored in the upper bay off Quarantine with 341 passengers aboard.

New Executioner Ready To Snuff Out Three Lives

"Mr. X" Will Throw Switch
at Rockview Three Times Today

Bellefonte, Pa., Oct. 22. (P)—A novice executioner—"Mr. X"—came to grim Rockview penitentiary tonight to begin a career in dealing out death in Pennsylvania's electric chair.

Warden Stanley P. Ashe of Rockview announced tonight "Mr. X" was Frank Lee Wilson, 37-year-old Pittsburgh electrical engineer.

Wilson, introduced to newsmen tonight at a dinner at the warden's home, is slim, blond, pleasant-looking and bespectacled. He is the father of two children.

Will Receive $450

He will receive $250 for a single execution and $100 for each additional execution on any one night.

He never before performed an execution but witnessed them, said Ashe, adding:

"He recognizes the law as it is. He is a public servant and feels no more responsible for an electrocution than the judge and the jury."

His first assignment required him to throw the switch three times early Monday morning to put to death Paul Perry of Erie, Pa., and Ira Bob Redmon and Willie Bailey, Philadelphia negroes.

State officials announced the new executioner, whom they described as "a poor, deserving electrician," would receive $450 for his first night's work as successor to the late Robert Elliott.

Elliott died in New York recently after sixteen years at the switch of the Rockview electric chair.

Dr. J. W. Claudy, superintendent at Rockview, said he believed the fifty-one-year-old Perry at last had come to comprehend today that death was but a matter of hours.

Killed Wife With Axe

Convicted of hacking his wife to death with an axe during a drunken rage in their home in Erie in 1936, Perry escaped death thirteen times as one reprieve after another was granted to test his sanity. State psychiatrists at last pronounced him sane and the state pardon board declined to recommend commutation of the death sentence to life imprisonment.

Warden Matt Hess of the Erie county jail said Friday that he had been unable to make Perry understand that the pardon board had refused his plea and that death was imminent.

The 20-year-old Bailey was convicted of slaying his wife, Rose, in June, 1935, only three weeks after their marriage.

Redmon was sentenced to death for shooting a Philadelphia delicatessen clerk, Solomon Goldberg, during a holdup.

More Cause To Go To War Than in '17, Norris Says

Washington, Oct. 22. (P)—Senator Norris (Ind-Neb) said today that while he thought "we have more cause to go to war now than we had in 1917," a vastly different psychology on the part of the American public would keep this country out of the present European conflict.

The 78-year-old Nebraska, the sole remaining senator who voted against American entry into the World War, said in an interview that the lessons of the last conflict still were fresh in the memory of the public.

"I think we have learned by the bitter experience of the last war that it doesn't do us any good to go to war," he said. "We would like to make the world a decent place to live in, but there are some things that we can't do though we would like to."

"I don't think this country will ever again go to war in Europe, although I do think we have more cause to go to war now than we did in 1917," Norris said. "Hitler has violated every precept of any decent man by his policy of dismembering a country by force."

As to the different public psychology from that of 1917, Norris said, "there is not the hatred, the bitterness and the intensity of feeling that took up into the last war."

"And I know from experience," he added, "that the people pushed Congress into that war against the better judgment of a good many congressmen."

Norris, a supporter of the administration's neutrality bill, said he thought that if its restrictions on American shipping were adopted, many of the factors that led to American entry into the World War would be eliminated, such as the loss of lives of American seamen.

"Of course," he said, "some overt act by Hitler might inflame the people. He might order submarines to sink our ships trading with neutral nations. I don't think he would do that, but he is a madman and you can't tell what might happen."

Dr. Homberger's Visit Will Be Sponsored by the University's International Relations Club

From 1931 until 1936, he directed the law and finance departments of the German system, weathering several of the Reich's greatest financial crises. He previously had served on German delegations to post-world war reparations conferences.

Dr. Homberger is the author of several books on management and finance of railroads in Germany and the United States.

French Soldiers Outwit the Nazis On Western Front

Retreat from Woods Four Days before Germans
Know It

By ROY P. PORTER

Paris, Oct. 22. (P)—French soldiers turned actors to cover their withdrawal from Warndt Forest with such success the Germans did not discover the deception for four days, military dispatches asserted today.

French said the troops started leaving the forest, west of Saarbrücken, last Monday. As they left, small patrols hurried from section to section firing machine-guns and rifles, acting the part of a large force, to give the impression the forest still was guarded heavily.

Allied forces left all of the forest except two heights close to the border which were heavily fortified, they reported.

Military commentators said the Germans did not discover the withdrawal until Friday when they marched in and reoccupied the area. The departure was said to have been ordered by General Maurice Gustave Gamelin, commander in chief of the Allied forces, who frequently has expressed a desire to save as many lives as possible.

The French said previous to the withdrawal word was received that the Germans planned to retake the forest, which is in Germany, at any cost for psychological reasons.

Today's morning communique reported a "moderately quiet night" on the front.

Cold and clear weather sent French and British air patrols into the sky over the lines on scouting missions after several days of comparative inactivity, military advisers said.

Meanwhile, nature came to the aid of the French in their defense plans when flood waters swelled over the banks of the Rhine covering areas in front of the French defense lines.

O'Connor Proposes Law To Improve Roadside Beauty

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 22. (P)—Enforcement of roadside beautification by statute was proposed to the legislative council today by Gov. Herbert R. O'Connor.

Asserting it was "imperative that a solution be found" to the problem offered by an "apparent tendency to spoil the appearance and beauty of our material roadways," the governor issued a formal statement that:

"I intend to invite the attention of the legislative council to this matter, inasmuch as the council will have before it other phases of the roads situation."

It is certainly not the intention of those interested in beautifying our roads to deprive abutting landowners of the benefit of any revenue. But by placing reasonable limitations, I think their property actually will be enhanced."

Traffic often was endangered and delayed by "conditions adjacent to the highways," O'Connor pointed out, and "undoubtedly a proper study along these lines will enable us to comprehend the problems . . . and decide with intelligence the steps to be taken with reasonable consideration given the landowner."

"To realize the extent to which the practice of erecting signs and lights has gone," he continued, "one need only ride along the Washington-Baltimore boulevard. Now, with the Ritchie highway nearing completion, I consider it timely to call public attention to the matter."

Pending action by the legislature, the governor noted, "our only recourse is to appeal to the community spirit of our merchants and to others, and to urge that they display judgment in avoiding the placing of signs where they are not necessary or desirable."

Browder Faces

(Continued from Page One)

diary work on the case. He declined comment.

The investigation is a sequel to the conviction last May 2 of three men on charges of conspiracy in obtaining sixteen faked passports for Mr. and Mrs. Donald Robinson, also known under the name of Adolph Arnold Rubens. The Robinsons were accused in the proceedings of being spies for a foreign government. They had been imprisoned in Moscow. Federal agents expected to round up or expose a number of foreign spies in the present proceedings.

During the Dies Committee hearings in Washington Earl Browder, general secretary of the Communist party, admitted he had traveled abroad on a passport bearing a fictitious name.

Ben Gitlow, a "friendly" witness, testified that travel on forged passports was a common practice among Communist party leaders.

War News?

Paris, Oct. 22. (P)—The following French war communique was issued at 8:25 p. m. (2:25 p. m.—E.S.T.) tonight:

All quiet during the day. On several points of the front ambushes and patrols were active.

NEUTRALIZING A GERMAN MINE

One of the wartime duties of the neutral Dutch Coastguard is to watch for belligerent mines that are washed on Dutch beaches and to destroy them. Photo, top, shows a German mine being hauled away. Bottom, one of its deadly globes awaits its turn as another is exploded in the distance.

Britain, France and Turkey Agree To Work Together in Near East

By LLOYD LEHRBAS

Ankara, Oct. 22. (P)—Great Britain, France and Turkey tonight were understood to have agreed upon a three-point program for protection of their interests in the Near East.

The program, mapped by diplomats and by military experts in joint staff talks held under closest secrecy, was believed by observers to include:

1. Co-ordinated action by the British and French forces in the Near East and by the Turkish army in event of any aggressive acts within the scope of the newly signed British-French-Turkish mutual assistance pact.

2. Granting by Britain and France to Turkey a $60,000,000 ($240,000,000) credit, as reliably reported yesterday, of which $25,000,000 ($100,000,000) is earmarked for arms, ammunition and other military supplies.

3. Recommendation by French and British experts on the type of military equipment to be purchased by Turkey to strengthen her position as guardian of the Dardanelles, strategic gateway to the Black Sea and Europe's "back door."

Meanwhile the Turkish government analyzed its position as the result of the breakdown of Turkish-Russian negotiations and the signature of three-power mutual aid pact.

Some foreign observers here believed Turkey's friendship with Russia had been so severely shaken by the recent Soviet demands in the Moscow talks that they may seriously affect the future course of Turkish foreign policy. Officially, however, the Turks still adhere to Soviet friendship.

Turkish Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu, it was learned here, went to Moscow prepared to negotiate a mutual assistance agreement with Russia which would be complementary to the Anglo-French pact.

No one has disclosed to the public just what happened during Saracoglu's three-week stay in Moscow.

Diplomatic observers here pointed out, however, that after the arrival in Moscow of German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, during Saracoglu's visit, Russia apparently made new and unexpected demands which Turkey could not accept since they conflicted with Turkish commitments to Britain and France and possibly the Balkan countries.

Defeat of Hitler Not Enough, Menzies Says

Melbourne, Australia, Oct. 22. (P)—Prime Minister R. G. Menzies declared today Great Britain and France could not win the European war merely by overthrowing Adolf Hitler.

"Our fight is against a series of principles of conduct of government, the continued existence of which is intolerable," he told a church congregation.

"Unless a miracle happens this will be the greatest struggle Britain has ever entered," Menzies concluded. "I disagree with the theory that we are fighting one man and that the war will be won if he is overthrown."

Republicans To Study Agricultural Program

Washington, Oct. 22. (P)—Terminating the administration's farm policy "a demonstrated failure," Representative Martin (R-Mass.), the house minority leader, today appointed a special committee of forty-six House Republicans to make a study of the agricultural problem.

Since assuming the minority leadership, Martin has followed the practice of naming special units to make independent studies of congressional issues.

Rep. Hope of Kansas, the ranking minority member of the House Agriculture Committee, was named chairman of the new group.

Foreign Aviators Keep Netherland Fliers on Watch

"Those Fellows" always
Flying over Neutral
Territory

By FRED VANDERSCHMIDT

Groningen, the Netherlands, Oct. 22. (P)—From a trim little airport in placid northeastern Holland a Netherlands dawn patrol is listening and flying on the tough and ticklish job of keeping the Netherlands out of war.

"We get elephant ears in this place," one tall flying officer said as he paused to listen to a high-pitched motor.

"This time it is only a car on the highway. Other times it is those fellows."

Nearly every day, usually early in the morning, it is—"those fellows" coming over the neutral Netherlands land or sea frontiers which lie so inconveniently between Britain and Germany.

To the Netherlands dawn patrol it makes no difference whether they are German or British planes. The Netherlands is neutral. It is the job of the patrol to chase any plane which violates the neutrality of the Netherlands, catch it if they can and intern the crew.

Try To Catch Them
"We try to catch them but it is not an easy thing to do," an officer said.

"If they are headed east they are across the German border before we can get after them. If they are going west sometimes we chase them to the North Sea."

Last Tuesday Netherlands planes went up on border patrol while British raiders were over Emden. Some planes were fired upon by German anti-aircraft. I talked to one young Netherlands pilot who dodged two shell bursts.

"They thought we were English," he said. "We were about three miles away. It was not very good shooting."

The Netherlands is now marking her planes with an orange triangle instead of the tri-colored "bullseye" which resembled British and French markings. However, it is not always possible to see markings from the ground.

Belligerent planes do not always fly high. One shot across the airport the other day at about 10,000 feet. Sometimes clouds of British leaflets printed in German come fluttering down on the Netherlands side.

One or two of the quiet little villages near the dawn patrol airport literally have been buried in misplaced British pamphlets captioned "achtung, aching" (warning, warning) and addressed to the German people.

I asked about the crew of a German seaplane which I heard had been forced down and interned.

Nazi Aviators Interned
"Yes," said one officer, "they were very angry about it. There was some shooting. Now they are held on one of our islands. It cannot be helped."

England May Fly

(Continued from Page One)

Germany in warplane production, the Allies want the American planes just as quickly as they can get them.

In quality, some 250 Curtiss Hawk single engine fighters have shown the ability in combat over the Western front to cope on at least equal terms with the Nazis' famous Messerschmitts. Some American experts doubt that Germany has planes to match the 100 Douglas and 400 Martin attack bombers which France ordered early this year.

When the war started, France and Britain had contracted with American manufacturers for about 1,300 warplanes of all types. President Roosevelt's neutrality proclamation cancelled delivery of 600 or more.

Now it is reported that a French mission is authorized to order 2,750 additional planes and a British mission is ready to contract for some 3,000.

Captain Puts Flowers On His Own Grave

By DREW MIDDLETON

With the British Expeditionary Forces in France (Censor) (P)—One of the strangest ceremonies of this strange war took place today in a peaceful graveyard in British troops when an officer on whose chest was the dull red ribbon of the Victoria Cross put flowers on his own grave.

He is a high officer in the British forces. In the last months of the World War he completed valuable reconnaissance work after fighting off German squads and suffering severe machine-gun wounds in one leg, which was amputated.

For this exploit he won the Victoria Cross.

He remained in the army and despite his handicap reached high rank. He landed in France a month ago and to his surprise learned that in the confusion after the last battles of the world war his leg had been buried in a grave with the notation that it was all that had been found of him.

Some morning with the sublimely serene eyes him "anxiously" marched into a forest of little white crosses after a journey of many miles and placed flowers below the marking of his name and regiment on the grave.

"Dashed good leg, that," he said.

Predict Vote on Neutrality Bill By End of Week

Administration Leaders
Say It May Be Taken
Wednesday

GARNER TAKES HAND IN SPEEDING DEBATE

Also Opposes Legislation
for Farm Relief at This Session

Washington, Oct. 22. (P)—Despite their failure to obtain a limitation on the neutrality debate, Senate leaders confidently predicted today that a vote on the measure would be reached by the end of the week.

Senator Byrnes (D-SC), an administration strategist, said he thought there was a possibility of a vote Wednesday. He said that if General debate was ended tomorrow, the pending amendments probably could be disposed of on Tuesday. On the other hand, Senator Borah (R-Idaho), a leader of the opposition to the administration program, said debate on the amendments might run for ten days.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, asked yesterday for unanimous agreement to limit general debate to one hour for each senator and debate on amendments to a half hour. Senator McNary of Oregon, the Republican leader, blocked this proposal, but said he would confer with Barkley Monday to see if there was not some way to expedite a decision.

Democratic leaders on the House side said it would not take that branch long to act.

Garner Becomes Active

Meantime, Vice-President Garner was reported to be taking a leading role in efforts of administration leaders to bring about the early adjournment of the special session of Congress, once it disposes of the neutrality legislation.

Garner was said to have advised some senators against seeking action on a proposed $50,000,000 appropriation for farm relief in the drought stricken areas of the west and southwest.

His opposition was said to have been based not only on his desire to limit the special session to consideration of neutrality legislation but also by his aversion to increased government spending.

Final Vote Delayed

It appeared that Senate action on the chief section of the neutrality bill—that repealing the present embargo on sale of arms to belligerents—would be delayed until all amendments have been considered. McNary said he would request that this procedure be followed.

Some oppositionists privately conceded the administration a margin of thirty votes on the question of repealing the embargo, but the division appeared to be much closer on proposals to alter the shipping and "title and carry" sections of the bill.

Eliminate Objections

Administration leaders believed they had eliminated most of the objections to these sections by drafting amendments to require payment of cash and to permit American vessels to continue to ply their trade in the South Atlantic, Pacific and Indian oceans, the Bay of Bengal and the Arabian and China seas.

There was a movement under way in the Senate, however, to permit cargoes consigned to those exempted areas to be carried without previous transfer of title to foreign interests.

This was opposed, however, by Chairman Pittman (D-Nev.) of the Foreign Relations Committee, who said he was not inclined to accept further material changes in the measure.

Pope Urges Prayers To Dissipate War

Castel Gandolfo, Italy, Oct. 22. (P)—Pope Pius XII, in a farewell audience with local inhabitants before his return to the Vatican today urged them to pray that God might "dissipate the war's whirlwind, reconcile the nations and protect his church."

The pontiff contrasted the tranquility of Castel Gandolfo, his summer home, with the "human tempests unleashed in Europe" and said the world needed "that peace of which St. Augustine spoke, that is tranquillitas ordinis, peace governed by harmony among men."

"In this present hour of whirlwinds and tempests among nations," the Pope said, "it is the dawn of this peace which the church invokes on nations when it prays that the Lord may grant kings and christian princes peace and true concord and peace and unity to all christian people."

German Plane

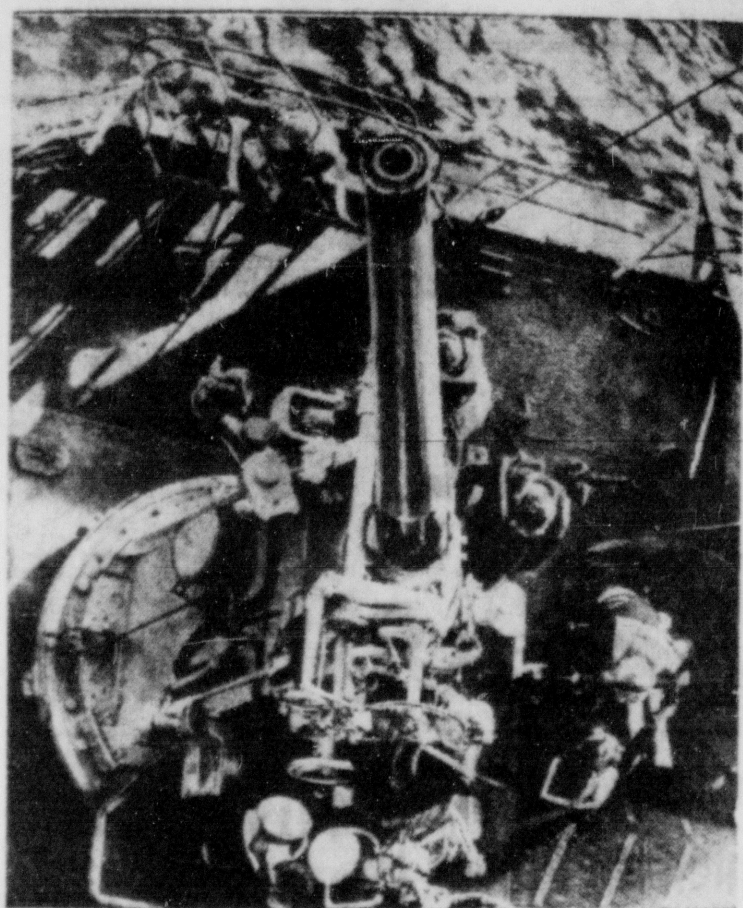

(Continued from Page One)

measures" were taken, including the dispatch of Royal Air Force aircraft.

Reports from the warning area said no gunfire or planes were heard but just after the "all clear" signal was given, some planes—presumably British—were heard passing overhead.

Two unidentified planes were sighted off the east coast yesterday.

GERMAN BOMBERS: BEWARE!

A dive bomber would never come so close to the deck of a warship to see the detail of a gun like this, but if it did this is how one of the anti-aircraft guns on the British cruiser Revenge would look. German bombers have tried conclusions with British warships on several occasions, but so far the plane-warship controversy still remains unsettled.

Industrialists Differ on How Long Business Boom Will Last

Foundations Weak, One
Group Holds, Will Last,
Others Say

By FREDERICK GARDNER
New York, Oct. 22. (P)—How strong are the foundations of the business boom?

Steel men, driving to fill the biggest pile of orders in a decade, have prodded Wall Street debate on the question.

Outspoken Ernest T. Weir, chairman of the National Steel Corp., and head of the American Iron & Steel Institute, says the rapid autumn advance rests "on a foundation about as strong as the filling in a cream puff."

Tom M. Girdler, chairman of the Republic Steel Corp., says he expects the improvement to last indefinitely.

Siding with Girdler is Andrew W. Robertson, chairman of Westinghouse Electric. He calls it a solid business recovery, promising prosperity even if the European war were to end suddenly.

Comeback Is Rapid

In the meanwhile, the industrial comeback has been one of the most rapid on record. Steel production, main bulwark of the heavy industries, has expanded from around 60 percent of capacity at the start of September to above 90.

Rarely so far as veteran Wall Street observers recall, has there been such sharp division of opinion over the "fundamentals" of the upswing.

Skeptics magnify the influence of the war in causing buying for inventory, rather than consumption, and whipping up a flourish of spending for new equipment. Much of this, they insist, has been anticipation of war orders from Europe which may never materialize.

The believers in lasting recovery, on the other hand, point out a sturdy forward march along the home industrial front was in progress throughout the summer. The war, they hold, merely quickened this progress in conjunction with the usual autumn stimulus to business after Labor Day.

Weir Group Pessimistic

The Weir group maintains the American business system beneath the surface still is entangled in a depression growth of taxes, regulations, price maladjustments, anemic profits and other impediments to healthy enterprise.

War stocks came up a little last week, but partly because many plants have been employed to capacity or near capacity. Analysts explained, the business advance appears to have slowed. The Associated Press industrial activity index, at its highest October level in ten years, had a slight setback for the first time in fourteen weeks.

Jitterbugger Breaks Leg Doing Dipsy Doodle

Detroit, Oct. 22. (P)—Jitterbugging has its perils.

Policemen Harvey Ferris and John Schoettle were assisting an ambulance crew with an automobile accident victim today when a man walked up.

"Victim of one of those jitterbug dances, is he?"

"No, no," said the officers. "Well, we got a fellow down the street who was doing some rug cutting and he slipped and broke his leg."

Off dashed the policemen, to find Private James Baxter, 21, of Fort Wayne Army post, in an inn, with his left leg broken.

"I was doing the dipsy doodle, and my legs got crossed up," Baxter explained.

Cunarder Arrives Early

New York, Oct. 22. (P)—The Cunard White Star liner Georgic arrived unexpectedly today—24 hours ahead of the time customs officials estimated she might dock—and anchored in the upper bay off Quarantine with 341 passengers aboard.

New Executioner Ready To Snuff Out Three Lives

"Mr. X" Will Throw Switch
at Rockview Three Times Today

Belleville, Pa., Oct. 22. (P)—A novice executioner—"Mr. X"—came to grim Rockview penitentiary tonight to begin a career in dealing out death in Pennsylvania's electric chair.

Warden Stanley P. Ashe of Rockview announced tonight "Mr. X" was Frank Lee Wilson, 37-year-old Pittsburgh electrical engineer.

Wilson, introduced to newsmen tonight at a dinner at the warden's home, is slim, blond, pleasant-looking and bespectacled. He is the father of two children.

Will Receive $450

He will receive $250 for a single execution and $100 for each additional execution on any one night.

He never before performed an execution but witnessed them, said Ashe, adding:

"He recognizes the law as it is. He is a public servant and feels no more responsible for an electrocution than the judge and the jury."

His first assignment required him to throw the switch—three times early Monday morning to put to death Paul Perry of Erie, Pa., and Ira Bob Redmon and Willie Bailey, Philadelphia negroes.

State officials announced the new executioner, whom they described as "a poor, deserving electrician," would receive $450 for his first night's work as successor to the late Robert Elliott.

Elliott died in New York recently after sixteen years at the switch of the Rockview electric chair.

Dr. J. W. Claudy, superintendent at Rockview, said he believed the fifty-one-year-old Perry at last had come to comprehend today that death was but a matter of hours.

Killed Wife With Axe

Convicted of hacking his wife to death with an axe during a drunken rage in their home in Erie in 1932, Perry escaped death thirteen times as one reprieve after another was granted to test his sanity.

State psychiatrists at last pronounced him sane and the state pardon board declined to recommend commutation of the death sentence to life imprisonment.

Warden Matt Hess of the Erie county jail said Friday that he had been unable to make Perry understand that the pardon board had refused his plea and that death was imminent.

The 20-year-old Bailey was convicted of slaying his wife, Rose, in June, 1935, only three weeks after their marriage.

Redmon was sentenced to death for shooting a Philadelphia delicatessen clerk, Solomon Goldberg, during a holdup.

More Cause To Go To War Than in '17, Norris Says

Roosevelt Hears
Rector Pray for British Victory

By DOUGLAS R. CORNELL
Hyde Park, N. Y., Oct. 22. (P)—

In the little ivied church where President Roosevelt and the king of England worshipped together last summer, the president, with bowed head, heard his minister pray today that the British sovereign "may vanquish and overcome all his enemies."

Amid a momentous hush, the Rev. Frank R. Wilson of St. James' Episcopal Church intoned also a prayer for "all the royal family"—which heads a nation at war with Germany.

The special occasion was the dedication of a King James bible given by George VI to Saint James' church as a memento of the occasion when he and Queen Elizabeth worshipped here last June 11 with the president and Mrs. Roosevelt.

Resting on a gold lectern, surmounted by an eagle with outspread wings, the bible was used for the first time today.

In the fly leaf of the bible the king had penned in his own hand: "Presented to St. James' Church, Hyde Park, U. S. A., by George R. I. June 11th, 1939."

After the services, while parishioners were looking at the bible, the president, as senior warden, presided over a vestry meeting at which the resolution was signed.

Prominent German To Address Students

College Park, Md., Oct. 22. (P)—Dr. Ludwig M. Homberger, former vice president of the state-owned German National Railroad Company, will address University of Maryland students here Wednesday on "Germany and the Last World War."

Dr. Homberger's visit will be sponsored by the university's international relations club.

From 1931 until 1936, he directed the law and finance departments of the German system, weathering several of the Reich's greatest financial crises. He previously had served on German delegations to post-world war reparations conferences.

Dr. Homberger is the author of several books on management and finance of railroads in Germany and the United States.

French Soldiers Outwit the Nazis On Western Front

Retreat from Woods Four Days before Germans
Know It

By ROY P. PORTER
Paris, Oct. 22. (P)—French soldiers turned actors to cover their withdrawal from Warndt Forest with such success the Germans did not discover the deception for four days, military dispatches asserted today.

French said the troops started leaving the forest, west of Saarbrücken, last Monday. As they left, small patrols hurried from section to section firing machine-guns and rifles, acting the part of a large force, to give the impression the forest still was guarded heavily.

Allied forces left all of the forest except two heights close to the border which were heavily fortified, they reported.

Military commentators said the Germans did not discover the withdrawal until Friday when they marched in and reoccupied the area.

The departure was said to have been ordered by General Maurice Gustave Gamelin, commander in chief of the Allied forces, who frequently has expressed a desire to save as many lives as possible.

The French said previous to the withdrawal word was received that the Germans planned to retake the forest, which is in Germany, at any cost for psychological reasons.

Today's morning communiqué reported a "moderately quiet night" on the front.

Cold and clear weather sent French and British air patrols into the sky over the lines on scouting missions after several days of comparative inactivity, military advisers said.

Meanwhile, nature came to the aid of the French in their defense plans when flood waters swelled over the banks of the Rhine covering areas in front of the French defense lines.

O'Connor Proposes Law To Improve Roadside Beauty

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 22. (P)—Enforcement of roadside beautification by statute was proposed to the legislative council today by Gov. Herbert R. O'Connor.

Asserting it was "imperative that a solution be found" to the problem offered by an "apparent tendency to spoil the appearance and beauty of our material roadways," the governor issued a formal statement that:

"I intend to invite the attention of the legislative council to this matter, inasmuch as the council will have before it other phases of the roads situation."

"It is certainly not the intention of those interested in beautifying our roads to deprive abutting landowners of the benefit of any revenue. But by placing reasonable limitations, I think their property actually will be enhanced."

Traffic often was endangered and delayed by "conditions adjacent to the highways," O'Connor pointed out, and "undoubtedly a proper study along these lines will enable us to comprehend the problems . . . and decide with intelligence the steps to be taken with reasonable consideration given the landowner."

"To realize the extent to which the practice of erecting signs and lights has gone," he continued, "one need only ride along the Washington-Baltimore highway near completion. I consider it timely to call public attention to the matter."

Pending action by the legislature, the governor noted, "our only recourse is to appeal to the community spirit of our merchants and to others, and to urge that they display judgment in avoiding the placing of signs where they are not necessary or desirable."

Browder Faces

(Continued from Page One)

date work on the case. He declined comment.

Alleged Spies Accused

The investigation is a sequel to the conviction last May 2 of three men on charges of conspiracy in obtaining sixteen faked passports for Mr. and Mrs. Donald Robinson, also known under the name of Adolph Arnold Rubens. The Robinsons were accused in the proceedings of being spies for a foreign government. They had been imprisoned in Moscow. Federal agents expected to round up or expose a number of foreign spies in the present proceedings.

During the Dies Committee hearings in Washington Earl Browder, general secretary of the Communist party, admitted he had traveled abroad on a passport bearing a fictitious name.

Ben Gitlow, a "friendly" witness, testified that travel on forged passports was a common practice among Communist party leaders.

Republicans To Study Agricultural Program

Washington, Oct. 22. (P)—Termining the administration's farm policy "a demonstrated failure," Representative Martin (R-Mass.), the house minority leader, today appointed a special committee of forty-six House Republicans to make a study of the agricultural problem.

Since assuming the minority leadership, Martin has followed the practice of naming special units to make independent studies of congressional issues.

Rep. Hope of Kansas, the ranking minority member of the House Agriculture Committee, was named chairman of the new group.

NEUTRALIZING A GERMAN MINE

One of the wartime duties of the neutral Dutch Coastguard is to watch for belligerent mines that are washed on Dutch beaches and to destroy them. Photo, top, shows a German mine being hauled away. Bottom, one of the deadly globes awaits its turn as another is exploded in the distance.

Britain, France and Turkey Agree To Work Together in Near East

By LLOYD LEHRBAS

Ankara, Oct. 22. (P)—Great Britain, France and Turkey tonight were understood to have agreed upon a three-point program for protection of their interests in the Near East.

The program, mapped by diplomats and by military experts in joint staff talks held under closest secrecy, was believed by observers to include:

1. Co-ordinated action by the British and French forces in the Near East and by the Turkish army in event of any aggressive acts within the scope of the newly-signed British-French-Turkish mutual assistance pact.

2. Granting by Britain and France to Turkey a $60,000,000 ($240,000,000) credit, as reliably reported yesterday, of which $25,000,000 ($100,000,000) is earmarked for arms, ammunition and other military supplies.

3. Recommendation by French and British experts on the type of military equipment to be purchased by Turkey to strengthen her position as guardian of the Dardanelles, strategic gateway to the Black Sea and Europe's "back door."

Meanwhile the Turkish government analyzed its position as the result of the breakdown of Turkish-Russian negotiations and the signature of three-power mutual aid pact.

Some foreign observers here believed Turkey's friendship with Russia had been so severely shaken by the recent Soviet demands in the Moscow talks that they may seriously affect the future course of Turkish foreign policy. Officially, however, the Turks still adhere to Soviet friendship.

Turkish Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu, it was learned here, went to Moscow prepared to negotiate a mutual assistance agreement with Russia which would be complementary to the Anglo-French pact.

No one has disclosed to the public just what happened during Saracoglu's three-week stay in Moscow. Diplomatic observers here pointed out, however, that after the arrival in Moscow of German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, during Saracoglu's visit, Russia apparently made new and unexpected demands which Turkey could not accept since they conflicted with Turkish commitments to Britain and France and possibly the Balkan countries.

Defeat of Hitler Not Enough, Menzies Says

Melbourne, Australia, Oct. 22. (P)—Prime Minister R. G. Menzies declared today Great Britain and France could not win the European war merely by overthrowing Adolf Hitler.

"Our fight is against a series of principles of conduct of government, the continued existence of which is intolerable," he told a church congregation.

"Unless a miracle happens this will be the greatest struggle Britain has ever entered," Menzies concluded. "I disagree with the theory that we are fighting one man and that the war will be won if he is overthrown."

The father said:

"None of us dispute the law or the right to free travel and commerce upon the high seas," the father said, "and no one would surrender any right essential to our national independence, but we should see the necessity of civilization, and that it cannot come out of the existing law unless we make different rules of application."

The son:

"This western hemisphere is our domain. x x x Let there be no compromise about our right to defend or trade within this area. If it is challenged by any nation, the answer must be war."

The elder Lindbergh played pretty much a lone hand during his ten years in Congress. Members who served with him said they remembered him for his speeches and theories about the nation's financial structure.

"Dashed good leg, that," he said.

Foreign Aviators Keep Netherland Fliers on Walch

"Those Fellows" always
Flying over Neutral
Territory

By FRED VANDERSCHMIDT
Cromingen, the Netherlands, Oct. 22. (P)—From a trim little airport in placid northeastern Holland a Netherlands dawn patrol is listening and flying on the tough and ticklish job of keeping the Netherlands out of war.

"We get elephant ears in this place," one tall flying officer said as he paused to listen to a high-pitched motor.

"This time it is only a car on the highway. Other times it is those fellows."

Nearly every day, usually early in the morning, it is—"those fellows" coming over the neutral Netherlands land or sea frontiers which lie so inconveniently between Britain and Germany.

To the Netherlands dawn patrol it makes no difference whether they are German or British planes. The Netherlands is neutral. It is the job of the patrol to chase any plane which violates the neutrality of the Netherlands, catch it if they can and intern the crew.

Try To Catch Them

"We try to catch them but it's not an easy thing to do," an officer said.

"If they are headed east they are across the German border before we can get after them. If they are going west sometimes we chase them to the North Sea."

Last Tuesday Netherlands planes went up on border patrol while British raiders were over Emden. Some planes were fired upon by German anti-aircraft. I talked to one young Netherlands pilot who dodged two shell bursts.

"They thought we were English," he said. "We were about three miles away. It was not very good shooting."

The Netherlands is now marking her planes with an orange triangle instead of the tri-colored "bullseye" which resembled British and French markings. However, it is not always possible to see markings from the ground.

Flighting planes do not always fly high. One shot across the airport the other day at about 10,000 feet. Sometimes clouds of British leaflets printed in German come fluttering down on the Netherlands side.

One or two of the quiet little villages near the dawn patrol airport literally have been buried in misplaced British pamphlets captioned "achtung, aching" (warning, warning) and addressed to the German people.

I asked about the crew of a German seaplane which I heard had been forced down and interned.

Nazi Aviators Interned

"Yes," said one officer, "they were very angry about it. There was some shooting. Now they are held on one of our islands. It cannot be helped."

England May Fly

(Continued from Page One)

Germany in warplane production, the Allies want the American planes just as quickly as they can get them.

In quality, some 250 Curtiss Hawk single engine fighters have shown the ability in combat over the Western front to cope on at least equal terms with the Nazis' famous Messerschmitts. Some American experts doubt that Germany has planes to match the 100 Douglas and 400 Martin attack bombers which France ordered early this year.

When the war started, France and Britain had contracted with American manufacturers for about 1,300 warplanes of all types. President Roosevelt's neutrality proclamation cancelled delivery of 600 or more.

Now it is reported that a French mission is authorized to order 2,750 additional planes and a British mission is ready to contract for some 3,000.

Captain Puts Flowers On His Own Grave

By DREW MIDDLETON

With the British Expeditionary Forces in France, Oct. 21 (Passed by Field Censor) (P)—One of the strangest ceremonies of this strange war took place today in a peaceful graveyard for British troops when an officer on whose chest was the dull red ribbon of the Victoria Cross put flowers on his own grave.

He is a high officer in the British forces. In the last months of the World War he completed valuable reconnaissance work after fighting over German squads and suffering severe machine-gun wounds in one leg, which was amputated.

For this exploit he won the Victoria Cross.

He remained in the army and despite his handicap reached high rank. He landed in France a month ago and to his surprise learned that in the confusion of the last battles of the world war his leg had been buried in a grave with the notation that it was a leg that had been found of him.

So this morning with the subalterns eying him "suspiciously" he marched into a forest of little white crosses after a journey of many miles and placed flowers below the marking of his name and regiment on the grave.

Parents Should Know Something Of the Schools

Futures Depend a Great Deal on Children's Success There

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Most of us know very little about our children's school, despite the fact that their futures rest so heavily upon their school successes.

We must remember that the more we know about our children's school, the more we can help them get along in their studies.

What most parents know about their children's school they pick up from the remarks dropped by their boys and girls at home. But children are human, and they, therefore, are likely to talk about the things at school which annoy them, the things they don't like. They take for granted the good things. So do we.

For you to spend half a day in the classroom of your children in the elementary school is to get a liberal education.

We may be surprised at what we see and hear. There is not now the military atmosphere to which we were pupils in the grades, such as folding of hands, standing and marching like trained soldiers, and almost breathless silence, with the teacher spending most of her time at detecting and correcting mischief makers. Instead, she may not be heard to say a thing about conduct. The children do most of the talking and working while she, like a master engineer, quietly moves among the pupils, helping a little here, offering a suggestion there, answering more questions than she asks.

Have Great Freedom

The children seem to move about with great freedom. They may even seem to be noisy and almost disorderly. But upon closer observation, we discern in most of them a very definite purpose, and they are not disturbed by one another.

Not all are doing the same thing. Numerous projects and activities are underway. There may be several groups of children, working together, on whose faces signs of earnestness and enjoyment are apparent.

At home you may see your own and several neighbor children continuing some of the things they had begun at school, particularly the younger children. Other things begun at home may be continued next day at school. We parents little realize how much the normal school has been doing to add to the evening home hours of happiness of our children. It will do them and us a great deal of good if we make ourselves better acquainted with these high spots of our schools.

A great force in the United States for helping us turn our attention to the school is the P.T.A. It not only helps parents know the school better, but also enables teachers to know parents better.

As we come to know more about the good things of our schools, we find increasing satisfaction in supporting them.

Solving Parent Problems

Q When a child begins going out at night, should his parent sit up till he comes home in order to question him about his conduct while away from home?

A No; but unless it is a hard-slip you and the child might enjoy the companionship of a little visit after his or her return. Yet it should be a visit and not an inquisition. Any questions should be like those you would ask of a guest. The moment you turn yourself as parent into a sneak or detective, you have begun to build a wall between yourself and your child.

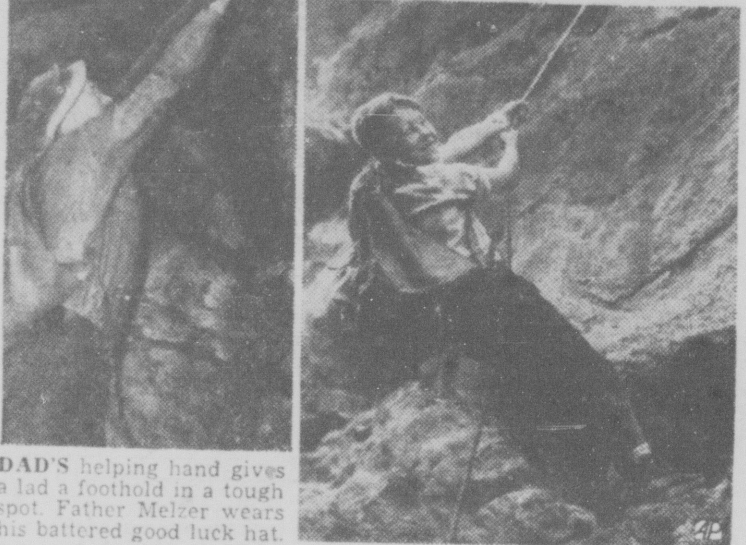

Q My baby, two years old, is always biting other children.

A Be with him when he is with other children. Then when he bites some one, instantly bare his bottom and give him a good sound spanking on his bare fat thighs. Make it hurt so he will associate the bad act with pain. Let no exception occur. See that he can never bite another without getting instant pain. But it will do no good to spank him several minutes after the offense.

Teacher, and Son, 11, Climb Every 14,000-Foot U. S. Peak

WHEN the going's easy (above), Bobbie Melzer leads while Dad snatches a pleasant pipeful. A rope (below) is a big help on the descent—lets a fellow slide part of the way.

DAD'S helping hand gives a lad a foothold in a tough spot. Father Melzer wears his battered good luck hat.

Denver—Eleven-year-old Bobbie Melzer probably is the only 5th grade student in the nation who has a college degree. He got it from Colorado University, which had to create one to fit him—doctor of mountaineering.

Bobbie's dad, a teacher, won the same honor.

They were honored because they were the first climbers to conquer every peak in the U. S. 14,000 feet or more in height. There are 64 of them.

Bobbie started when he was five. "That was back in 1933," says his father, Carl Melzer, whose favorite covering for his sparse blonde hair on climbs is a torn "lucky" bonnet. "I just happened to take Bobbie with me on a trip planned for recreation, and he liked it. So we've been climbing ever since."

They climbed haphazardly for a couple of years. Then they walked along the Continental divide from the Wyoming to the New Mexico boundary, for a summer's outing. It is a hike of more than 300 miles, much of it at altitudes of 10,000 feet or more. It took them most of the summer. Bobbie's mother, who keeps her fingers crossed when her men folks are conquering peaks, met them where automobile roads cross the mountain tops and restocked their pack sacks.

Early this year they read a description of U. S. peaks of 14,000 feet or more and it occurred to them they had climbed most. So they organized a party to conquer the rest. After six weeks on the West Coast they completed their task.

The last one, the middle palisade of the Palisades group in California, was the toughest," says Bobbie. "We saved that until last because we knew it would be the worst. And we weren't disappointed."

Pennsylvania Methodists Will Hold Annual Meeting Wednesday

Harrisburg, Oct. 20. (AP)—A special session of the Central Pennsylvania Annual Methodist Conference will be held here Wednesday with Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, of Washington, presiding.

Meetings will be held for both ministers and laymen to authorize necessary charter changes to provide for the merger of the Methodist Episcopal, Methodist Protestant and Methodist Episcopal, South, denominations.

A committee including President F. P. Corson, of Dickinson College, Carlisle; the Rev. E. R. Heckman, Superintendent of the Methodist Home for Aged, Tyrone; and the Rev. J. Edgar Skillington, of Bloomsburg, will submit a plan of procedure.

A meeting of the four district superintendents will be held the same day. They are the Rev. George H. Ketterer, Altoona district; the Rev. Lester A. Welliver, Harrisburg district; the Rev. F. Lamont Hemminger, Sunbury district; and the Rev. J. Merrill Williams, Williamsport district.

Rare Disease Fatal

Westminster, Md., Oct. 22. (AP)—Joseph L. O'Farrell, well known Westminster antique dealer, died today in a Baltimore hospital of Haver Hill fever, a rare disease recorded only three times previously in the United States.

O'Farrell had been ill about five weeks and was hospitalized a month ago. Physicians said the fever possibly resulted from a rat-bite.

Beauty Culture Big Help toward Better Feeling

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX, Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

A few days ago, there was unveiled in George Washington University, Washington, D. C., a portrait of the late Dr. William A. White, who put into practice the long-debated theory that as you look, so are you apt to feel.

To Dr. White, a most humane and sympathetic psychiatrist, goes the credit of establishing cosmetic treatments in St. Elizabeth's Hospital for the mentally ill. Dr. White was Superintendent of this institution for thirty-four years, and the improvements he inaugurated in the care of the mentally ill have been taken up by Government institutions all over the country.

According to the pundits, beauty treatments are good for everyone, and you do not have to be in the least "ga-ga" to feel better and take a more cheerful view of life after having given yourself to a little prettying-up. The medical profession seems to be coming around to Dr. White's idea, especially in the case of neurotic patients.

Third Greatest

No wonder beauty culture in the last few years has become the third great industry in these United States—food, clothes, cosmetics and treatment. So, if you feel snappish, irritable, sorry for yourself, misunderstood, unappreciated, perhaps you'd better have a beauty treatment. It's much better for you than the temporary lift you get from a cocktail.

Even the men are not above bootlegging a facial. What with their hot towels, "tissue set-up," massage, the gentlemen manage to get quite a face lift out of their barber shops. And they needn't feel apologetic about it either.

Beauty treatments are relaxing. They chase away the diabolical inferiority complex. And they give us certain authority in seeking a job. Unfortunately, not everyone is able to treat her (or even his) face to two or three dollars worth of coddling. You can, of course, coddle your countenance before your own mirror at home. It's probably not as relaxing or as agreeable. But it's much better to put on pure cosmetics at home than go in for those you know not of, abroad.

Some time ago, the writer went with Mrs. Roosevelt to see a collection of cosmetics and patent medicines, all more or less poisonous, displayed in the Department of Agriculture. One of these mixtures, warranted to make eyelashes long and luxurious, had caused total blindness in the woman using it. Not everything has had such fatal results, but all of them carried a warning.

A Good Book

There is a very good book on beauty culture, which you can undoubtedly get from your public libraries. It gives recipes for making cold cream, skin cleansers, astringents and warns against home treatments "not recommended." But as I do no advertising in this column, you will have to write and send me a self-addressed, three-cent stamped envelope, if you want the name of the book.

One exception to advertising is giving the name and numbers of farmers' bulletins, brought out by the Department of Agriculture which I have recommended in my

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals will be received by the Upper Potomac River Commission, a corporation incorporated under the laws of the State of Maryland, at the office of its Chairman, George W. Legge, Esq., at Room No. 26, in the Liberty Trust Building, Cumberland, Maryland, until 11 o'clock a. m., on Friday, November 3, 1939, on the following items of equipment. This equipment is for use on the construction of the Savage River Dam.

Item 1. 1—Core Drill, Similar Ingersoll-Rand Type G-O, hand power drive, with three inch tools, drill rods for drilling to a depth of 100 ft., pump, water seal, hose, and all other standard miscellaneous items. Power available is 220 Volt, 3-phase, 60-cycle A. C.

Each bidder will be required to furnish his or its own specifications in addition to those which are herein set forth as required may be secured at the Commission's Construction Office, Westminster, Maryland. Each bid is to specify date upon which delivery of equipment will be made if contract is awarded to bidder, as time may be of the essence in awarding this contract.

The Upper Potomac River Commission reserves the right to select such equipment, machinery, or vehicles as may in its judgment be best suited to the purposes for which said equipment, vehicles, or machinery is intended to be used; and further reserves the right to reject any or all proposals.

UPPER POTOMAC RIVER COMMISSION
By its Chairman, GEORGE W. LEGGE
Adv. T-Oct. 18-28-N-Oct. 23 Nov 2 No. 5

Authorized Representative for LINK-BELT
Automatic
Coal Stokers
See them on display!
CUMBERLAND ELECTRIC COMPANY
59 N. Centre St. 137 Va. Ave.

FORD'S SODYNES
Get That Cold In Time!
Sold Only At
FORD'S DRUG STORES
Cumberland • Frostburg

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS

Yes indeed! It's your chance to get all the CASH you need (up to $300) quickly and pleasantly—on your own. No delay! Small monthly repay!

MILLENSON CO.
"Licensed by State Commissioner of Loans"
106 S. Liberty St. Tel. 8-4-7

SAFE - PRIVATE SERVICE!

STUNT JAILS YOUTH

Henry Lanford Davis

Found on the porch of the Los Angeles, Cal., home of Lionel Barrymore, motion picture star, with bleeding letters cut into his chest, Henry Lanford Davis, 21, above has been jailed by Los Angeles police. Davis told police he carved the words "Stars are nuts" on his chest in order to attract attention to himself and possibly win the sympathy of a movie star. He said he arrived in the motion picture capital with but $1 in his pocket.

budget, the offer of which is still open to you. The U. S. Government has brought out an excellent pamphlet on furniture. Besides illustrations of period furniture, it gives much valuable information about cleaning upholstered furniture, removing stains and eliminating insect pests. This valuable little pamphlet costs 20 cents, and is called "Furniture, Its Selection and Use." It is for sale by the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C.—Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Law Offices of
W. Earle Cobey
Liberty Trust Building
Cumberland, Maryland
ORDER OF PUBLICATION
William H. Wilson, Sr., vs. Ruth Winifred Pearce, et al.
No. 15370 Equity in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.
The object of this suit is to procure a decree for the sale of certain property in the Town of Midway in Allegany County, Maryland.

The Bill states that Sarah Jane Wilson died on or about October 11, 1931, seized and possessed a lot of ground which was conveyed to her by John Shearer and others by deed dated December 21, 1898, and recorded among the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland, in Liber No. 85, folio 145.

That the said Sarah Jane Wilson died intestate survived by her husband, William H. Wilson, Jr., the complainant in this case, and the following children: Richard L. Feldman, of Ga. Falls Church, New Jersey; Mary Jane George, widow of Washington, District of Columbia; William Henry Wilson, Jr., who is intermarried with John Edward Wilson, of Washington County, Maryland; Stanley G. Wilson, who is intermarried with Mildred S. Wilson, of Trenton, Mercer County, New Jersey; William Feldman, who is intermarried with Richard L. Feldman, of Ga. Falls Church, Virginia; Elsie Wilson Ray, who is intermarried with John E. Ray, of Washington, District of Columbia; and Grace Sprinkle Wilson, of Brifton, Ohio, and Sarah Jane Wilson, the widow and only child of John Edward Wilson, who died intestate December 3, 1938.

That an undivided two-thirds interest in this property is now vested in the children of the complainant and Sarah Jane Wilson and the children of their deceased child, and a one-third undivided interest in said property is vested in the said William H. Wilson, Sr., and said property is held by said persons as tenants in common, according to their respective interests.

The said property is improved and said improvements are in a poor state of repair, and the rental from said property is insufficient to maintain the same.

That the said real estate is not susceptible to partition without material loss and injury to the parties entitled to interests therein, as above stated, and in order to make division of said interests it will be necessary that said real estate be sold and the proceeds thereof divided among the parties according to their several interests.

It is thereupon, this 14th day of October, 1939, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, in Equity, ordered that the plaintiff, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 16th day of November, 1939, give notice to the said absent defendants of the objects and substance of this Bill, warning them to appear in Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 2nd day of December, next, to show cause if any they have why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

ROBERT JACKSON, Clerk
Adv.—N-Oct 16-23-30-Nov 6

SLUMBER RIGHT INNER SPRING MATTRESS
$8.50 up
CASH OR CREDIT
PEOPLES Furniture Store
Jos. H. Reinhart

2 2 4

As simple as 2 and 2—
if you have anything to lose you need insurance with Geare-Everstine
Liberty Trust Bldg.
Insurance that Secures

Massage Good In Treatment Of Sore Feet

Tannic Acid Is Valuable for Certain Types of Burns

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
Do the machines to manipulate feet do any good?

Certainly. Massage is a well-established principle of medical treatment. When I was at the San Francisco fair recently I thought one day my feet were going to drop off from sheer fatigue. I stopped at one of those machines, put my feet on a platform and a dime in the slot and got such a shaking as I haven't had in years. Afterwards I felt as spry as a ten-year-old.

Dr. Clendenning will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Is Converted
Concerning the foot doctor in Canada who treats all ailments by simple momentary manipulation of the feet, an orthopedic friend of mine heard so much about him that he decided to go to consult him. When he left home he was scornful. He returned, at least partially convinced. He walked into another orthopedic surgeon's office and said he would show him what the doctor did.

"Take off your shoes," he instructed. "But there is nothing the matter with my feet."

"That's what you think." He grasped a foot in both hands—he had been an intercollegiate wrestling champion—and moved it violently in all directions. It hurt, but the strange part was that although the doctor had not previously been conscious of any dissatisfaction with his feet, they felt better for at least five minutes.

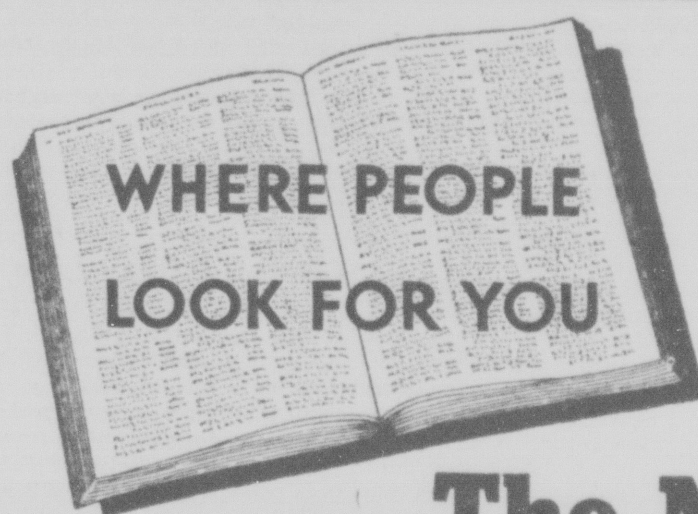

Treatment of burns
Is tannic acid treatment recommended for burns and why?

Yes, in certain types of burns compound solution of tannic acid is very valuable, and the treatment of choice. Prior to the introduction of this treatment, in 1925, burns involving more than one-third of the body surface were invariably fatal. With tannic acid treatment lives are saved with burns involving half the body surface. To explain the nothing less than marvelous lifesaving qualities of tannic acid treatment, recourse must be had to the concept of "white bleeding"—the loss of an excessive amount of serum from the circulating blood into the exudate of the burn. It has been found that plasma may be lost to the extent of sixty per cent of that normally in the body. Tannic acid "seals" the burned area and prevents this loss. A five per cent solution of tannic acid is physiologic salt solution, or Ringier's solution, is sprayed on the burned area with an atomizer.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendenning has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendenning, in care of King Features Syndicate, Inc., 235 East Forty-fifth street, New York, N. Y. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet"; "Indigestion and Constipation"; "Reducing and Gaining"; "The Fast Feeding"; "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes"; "Feminine Hygiene"; and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

WE TRADE IN—
New York Bank Stocks
Insurance Stocks
Trust Shares
Bought Sold Quoted
Clarence Litzenburg
BROKER
16 N. Liberty St.
Cumberland, Md.

WHERE PEOPLE
LOOK FOR YOU

The New Telephone Directory Closes November 6

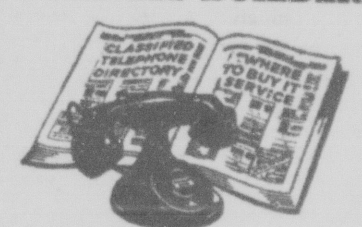

It Will List Hundreds of Residences And Businesses

MAKE CERTAIN YOU ARE LISTED IN IT

Call Cumberland 9900

To Order a Telephone, Additional Listings, or to arrange for Complete Information about your Product or Service.

Mr. Business Man,
here is a
BUSINESS BUILDER

COMPLETE information about your product or service in the Yellow Pages will increase your sales.

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City

(Bell System)

LADIES' COATS Cleaned and Pressed

CASH—CARRY

50

Fur-Trimmed 75c

Men's Overcoats

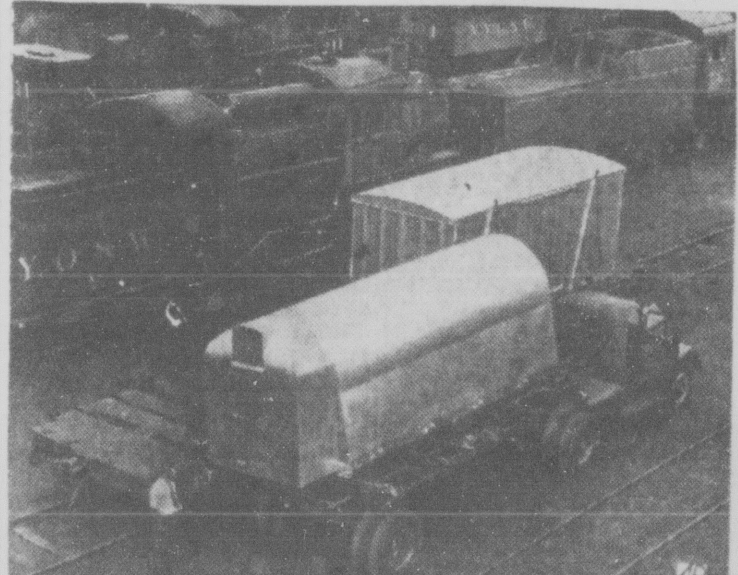

Ladies' Jacket Suits 75c

PHONE 197

HARRY FOOTER & CO.

36 N. Liberty St. The Home of Good Cleaning

Self-Loading Car Called Aid To Rail-Motor Co-operation

By The AP Feature Service
To help coordinate railway and motor truck transportation, Benjamin F. Fitch, of Cincinnati, has developed this freight car-truck automatic loading arrangement—two 20-foot truck bodies to the carload. The chief feature of the apparatus, from a transportation point of view, is that the loaded truck body is moved from the chassis to the railroad car—or vice versa—in 90 sec.—general merchandise.

onds. The truck driver just hooks up the mechanism, pushes a button and the deed is done. One type of body is a 4,000-gallon carrying milk, chemicals, paints or what have you, the carload, arose, serve as an immense tureen to carry hot soup from an army kitchen up to the line, the inventor says. The other type of body holds

Parents Should Know Something Of the Schools

Futures Depend a Great Deal on Children's Success There

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Most of us know very little about our children's school, despite the fact that their futures rest so heavily upon their school successes.

We must remember that the more we know about our children's school, the more we can help them get along in their studies.

What most parents know about their children's school they pick up from the remarks dropped by their boys and girls at home. But children are human, and they, therefore, are likely to talk most about the things at school which annoy them, the things they don't like. They take for granted the good things. So do we.

For you to spend half a day in the classroom of your children in the elementary school is to get a liberal education.

We may be surprised at what we see and hear. There is not now the military atmosphere to which we may have been exposed when we were pupils in the grades, such as folding of hands, standing and marching like trained soldiers, and almost breathless silence, with the teacher spending most of her time at detecting and correcting mischief makers. Instead, she may not be heard to say a thing about conduct. The children do most of the talking and working while she, like a master engineer, quietly moves among the pupils, helping a little here, offering a suggestion there, answering more questions than she asks.

Have Great Freedom

The children seem to move about with great freedom. They may even seem to be noisy and almost disorderly. But upon closer observation, we discern in most of them a very definite purpose, and they are not disturbed by one another.

Not all are doing the same thing. Numerous projects and activities are underway. There may be several groups of children, working together, on whose faces signs of earnestness and enjoyment are apparent.

At home you may see your own and several neighbor children continuing some of the things they had begun at school, particularly the younger children. Other things begun at home may be continued next day at school. We parents little realize how much the normal school has been doing to add to the evening home hours of happiness of our children. It will do them and us a great deal of good if we make ourselves better acquainted with these high spots of our schools.

A great force in the United States for helping us turn our attention to the school is the P.T.A. It not only helps parents know the school better, but also enables teachers to know parents better.

As we come to know more about the good things of our schools, we find increasing satisfaction in supporting them.

Solving Parent Problems

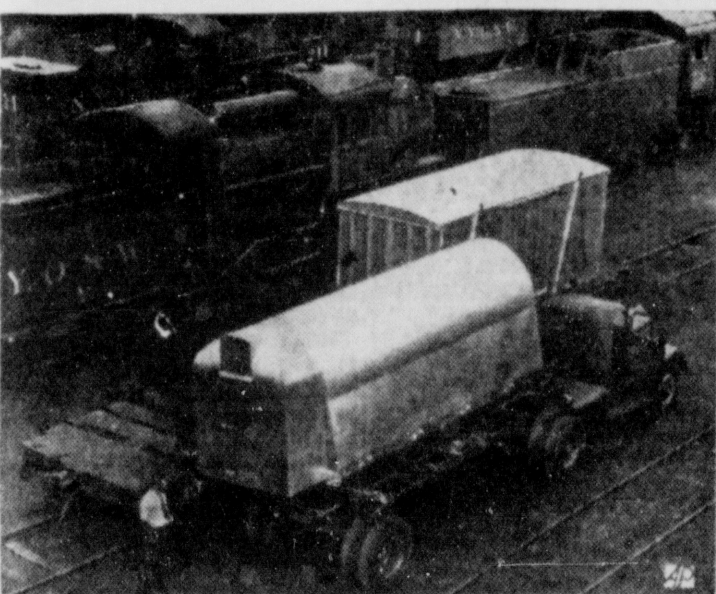

Q When a child begins going out at night, should his parent sit up till he comes home in order to question him about his conduct while away from home?

A No; but unless it is a hardship upon the child might enjoy the companionship of a little visit after his or her return. Yet it should be a visit and not an inquisition. Any questions should be like those you would ask of a guest. The moment you turn yourself as parent into a sneak or detective, you have begun to build a wall between yourself and your child.

Q My baby, two years old, is always biting other children.

A Be with him when he is with other children. Then when he bites some one, instantly bare his bottom and give him a good sound spanking low on his bare fat thighs. Make it hurt so he will associate the bad act with pain. Let no exception occur. See that he can never bite another without getting instant pain. But it will do no good to spank him several minutes after the offense.

Self-Loading Car Called Aid To Rail-Motor Co-operation

By The AP Feature Service

To help coordinate railway and motor truck transportation, Benjamin F. Pitch, of Cincinnati, has developed this freight car-truck automatic loading arrangement—two 20-foot truck bodies to the carload. The chief feature of the apparatus, from a transportation point of view, is that the loaded truck body is moved from the chassis to the rail-roads car—or vice versa—in 90 seconds. The truck driver just hooks up the mechanism, pushes a button and the deed is done.

One type of body is a 4,000-gallon insulated, stainless steel tank for carrying milk, chemicals, paints or what have you. It could, if occasion arose, serve as an immense tureen from a transportation point of view, to carry hot soup from an army kitchen up to the line, the inventor says. The other type of body holds general merchandise.

Teacher, and Son, 11, Climb Every 14,000-Foot U. S. Peak

WHEN the going's easy (above), Bobbie Melzer leads while Dad snatches a pleasant pipeful. A rope (below) is a big help on the descent—lets a fellow slide part of the way.

DAD'S helping hand gives a lad a foothold in a tough spot. Father Melzer wears his battered good luck hat.

Denver—Eleven-year-old Bobbie Melzer probably is the only 5th grade student in the nation who has a college degree. He got it from Colorado University, which had to create one to fit him—doctor of mountaineering.

Bobbie's dad, a teacher, won the same honor.

They were honored because they were the first climbers to conquer every peak in the U. S. 14,000 feet or more in height. There are 64 of them.

Bobbie started when he was five. "That was back in 1933," says his father, Carl Melzer, whose favorite covering for his sparse blonde hair on climbs is a torn "lucky" bonnet. "I just happened to take Bobbie with me on a trip planned for recreation, and he liked it. So we've been climbing ever since."

They climbed haphazardly for a couple of years. Then they walked along the Continental divide from the Wyoming to the New Mexico boundary, for a summer's outing. It is a hike of more than 300 miles, much of it at altitudes of 10,000 feet or more. It took them most of the summer. Bobbie's mother, who keeps her fingers

Pennsylvania Methodists Will Hold Annual Meeting Wednesday

Harrisburg, Oct. 20. (AP)—A special session of the Central Pennsylvania Annual Methodist Conference will be held here Wednesday with Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, of Washington, presiding.

Meetings will be held for both ministers and laymen to authorize necessary charter changes to provide for the merger of the Methodist Episcopal, Methodist Protestant and Methodist Episcopal, South, denominations.

A committee including President F. P. Corson, of Dickinson College, Carlisle; the Rev. E. R. Heckman, Superintendent of the Methodist Home for Aged, Tyne, and the Rev. J. Edgar Skillington, of Bloomsburg, will submit a plan of procedure.

A meeting of the four district superintendents will be held the same day. They are the Rev. George H. Ketterer, Altoona district; the Rev. Lester A. Williver, Harrisburg district; the Rev. F. Lamont Henninger, Sunbury district; and the Rev. J. Merrill Williams, Williamsport district.

Rare Disease Fatal

Westminster, Md., Oct. 22. (AP)—Joseph L. O'Farrell, well known Westminster antique dealer, died today in a Baltimore hospital of Haver Hill fever, a rare disease recorded only three times previously in the United States.

O'Farrell had been ill about five weeks and was hospitalized a month ago. Physicians said the fever possibly resulted from a rat-bite.

Beauty Culture Big Help toward Better Feeling

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX, Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

A few days ago, there was unveiled in George Washington University, Washington, D. C., a portrait of the late Dr. William A. White, who put into practice the long-debated theory that as you look, so are you apt to feel.

To Dr. White, a most humane and sympathetic psychiatrist, goes the credit of establishing cosmetic treatments in St. Elizabeth's Hospital for the mentally ill. Dr. White was Superintendent of this institution for thirty-four years, and the improvements he inaugurated in the care of the mentally ill have been taken up by Government institutions all over the country.

According to the pundits, beauty treatments are good for everyone, and you do not have to be in the least "ga-ga" to feel better and take a more cheerful view of life after having given yourself to a little "prettying-up." The medical profession seems to be coming around to Dr. White's idea, especially in the case of neurotic patients.

Third Greatest

No wonder beauty culture in the last few years has become the third great industry in these United States—food, clothes, cosmetics and treatment. So, if you feel snappy, irritable, sorry for yourself, misunderstood, unappreciated, perhaps you'd better have a beauty treatment. It's much better for you than the temporary lift you get from a cocktail.

Even the men are not above bootlegging a facial. What with their hot towels, "tissue set-up," massage, the gentlemen manage to get quite a face lift out of their barber shops. And they needn't feel apologetic about it either.

Beauty treatments are relaxing. They chase away the diabolical inferiority complex. And they give us certain authority in seeking a job. Unfortunately, not everyone is able to treat her (or even his) face to two or three dollars worth of coddling. You can, of course, coddle your countenance before your own mirror at home. It's probably not as relaxing or as agreeable. But it's much better to put on pure cosmetics at home than go in for those you know not of, abroad.

Some time ago, the writer went with Mrs. Roosevelt to see a collection of cosmetics and patent medicines, all more or less poisonous, displayed in the Department of Agriculture. One of these mixtures, warranted to make eyelashes long and luxuriant, had caused total blindness in the woman using it. Not everything has such fatal results, but all of them carried a warning.

A Good Book

There is a very good book on beauty culture, which you can undoubtedly get from your public libraries. It gives recipes for making cold cream, skin cleansers, astringents and warns against home treatments "not recommended." But as I do not advertising in this column, you will have to write and send me a self-addressed, three-cent stamped envelope, if you want the name of the book.

One exception to advertising is giving the name and numbers of farmers' bulletins, brought out by the Department of Agriculture, which I have recommended in my

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals will be received by the Upper Potomac River Commission, a corporation incorporated under the laws of the State of Maryland, at the office of its Chairman George W. Legge, Esq., at Room No. 26, in the Liberty Trust Building, Cumberland, Maryland, until 11 o'clock a. m. on Friday, November 3, 1939, on the following items of equipment. This equipment is for use on the construction of the Savage River Dam.

Item 1. 1—Core Drill, Similar Ingersoll-Rand Type G-2, hand power drive, with three inch tools, drill rods for drilling to a depth of 100 ft., pump, water swivel, and hose, and all other standard miscellaneous items. Power available is 220 Volt 3-phase, 60-cycle A. C.

Each bidder will be required to furnish his or its own specifications in addition to those which are herein set forth as required, may be secured at the Commission's Construction Office, Westernport, Maryland. Each bid is to specify date upon which delivery of equipment will be made if contract is awarded to bidder, as time may be of the essence in awarding this contract.

The Upper Potomac River Commission reserves the right to select such equipment, machinery, or vehicles as may in its judgment be best fitted to the purposes for which said equipment, vehicles, or machinery is intended to be used, and further reserves the right to reject any or all proposals.

UPPER POTOMAC RIVER COMMISSION
GEORGE W. LEGGE
By its Chairman, George W. Legge
—Adv. T-100. 16-28—N-Oct. 23 Nov 2 No. 5

Authorized Representative for LINK-BELT
Automatic
Coal Stokers
See them on display!
CUMBERLAND ELECTRIC COMPANY
59 N. Centre St. 131 Va. Ave.

FORD'S SODYNES
Get That Cold In Time!
Sold Only At
FORD'S DRUG STORES
Cumberland • Frostburg

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS

Yes indeed! It's your chance to get all the CASH you need (up to $300) quickly and pleasantly—on your own. No delay! Small monthly repay!

MILLENSON CO.
"Licensed by State Commissioner of Loans"
106 S. Liberty St. Tel. 8-4-7

STUNT JAILS YOUTH

Henry Lanford Davis

Found on the porch of the Los Angeles, Cal., home of Lionel Barrymore, motion picture star, with bleeding letters cut into his chest, Henry Lanford Davis, 21, above has been jailed by Los Angeles police. Davis told police he carved the words "Stars are nuts" on his chest in order to attract attention to himself and possibly win the sympathy of a movie star. He said he arrived in the motion picture capital with but $1 in his pocket.

budget, the offer of which is still open to you. The U. S. Government has brought out an excellent pamphlet on furniture. Besides illustrations of period furniture, it gives much valuable information about cleaning upholstered furniture, removing stains and eliminating insect pests. This valuable little pamphlet costs 20 cents, and is called "Furniture, its Selection and Use." It is for sale by the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C.—Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Law Offices of
W. Earle Cobey
Liberty Trust Building
Cumberland, Maryland
ORDER OF PUBLICATION
William H. Wilson, Sr., vs. Ruth Winifred Pearce, et al.
No. 13370 Equity in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.
The object of this suit is to procure a decree for the sale of certain property in the Town of Midway in Allegany County, Maryland.

The Bill states that Sarah Jane Wilson died on or about October 11, 1931, seized and possessed a lot of ground which was conveyed to her by John Shearer and others by deed dated December 3, 1924, and recorded among the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland, in Liber No. 85, folio 145.

That said Sarah Jane Wilson died intestate survived by her husband, William H. Wilson, Jr., the complainant in this case, and the following children: Ruth Winifred Pearce, intermarried with Elmer E. Pearce, Essex County, New Jersey; Mary Jane George, widow of Washington, District of Columbia; William Henry Wilson, Jr., who is intermarried with Viola Bernabach Wilson, of Washington County, Maryland; Mildred S. Wilson, of Trenton, Mercer County, New Jersey; Willard Wilson, of Trenton, Mercer County, New Jersey; Richard L. Feldman, of La. Falls Church, Fairfax County, Virginia; Elsie Wilson Ray, who is intermarried with John E. Ray, of Washington, District of Columbia; and Grace Sprinkle Wilson, of Buffton, Ohio; and Sarah Jane Wilson, of Washington County, Maryland, the widow and only child of John Edward Wilson, who died intestate December 3, 1938.

That an undivided two-thirds interest in this property is now vested in the children of the complainant, and Sarah Jane Wilson and the children of their deceased child, and a one-third undivided interest in said property is vested in the complainant, William H. Wilson, Jr., and that said property is held by said persons as tenants in common, according to their respective interests.

The said property is improved and said improvements are in a poor state of repair, and the rental from said properties is insufficient to maintain the same.

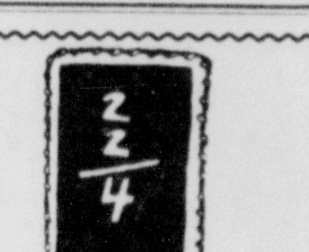

That the said real estate is not susceptible to partition without material loss and injury to the parties, entitled to interests therein, as above stated, and that in order to make division of said interests it will be necessary that said real estate be sold and the proceeds thereof divided among the parties according to their several interests.

It is thereupon, this 14th day of October, 1939, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, in Equity, ordered that the plaintiff, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 16th day of November, 1939, give notice to the said absent defendants of the objects and substance of this Bill, warning them to appear in Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 2nd day of December, next, to show cause if any they have why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

ROBERT JACKSON, Clerk.
Adv.—N-Oct 16-23-30-Nov 6

SLUMBER RIGHT INNER SPRING MATTRESS

$8.50 up
CASH OR CREDIT
PEOPLES Furniture Store
Jos. H. Reinhardt

As simple as 2 and 2—
if you have anything to lose you need insurance with Geare-Everstine
Liberty Trust Bldg.
Insurance that Secures

Massage Good In Treatment Of Sore Feet

Tannic Acid Is Valuable for Certain Types of Burns

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Do the machines to manipulate feet do any good?

Certainly. Massage is a well-established principle of medical treatment. When I was at the San Francisco fair recently I thought one day my feet were going to drop off from sheer fatigue. I stopped at

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

one of those machines, put my feet on a platform and a dime in the slot and got such a shaking as I haven't had in years. Afterwards I felt as spry as a ten-year-old.

Is Converted

Concerning the foot doctor in Canada who treats all ailments by simple momentary manipulation of the feet, an orthopedic friend of mine heard so much about him that he decided to go to consult him in person. When he left home he was scornful. He returned, if not completely converted, at least partially convinced. He walked into another orthopedic surgeon's office and said he would show him what the doctor did.

"Take off your shoes," he instructed.

"But there is nothing the matter with my feet."

"That's what you think." He grasped a foot in both hands—he had been an intercollegiate wrestling champion—and moved it violently in all directions. It hurt, but the strange part was that although the doctor had not previously been conscious of any dissatisfaction with his feet, they felt better for at least five minutes.

Treatment of burns

Is tannic acid treatment recommended for burns and why?

Yes, in certain types of burns compound solution of tannic acid is very valuable, and the treatment of choice. Prior to the introduction of this treatment, in 1925, burns involving more than one-third of the body surface were invariably fatal. With tannic acid treatment lives are saved with burns involving half the body surface. To explain the nothing less than marvelous lifesaving qualities of tannic acid treatment, recourse must be had to the concept of "white bleeding"—the loss of an excessive amount of serum from the circulating blood into the exudate of the burn. It has been found that plasma may be lost to the extent of sixty per cent of that normally in the body. Tannic acid "seals" the burned area and prevents this loss. A five per cent solution of tannic acid is physiologic salt solution, or Ringier's solution, is sprayed on the burned area with an atomizer.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of King Features Syndicate, Inc., 235 East Forty-fifth street, New York, N. Y. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

WE TRADE IN—
New York Bank Stocks
Insurance Stocks
Trust Shares
Bought Sold Quoted
Clarence Litzburg
BROKER
16 No. Liberty St.
Cumberland, Md.

The New Telephone Directory Closes November 6

It Will List Hundreds of Residences And Businesses

MAKE CERTAIN YOU ARE LISTED IN IT

Call Cumberland 9900

... To Order a Telephone, Additional Listings, or to arrange for Complete Information about your Product or Service.

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City (Bell System)

Mr. Business Man,
here is a
BUSINESS BUILDER

COMPLETE information about your product or service in the Yellow Pages will increase your sales.

LADIES' COATS

Cleaned and Pressed

CASH—CARRY

50¢

Fur-Trimmed 75c

Men's Overcoats

Ladies' Jacket Suits 75c

PHONE 197

HARRY FOOTER & CO.

36 N. Liberty St. The Home of Good Cleaning

The Cumberland News

Published every weekday morning, excepting holidays, at 1 and 7 South Main Street, Cumberland, Md., by The Times and Telegraph Company.

Entered as second class mail matter at Cumberland, Md., May 1, 1906, under post office number 1234.

Member of The Associated Press.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news credited to it or otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein. All rights of reproduction of special dispatches are also reserved.

TERMS:—By carrier in city 15 cents per week. BY MAIL:—First second third and fourth postal zones, one month $1.00, six months $5.00, one year $10.00. Fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth postal zones One month $1.50, six months $8.00, one year $15.00.

National Advertising Representative: J. J. Divine and Associates, Inc., New York, 1933 Chrysler Bldg., Chicago, 367 N. Michigan Ave., Detroit, 817 New Center Bldg., Atlanta, 206 Palmer Bldg., Pittsburgh, 488 Oliver Bldg., Syracuse, State Tower Bldg.

TELEPHONE: 21

Editorial and News 1234

Advertising general 1234

Advertising (radio ads) 1234

Special Editor 1234

Circulation Department 1234

Business Office 1234

Printing Office 1234

Advertising Office 1234

Monday Morning, October 23, 1939

Nightmare Antidote

IT is to be hoped that those timid souls who have been having nightmares over visions of Adolf Hitler coming over here and taking America, as he took Poland, heard Gen. Smedley Butler on the radio the other night. With years of military experience behind him, "Old Gmlet" pronounced such fears "the bunk."

Gen. Butler had some pointed things to say about this Hitler Boogey-man that the Roosevelt administration has set up to get support for repeal of the arms embargo.

"They say—well, if the British and the French don't lick Hitler, Hitler will be over here and on our necks," the general said.

"He'll be bombing our women and children and shelling our cities."

"Don't let anybody feed you that misinformation."

"It doesn't take a military education to figure out what I'm going to tell you."

"It will take not less than one million soldiers to invade the United States with any hope of ever getting ashore."

"These million men must come all at once."

"They must bring not less than seven tons of baggage per man. One million men, seven million tons of food, ammunition, what-not."

"They must bring four hundred thousand motor vehicles. They've got to find room for fifty gallons of gasoline per day for each vehicle for 370 days—that's nine months' supply."

"Why, there are not enough ships in the whole world to carry that kind of an expedition. And remember, those ships have to have enough fuel to get back with—to make the round trip. Any dumb duck can see that."

"But needs some more, they've got to have harbors to land in, docks to get their stores ashore. You know you can't stop twenty-five miles out at sea, drop a five-ton armored tank overboard and tell it to swim ashore and meet you on Broadway."

"You know very well we're not going to open our harbors to them, prepare docks for them and invite them in."

"New York harbor is the only big one we have on the coast and to block New York harbor all we have to do is to dump two days' garbage in the channel instead of hauling it out to sea."

"And don't forget that we happen to have navy and it's the best in the world."

"Now, what about an aerial invasion?"

"Well, Col. Lindbergh and Eddie Rickenbacker, the two foremost fliers we have already have told you it's ridiculous to talk to to think about bombing New York from Berlin."

"And don't forget that we have an air force of our own."

"So my fellow Americans, let's take one thing at a time. This war is Europe's."

In view of these facts, it behooves the victims of Hitler fear propaganda to stop their quiverings.

Monday Morning, October 23, 1939

Nightmare Antidote

IT is to be hoped that those timid souls who have been having nightmares over visions of Adolf Hitler coming over here and taking America, as he took Poland, heard Gen. Smedley Butler on the radio the other night. With years of military experience behind him, "Old Gmlet" pronounced such fears "the bunk."

Gen. Butler had some pointed things to say about this Hitler Boogey-man that the Roosevelt administration has set up to get support for repeal of the arms embargo.

"They say—well, if the British and the French don't lick Hitler, Hitler will be over here and on our necks," the general said.

"He'll be bombing our women and children and shelling our cities."

"Don't let anybody feed you that misinformation."

"It doesn't take a military education to figure out what I'm going to tell you."

"It will take not less than one million soldiers to invade the United States with any hope of ever getting ashore."

"These million men must come all at once."

"They must bring not less than seven tons of baggage per man. One million men, seven million tons of food, ammunition, what-not."

"They must bring four hundred thousand motor vehicles. They've got to find room for fifty gallons of gasoline per day for each vehicle for 370 days—that's nine months' supply."

"Why, there are not enough ships in the whole world to carry that kind of an expedition. And remember, those ships have to have enough fuel to get back with—to make the round trip. Any dumb duck can see that."

"But needs some more, they've got to have harbors to land in, docks to get their stores ashore. You know you can't stop twenty-five miles out at sea, drop a five-ton armored tank overboard and tell it to swim ashore and meet you on Broadway."

"You know very well we're not going to open our harbors to them, prepare docks for them and invite them in."

"New York harbor is the only big one we have on the coast and to block New York harbor all we have to do is to dump two days' garbage in the channel instead of hauling it out to sea."

"And don't forget that we happen to have navy and it's the best in the world."

"Now, what about an aerial invasion?"

"Well, Col. Lindbergh and Eddie Rickenbacker, the two foremost fliers we have already have told you it's ridiculous to talk to to think about bombing New York from Berlin."

"And don't forget that we have an air force of our own."

"So my fellow Americans, let's take one thing at a time. This war is Europe's."

In view of these facts, it behooves the victims of Hitler fear propaganda to stop their quiverings.

Nightmare Antidote

IT is to be hoped that those timid souls who have been having nightmares over visions of Adolf Hitler coming over here and taking America, as he took Poland, heard Gen. Smedley Butler on the radio the other night. With years of military experience behind him, "Old Gmlet" pronounced such fears "the bunk."

Gen. Butler had some pointed things to say about this Hitler Boogey-man that the Roosevelt administration has set up to get support for repeal of the arms embargo.

"They say—well, if the British and the French don't lick Hitler, Hitler will be over here and on our necks," the general said.

"He'll be bombing our women and children and shelling our cities."

"Don't let anybody feed you that misinformation."

"It doesn't take a military education to figure out what I'm going to tell you."

"It will take not less than one million soldiers to invade the United States with any hope of ever getting ashore."

"These million men must come all at once."

"They must bring not less than seven tons of baggage per man. One million men, seven million tons of food, ammunition, what-not."

"They must bring four hundred thousand motor vehicles. They've got to find room for fifty gallons of gasoline per day for each vehicle for 370 days—that's nine months' supply."

"Why, there are not enough ships in the whole world to carry that kind of an expedition. And remember, those ships have to have enough fuel to get back with—to make the round trip. Any dumb duck can see that."

"But needs some more, they've got to have harbors to land in, docks to get their stores ashore. You know you can't stop twenty-five miles out at sea, drop a five-ton armored tank overboard and tell it to swim ashore and meet you on Broadway."

"You know very well we're not going to open our harbors to them, prepare docks for them and invite them in."

"New York harbor is the only big one we have on the coast and to block New York harbor all we have to do is to dump two days' garbage in the channel instead of hauling it out to sea."

"And don't forget that we happen to have navy and it's the best in the world."

"Now, what about an aerial invasion?"

"Well, Col. Lindbergh and Eddie Rickenbacker, the two foremost fliers we have already have told you it's ridiculous to talk to to think about bombing New York from Berlin."

"And don't forget that we have an air force of our own."

"So my fellow Americans, let's take one thing at a time. This war is Europe's."

In view of these facts, it behooves the victims of Hitler fear propaganda to stop their quiverings.

Nightmare Antidote

IT is to be hoped that those timid souls who have been having nightmares over visions of Adolf Hitler coming over here and taking America, as he took Poland, heard Gen. Smedley Butler on the radio the other night. With years of military experience behind him, "Old Gmlet" pronounced such fears "the bunk."

Gen. Butler had some pointed things to say about this Hitler Boogey-man that the Roosevelt administration has set up to get support for repeal of the arms embargo.

"They say—well, if the British and the French don't lick Hitler, Hitler will be over here and on our necks," the general said.

"He'll be bombing our women and children and shelling our cities."

"Don't let anybody feed you that misinformation."

"It doesn't take a military education to figure out what I'm going to tell you."

"It will take not less than one million soldiers to invade the United States with any hope of ever getting ashore."

"These million men must come all at once."

"They must bring not less than seven tons of baggage per man. One million men, seven million tons of food, ammunition, what-not."

"They must bring four hundred thousand motor vehicles. They've got to find room for fifty gallons of gasoline per day for each vehicle for 370 days—that's nine months' supply."

"Why, there are not enough ships in the whole world to carry that kind of an expedition. And remember, those ships have to have enough fuel to get back with—to make the round trip. Any dumb duck can see that."

"But needs some more, they've got to have harbors to land in, docks to get their stores ashore. You know you can't stop twenty-five miles out at sea, drop a five-ton armored tank overboard and tell it to swim ashore and meet you on Broadway."

"You know very well we're not going to open our harbors to them, prepare docks for them and invite them in."

"New York harbor is the only big one we have on the coast and to block New York harbor all we have to do is to dump two days' garbage in the channel instead of hauling it out to sea."

"And don't forget that we happen to have navy and it's the best in the world."

"Now, what about an aerial invasion?"

"Well, Col. Lindbergh and Eddie Rickenbacker, the two foremost fliers we have already have told you it's ridiculous to talk to to think about bombing New York from Berlin."

"And don't forget that we have an air force of our own."

"So my fellow Americans, let's take one thing at a time. This war is Europe's."

In view of these facts, it behooves the victims of Hitler fear propaganda to stop their quiverings.

Nightmare Antidote

IT is to be hoped that those timid souls who have been having nightmares over visions of Adolf Hitler coming over here and taking America, as he took Poland, heard Gen. Smedley Butler on the radio the other night. With years of military experience behind him, "Old Gmlet" pronounced such fears "the bunk."

Gen. Butler had some pointed things to say about this Hitler Boogey-man that the Roosevelt administration has set up to get support for repeal of the arms embargo.

"They say—well, if the British and the French don't lick Hitler, Hitler will be over here and on our necks," the general said.

"He'll be bombing our women and children and shelling our cities."

"Don't let anybody feed you that misinformation."

"It doesn't take a military education to figure out what I'm going to tell you."

"It will take not less than one million soldiers to invade the United States with any hope of ever getting ashore."

"These million men must come all at once."

"They must bring not less than seven tons of baggage per man. One million men, seven million tons of food, ammunition, what-not."

"They must bring four hundred thousand motor vehicles. They've got to find room for fifty gallons of gasoline per day for each vehicle for 370 days—that's nine months' supply."

"Why, there are not enough ships in the whole world to carry that kind of an expedition. And remember, those ships have to have enough fuel to get back with—to make the round trip. Any dumb duck can see that."

"But needs some more, they've got to have harbors to land in, docks to get their stores ashore. You know you can't stop twenty-five miles out at sea, drop a five-ton armored tank overboard and tell it to swim ashore and meet you on Broadway."

"You know very well we're not going to open our harbors to them, prepare docks for them and invite them in."

"New York harbor is the only big one we have on the coast and to block New York harbor all we have to do is to dump two days' garbage in the channel instead of hauling it out to sea."

"And don't forget that we happen to have navy and it's the best in the world."

"Now, what about an aerial invasion?"

"Well, Col. Lindbergh and Eddie Rickenbacker, the two foremost fliers we have already have told you it's ridiculous to talk to to think about bombing New York from Berlin."

"And don't forget that we have an air force of our own."

"So my fellow Americans, let's take one thing at a time. This war is Europe's."

In view of these facts, it behooves the victims of Hitler fear propaganda to stop their quiverings.

Nightmare Antidote

IT is to be hoped that those timid souls who have been having nightmares over visions of Adolf Hitler coming over here and taking America, as he took Poland, heard Gen. Smedley Butler on the radio the other night. With years of military experience behind him, "Old Gmlet" pronounced such fears "the bunk."

Gen. Butler had some pointed things to say about this Hitler Boogey-man that the Roosevelt administration has set up to get support for repeal of the arms embargo.

"They say—well, if the British and the French don't lick Hitler, Hitler will be over here and on our necks," the general said.

"He'll be bombing our women and children and shelling our cities."

"Don't let anybody feed you that misinformation."

"It doesn't take a military education to figure out what I'm going to tell you."

"It will take not less than one million soldiers to invade the United States with any hope of ever getting ashore."

"These million men must come all at once."

"They must bring not less than seven tons of baggage per man. One million men, seven million tons of food, ammunition, what-not."

"They must bring four hundred thousand motor vehicles. They've got to find room for fifty gallons of gasoline per day for each vehicle for 370 days—that's nine months' supply."

"Why, there are not enough ships in the whole world to carry that kind of an expedition. And remember, those ships have to have enough fuel to get back with—to make the round trip. Any dumb duck can see that."

"But needs some more, they've got to have harbors to land in, docks to get their stores ashore. You know you can't stop twenty-five miles out at sea, drop a five-ton armored tank overboard and tell it to swim ashore and meet you on Broadway."

"You know very well we're not going to open our harbors to them, prepare docks for them and invite them in."

"New York harbor is the only big one we have on the coast and to block New York harbor all we have to do is to dump two days' garbage in the channel instead of hauling it out to sea."

"And don't forget that we happen to have navy and it's the best in the world."

"Now, what about an aerial invasion?"

"Well, Col. Lindbergh and Eddie Rickenbacker, the two foremost fliers we have already have told you it's ridiculous to talk to to think about bombing New York from Berlin."

"And don't forget that we have an air force of our own."

"So my fellow Americans, let's take one thing at a time. This war is Europe's."

In view of these facts, it behooves the victims of Hitler fear propaganda to stop their quiverings.

Nightmare Antidote

IT is to be hoped that those timid souls who have been having nightmares over visions of Adolf Hitler coming over here and taking America, as he took Poland, heard Gen. Smedley Butler on the radio the other night. With years of military experience behind him, "Old Gmlet" pronounced such fears "the bunk."

Gen. Butler had some pointed things to say about this Hitler Boogey-man that the Roosevelt administration has set up to get support for repeal of the arms embargo.

"They say—well, if the British and the French don't lick Hitler, Hitler will be over here and on our necks," the general said.

"He'll be bombing our women and children and shelling our cities."

"Don't let anybody feed you that misinformation."

"It doesn't take a military education to figure out what I'm going to tell you."

"It will take not less than one million soldiers to invade the United States with any hope of ever getting ashore."

"These million men must come all at once."

"They must bring not less than seven tons of baggage per man. One million men, seven million tons of food, ammunition, what-not."

"They must bring four hundred thousand motor vehicles. They've got to find room for fifty gallons of gasoline per day for each vehicle for 370 days—that's nine months' supply."

"Why, there are not enough ships in the whole world to carry that kind of an expedition. And remember, those ships have to have enough fuel to get back with—to make the round trip. Any dumb duck can see that."

"But needs some more, they've got to have harbors to land in, docks to get their stores ashore. You know you can't stop twenty-five miles out at sea, drop a five-ton armored tank overboard and tell it to swim ashore and meet you on Broadway."

"You know very well we're not going to open our harbors to them, prepare docks for them and invite them in."

"New York harbor is the only big one we have on the coast and to block New York harbor all we have to do is to dump two days' garbage in the channel instead of hauling it out to sea."

"And don't forget that we happen to have navy and it's the best in the world."

"Now, what about an aerial invasion?"

"Well, Col. Lindbergh and Eddie Rickenbacker, the two foremost fliers we have already have told you it's ridiculous to talk to to think about bombing New York from Berlin."

"And don't forget that we have an air force of our own."

"So my fellow Americans, let's take one thing at a time. This war is Europe's."

In view of these facts, it behooves the victims of Hitler fear propaganda to stop their quiverings.

Nightmare Antidote

IT is to be hoped that those timid souls who have been having nightmares over visions of Adolf Hitler coming over here and taking America, as he took Poland, heard Gen. Smedley Butler on the radio the other night. With years of military experience behind him, "Old Gmlet" pronounced such fears "the bunk."

Gen. Butler had some pointed things to say about this Hitler Boogey-man that the Roosevelt administration has set up to get support for repeal of the arms embargo.

"They say—well, if the British and the French don't lick Hitler, Hitler will be over here and on our necks," the general said.

"He'll be bombing our women and children and shelling our cities."

"Don't let anybody feed you that misinformation."

"It doesn't take a military education to figure out what I'm going to tell you."

"It will take not less than one million soldiers to invade the United States with any hope of ever getting ashore."

"These million men must come all at once."

"They must bring not less than seven tons of baggage per man. One million men, seven million tons of food, ammunition, what-not."

"They must bring four hundred thousand motor vehicles. They've got to find room for fifty gallons of gasoline per day for each vehicle for 370 days—that's nine months' supply."

"Why, there are not enough ships in the whole world to carry that kind of an expedition. And remember, those ships have to have enough fuel to get back with—to make the round trip. Any dumb duck can see that."

"But needs some more, they've got to have harbors to land in, docks to get their stores ashore. You know you can't stop twenty-five miles out at sea, drop a five-ton armored tank overboard and tell it to swim ashore and meet you on Broadway."

"You know very well we're not going to open our harbors to them, prepare docks for them and invite them in."

"New York harbor is the only big one we have on the coast and to block New York harbor all we have to do is to dump two days' garbage in the channel instead of hauling it out to sea."

"And don't forget that we happen to have navy and it's the best in the world."

"Now, what about an aerial invasion?"

"Well, Col. Lindbergh and Eddie Rickenbacker, the two foremost fliers we have already have told you it's ridiculous to talk to to think about bombing New York from Berlin."

"And don't forget that we have an air force of our own."

"So my fellow Americans, let's take one thing at a time. This war is Europe's."

In view of these facts, it behooves the victims of Hitler fear propaganda to stop their quiverings.

four of them passenger vessels, were sold to the Brazilian government by an American firm, a deal which ran into millions of dollars. An airways company has ordered twenty-two new flying boats as part of a great scheme to augment service to and from South America, steamship lines with central offices in New York have issued orders to all officers and crews that they must learn Portuguese and Spanish and that upon proficiency in these languages depends promotion.

All this is only a suggestion of the vitally important fact that now is the time for American business to strike the iron of Pan-American trade while it is hot.

A Melon Experiment

GARDENERS at the big country estate of Samuel Untermyer at Yonkers, N. Y., are trying their hand at some Burbank wizardry. Untermyer is an aging famous lawyer who, like many other wealthy persons, wants to dispose of his big country showplace for reasons now held by all those having them. Taxes and upkeep are too burdensome. He even offered to give it to the municipality of Yonkers under the condition that it keep it going, but the town fathers were in a no-thank-you mood.

But, to get back to what is now going on at the estate. The gardeners there have begun a series of transfusion operations upon the vines of honey-dew melons to flavor them with Cognac, port wine or Benedictine—whichever a guest may desire.

In each vine in the boathouse on the estate, an incision is being made. An absorbent cotton wick is inserted, its other end resting in a bottle of spirits. Thus, if all goes well, the vine will absorb the stuff. Then, when the melons are ripe next month, the alcoholic content will be innocuously small—but the taste beyond doubt.

The plan may work out all right, but there will likely be some objectors. Why, we can hear them saying, waste so much good liquor in this way if the real kick in it is going to be lacked out!

A Melon Experiment

GARDENERS at the big country estate of Samuel Untermyer at Yonkers, N. Y., are trying their hand at some Burbank wizardry. Untermyer is an aging famous lawyer who, like many other wealthy persons, wants to dispose of his big country showplace for reasons now held by all those having them. Taxes and upkeep are too burdensome. He even offered to give it to the municipality of Yonkers under the condition that it keep it going, but the town fathers were in a no-thank-you mood.

But, to get back to what is now going on at the estate. The gardeners there have begun a series of transfusion operations upon the vines of honey-dew melons to flavor them with Cognac, port wine or Benedictine—whichever a guest may desire.

In each vine in the boathouse on the estate, an incision is being made. An absorbent cotton wick is inserted, its other end resting in a bottle of spirits. Thus, if all goes well, the vine will absorb the stuff. Then, when the melons are ripe next month, the alcoholic content will be innocuously small—but the taste beyond doubt.

The plan may work out all right, but there will likely be some objectors. Why, we can hear them saying, waste so much good liquor in this way if the real kick in it is going to be lacked out!

On the Safety Line

ACCORDING TO the latest complete monthly report of the National Safety Council, the nation's death toll in traffic, which soared in June and July to break a steady seventeen-month improvement, turned sharply downward again in August. The record for the nation showed a drop of six percent in highway fatalities from the same month a year ago, but the decrease in the cities was only two per cent. That is, the saving of lives was accomplished chiefly because motorists drove more safely in villages and on country highways than in the cities, in the view of the council.

The report is significant because of the fact that the average change between July and August has for many years been an increase of nine per cent and also because of the fact that the decrease this year came in spite of a great increase in motor travel.

On the Safety Line

ACCORDING TO the latest complete monthly report of the National Safety Council, the nation's death toll in traffic, which soared in June and July to break a steady seventeen-month improvement, turned sharply downward again in August. The record for the nation showed a drop of six percent in highway fatalities from the same month a year ago, but the decrease in the cities was only two per cent. That is, the saving of lives was accomplished chiefly because motorists drove more safely in villages and on country highways than in the cities, in the view of the council.

The report is significant because of the fact that the average change between July and August has for many years been an increase of nine per cent and also because of the fact that the decrease this year came in spite of a great increase in motor travel.

On the Safety Line

ACCORDING TO the latest complete monthly report of the National Safety Council, the nation's death toll in traffic, which soared in June and July to break a steady seventeen-month improvement, turned sharply downward again in August. The record for the nation showed a drop of six percent in highway fatalities from the same month a year ago, but the decrease in the cities was only two per cent. That is, the saving of lives was accomplished chiefly because motorists drove more safely in villages and on country highways than in the cities, in the view of the council.

The report is significant because of the fact that the average change between July and August has for many years been an increase of nine per cent and also because of the fact that the decrease this year came in spite of a great increase in motor travel.

On the Safety Line

ACCORDING TO the latest complete monthly report of the National Safety Council, the nation's death toll in traffic, which soared in June and July to break a steady seventeen-month improvement, turned sharply downward again in August. The record for the nation showed a drop of six percent in highway fatalities from the same month a year ago, but the decrease in the cities was only two per cent. That is, the saving of lives was accomplished chiefly because motorists drove more safely in villages and on country highways than in the cities, in the view of the council.

The report is significant because of the fact that the average change between July and August has for many years been an increase of nine per cent and also because of the fact that the decrease this year came in spite of a great increase in motor travel.

On the Safety Line

ACCORDING TO the latest complete monthly report of the National Safety Council, the nation's death toll in traffic, which soared in June and July to break a steady seventeen-month improvement, turned sharply downward again in August. The record for the nation showed a drop of six percent in highway fatalities from the same month a year ago, but the decrease in the cities was only two per cent. That is, the saving of lives was accomplished chiefly because motorists drove more safely in villages and on country highways than in the cities, in the view of the council.

The report is significant because of the fact that the average change between July and August has for many years been an increase of nine per cent and also because of the fact that the decrease this year came in spite of a great increase in motor travel.

On the Safety Line

ACCORDING TO the latest complete monthly report of the National Safety Council, the nation's death toll in traffic, which soared in June and July to break a steady seventeen-month improvement, turned sharply downward again in August. The record for the nation showed a drop of six percent in highway fatalities from the same month a year ago, but the decrease in the cities was only two per cent. That is, the saving of lives was accomplished chiefly because motorists drove more safely in villages and on country highways than in the cities, in the view of the council.

The report is significant because of the fact that the average change between July and August has for many years been an increase of nine per cent and also because of the fact that the decrease this year came in spite of a great increase in motor travel.

On the Safety Line

ACCORDING TO the latest complete monthly report of the National Safety Council, the nation's death toll in traffic, which soared in June and July to break a steady seventeen-month improvement, turned sharply downward again in August. The record for the nation showed a drop of six percent in highway fatalities from the same month a year ago, but the decrease in the cities was only two per cent. That is, the saving of lives was accomplished chiefly because motorists drove more safely in villages and on country highways than in the cities, in the view of the council.

The report is significant because of the fact that the average change between July and August has for many years been an increase of nine per cent and also because of the fact that the decrease this year came in spite of a great increase in motor travel.

The Human Side

Of the News

By EDWIN C. HILL

I couldn't be sure at first which lion Hymie Auger was talking about. There was a horse named Sea Lion, a plater which had been hopped up to beat the favorite, but that was another story, far away and long ago. There was that cub lion that the sailor brought into Coenties Slip, and the vaudeville lion which was taken on taxi rides by its owner. When, at length Mr. Auger averred that this lion had the wind up his back, I began to follow the story. Mr. Auger takes over:

"I see this lion could be knocked over with a broom-straw," he said "although he looked fierce, like a big palooka I was one time acquainted with over back of the navy yard and who was given the boot by a little lime-juicer who was a swamper in a sailor boarding house run by a one-eyed Creek. This Greek."

We lassoed Mr. Auger, and tied him down, and by determined effort ascertained that he and two old friends had attended the moving picture, "The Wizard of Oz," and that he wanted to talk about the Cowardly Lion, as pertinent to something or other of current interest.

"Well, as I was saying," he continued, "they had a little pooch down at the firehouse that could of chased this lion clear back to Kansas or wherever he came from. But I've been around quite a lot and I savvy why they put a scared lion in the picture when lions are supposed to be tough."

"I see this lion could be knocked over with a broom-straw," he said "although he looked fierce, like a big palooka I was one time acquainted with over back of the navy yard and who was given the boot by a little lime-juicer who was a swamper in a sailor boarding house run by a one-eyed Creek. This Greek."

We lassoed Mr. Auger, and tied him down, and by determined effort ascertained that he and two old friends had attended the moving picture, "The Wizard of Oz," and that he wanted to talk about the Cowardly Lion, as pertinent to something or other of current interest.

"Well, as I was saying," he continued, "they had a little pooch down at the firehouse that could of chased this lion clear back to Kansas or wherever he came from. But I've been around quite a lot and I savvy why they put a scared lion in the picture when lions are supposed to be tough."

"I see this lion could be knocked over with a broom-straw," he said "although he looked fierce, like a big palooka I was one time acquainted with over back of the navy yard and who was given the boot by a little lime-juicer who was a swamper in a sailor boarding house run by a one-eyed Creek. This Greek."

We lassoed Mr. Auger, and tied him down, and by determined effort ascertained that he and two old friends had attended the moving picture, "The Wizard of Oz," and that he wanted to talk about the Cowardly Lion, as pertinent to something or other of current interest.

"Well, as I was saying," he continued, "they had a little pooch down at the firehouse that could of chased this lion clear back to Kansas or wherever he came from. But I've been around quite a lot and I savvy why they put a scared lion in the picture when lions are supposed to be tough."

On the Safety Line

ACCORDING TO the latest complete monthly report of the National Safety Council, the nation's death toll in traffic, which soared in June and July to break a steady seventeen-month improvement, turned sharply downward again in August. The record for the nation showed a drop of six percent in highway fatalities from the same month a year ago, but the decrease in the cities was only two per cent. That is, the saving of lives was accomplished chiefly because motorists drove more safely in villages and on country highways than in the cities, in the view of the council.

The report is significant because of the fact that the average change between July and August has for many years been an increase of nine per cent and also because of the fact that the decrease this year came in spite of a great increase in motor travel.

On the Safety Line

ACCORDING TO the latest complete monthly report of the National Safety Council, the nation's death toll in traffic, which soared in June and July to break a steady seventeen-month improvement, turned sharply downward again in August. The record for the nation showed a drop of six percent in highway fatalities from the same month a year ago, but the decrease in the cities was only two per cent. That is, the saving of lives was accomplished chiefly because motorists drove more safely in villages and on country highways than in the cities, in the view of the council.

The report is significant because of the fact that the average change between July and August has for many years been an increase of nine per cent and also because of the fact that the decrease this year came in spite of a great increase in motor travel.

On the Safety Line

ACCORDING TO the latest complete monthly report of the National Safety Council, the nation's death toll in traffic, which soared in June and July to break a steady seventeen-month improvement, turned sharply downward again in August. The record for the nation showed a drop of six percent in highway fatalities from the same month a year ago, but the decrease in the cities was only two per cent. That is, the saving of lives was accomplished chiefly because motorists drove more safely in villages and on country highways than in the cities, in the view of the council.

The report is significant because of the fact that the average change between July and August has for many years been an increase of nine per cent and also because of the fact that the decrease this year came in spite of a great increase in motor travel.

On the Safety Line

ACCORDING TO the latest complete monthly report of the National Safety Council, the nation's death toll in traffic, which soared in June and July to break a steady seventeen-month improvement, turned sharply downward again in August. The record for the nation showed a drop of six percent in highway fatalities from the same month a year ago, but the decrease in the cities was only two per cent. That is, the saving of lives was accomplished chiefly because motorists drove more safely in villages and on country highways than in the cities, in the view of the council.

The report is significant because of the fact that the average change between July and August has for many years been an increase of nine per cent and also because of the fact that the decrease this year came in spite of a great increase in motor travel.

On the Safety Line

ACCORDING TO the latest complete monthly report of the National Safety Council, the nation's death toll in traffic, which soared in June and July to break a steady seventeen-month improvement, turned sharply downward again in August. The record for the nation showed a drop of six percent in highway fatalities from the same month a year ago, but the decrease in the cities was only two per cent. That is, the saving of lives was accomplished chiefly because motorists drove more safely in villages and on country highways than in the cities, in the view of the council.

The report is significant because of the fact that the average change between July and August has for many years been an increase of nine per cent and also because of the fact that the decrease this year came in spite of a great increase in motor travel.

On the Safety Line

ACCORDING TO the latest complete monthly report of the National Safety Council, the nation's death toll in traffic, which soared in June and July to break a steady seventeen-month improvement, turned sharply downward again in August. The record for the nation showed a drop of six percent in highway fatalities from the same month a year ago, but the decrease in the cities was only two per cent. That is, the saving of lives was accomplished chiefly because motorists drove more safely in villages and on country highways than in the cities, in the view of the council.

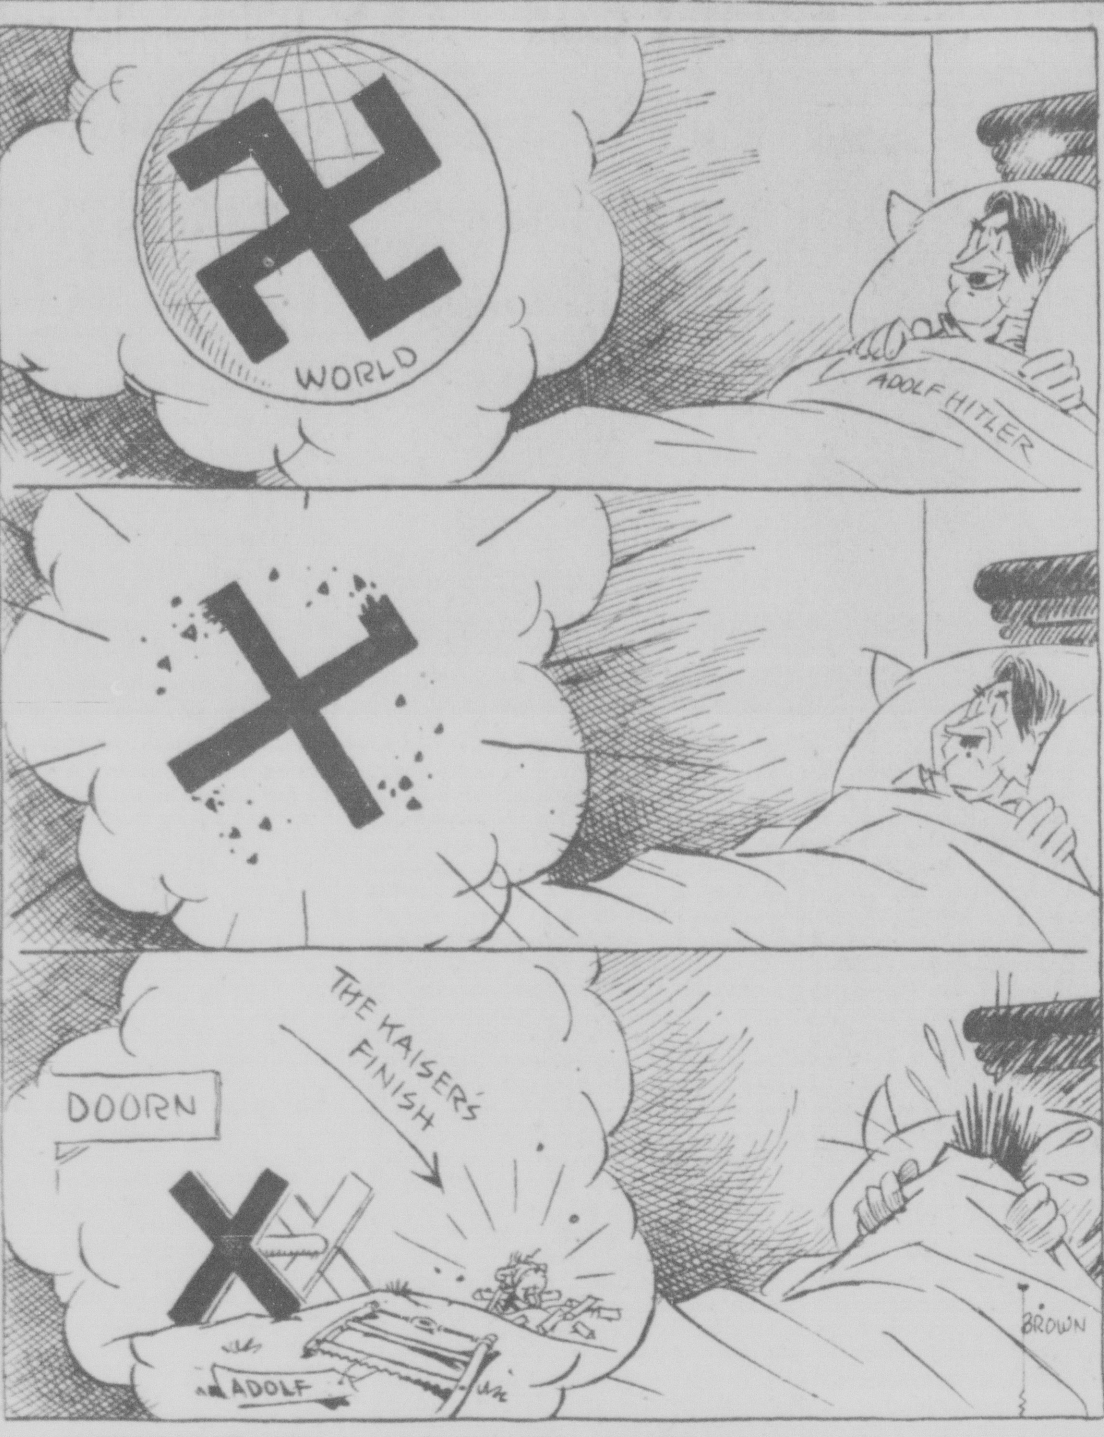

The report is significant because of the fact that the average change between July and August has for many years been an increase of nine per cent and also because of the fact that the decrease this year came in spite of a great increase in motor travel.

On the Safety Line

ACCORDING TO the latest complete monthly report of the National Safety Council, the nation's death toll in traffic, which soared in June and July to break a steady seventeen-month improvement, turned sharply downward again in August. The record for the nation showed a drop of six percent in highway fatalities from the same month a year ago, but the decrease in the cities was only two per cent. That is, the saving of lives was accomplished chiefly because motorists drove more safely in villages and on country highways than in the cities, in the view of the council.

The report is significant because of the fact that the average change between July and August has for many years been an increase of nine per cent and also because of the fact that the decrease this year came in spite of a great increase in motor travel.

A PROGRESSIVE VISION--HISTORY MAY REPEAT ITSELF

Experience Must Yet Test Soundness Of the Revised Neutrality Measure

By MARK SULLIVAN

Washington, Oct. 22.—Within ten days or so the Senate is going to adopt the cash-and-carry neutrality bill. American wants it, overwhelmingly. To the cash-and-carry plan there has been practically no objection. In the Senate debate both sides have been agreed upon cash - and - carry. Maybe it will work; let us hope so. But when one observes the placidity with which many of our people assume that this neutrality measure will take us through safely, this column recalls some other devices in which we had a confidence equally complacent.

Four years ago we passed a neutrality law even more self-denying than the proposed one. That earlier law, going farther than the proposed one forbade absolutely what the proposed law permits partially. It forbade absolutely the sale of arms, while the present law permits sale on the cash-and-carry plan. We thought that 1935 neutrality law was wonderful—it passed the House by 353 to 27, and the Senate without even demand for a roll-call. The same law, substantially we again adopted in 1937, by 63 to 6 in the Senate, 376 to 13 in the House. Everybody thought our neutrality was assured. (Except perhaps those tiny minorities in Congress.) President Roosevelt in 1936 campaign congratulated the country, and himself. But last month Mr. Roosevelt felt obliged to say, in his opening message to Congress: "I regret that the Congress passed that act; I regret equally that I signed that act."

On the Safety Line

ACCORDING TO the latest complete monthly report of the National Safety Council, the nation's death toll in traffic, which soared in June and July to break a steady seventeen-month improvement, turned sharply downward again in August. The record for the nation showed a drop of six percent in highway fatalities from the same month a year ago, but the decrease in the cities was only two per cent. That is, the saving of lives was accomplished chiefly because motorists drove more safely in villages and on country highways than in the cities, in the view of the council.

The report is significant because of the fact that the average change between July and August has for many years been an increase of nine per cent and also because of the fact that the decrease this year came in spite of a great increase in motor travel.

On the Safety Line

ACCORDING TO the latest complete monthly report of the National Safety Council, the nation's death toll in traffic

Dog Keeps Watch over Child All Night in Mountains

Stray Mongrel Stands Guard Over Baby Girl

Twenty-Nine Month Old Beckley Girl Wandered Away from Home

Beckley, W. Va., Oct. 22 (AP) — Twenty-nine-month-old Margaret Ann Hovan was safe at home tonight while her parents blessed the day a stray dog came to their home.

The child was lost overnight while state police, CCC enrollees and about forty citizens searched for her in a rough, mountainous area.

Bill Hamilton, 9, investigated cries he heard early today and found the missing Margaret Ann in a ravine near his home in the Price Hill section.

Hamilton said the dog, which he described as a mongrel, stood impassively by the child's side when he saw her first about 9 a. m., but that when he approached the dog lunged at him.

The boy said he beat the dog back but that in the tussle Margaret Ann's coat was torn off. He hurried away with the child, leaving the coat on the ground.

Two hours after the boy reached the Hovan home three miles away with his charge, the dog appeared baying the coat.

Mike Hovan, the father, declared the dog probably kept the child safe during the night.

The dog came to the house two months ago as a stray, Hovan said, and developed a fondness for the small girl.

Child and dog wandered away together last night.

Doctors said the girl needed nothing more than a good rest after her rescue.

Banquet Is Given For Baseball Team At Mt. Savage

Mt. Savage, Oct. 22.—The members and guests of the Mt. Savage baseball team were entertained with a banquet, last night in the Junior Order Hall, after which several speeches were given. Patrick A. Cannon, a leading citizen of the town, acted as master of ceremonies. J. L. Chapman and Howard Northern, president and secretary of the Willis Creek Valley League were among the speakers.

There will be a special meeting of the same hall, Friday night, October 27 to elect officers of the league and make plans for next year's season.

Brief Items

Duffy's Five and Ten Cent Store opened Friday morning to a large crowd. The fully equipped 5 & 10 located in Mullany's store building, and is under the management of Adolph J. Walteknas, Westernport. Mr. Walteknas is in partnership with J. L. Shay who runs a similar store in Westernport.

The Catholic Daughters of America will meet Wednesday evening at 8:30 in St. Patrick's Hall to celebrate their nineteenth anniversary. Members and their friends are invited.

Dr. Brooke Rejects Presidency of W. & E. College

Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 22 (AP) — Francis J. Brooke, Jr., pastor of the Memorial Presbyterian church, said today he had declined the presidency of Davis-Elkins college in order to continue his ministry.

Brooke announced he had accepted the offer of the board of trustees by telephone, saying: "I feel that my original call in ministry was to preach as a pastor, and have no reason to feel that call has been changed."

Brooke has occupied his Charleston pulpit twelve years. He previously held pastorates at Wytheville, Va., and in Western Maryland. He had accepted the offer extended last week he would have accepted Dr. Charles E. Albert, who resigned last month effective as a successor is named.

Albert became president after Dr. Charles E. Allen resigned in 1935 to become head of Marshall College.

Officers May Close W. Va. Hunting Season

Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 22 (AP) — Conservation officials met tonight to consider closing the week-old hunting season as 23 new forest lands developed and three whipped of control.

State Forester Dan B. Griffin said a dwelling and sawmill were destroyed in McDowell county as the separate fires there spread to a total 1,000 acres.

Griffin reported winds of approximately thirty-five-mile-an-hour velocity whipped the flames. Unless winds die down, he said, the fires can not be brought under control before morning at the earliest.

The three uncontrolled McDowell fires were as yet relatively small with the largest now 500 acres burning into the Bishop area across the Virginia line.

The fires in all developed in McDowell Griffin said, and 400 men on the fire lines there.

PRETTIEST OF SUMMER

Hazel Hanley

They gave that title and a cup to Miss Hazel Hanley, 16, of Washington, after voting her the loveliest visitor at North Beach this season. Besides being lovely, Miss Hanley swims, plays basketball and softball. She is a student at Holy Name academy.

J. D. Close Fined $25 and Costs

St. George Man Is Charged with Driving While Intoxicated

Parsons, W. Va., Oct. 22.—State and county officers report the arrest of J. D. "Jake" Close, lumberman, St. George, on a charge of driving a car while intoxicated. He was arrested by State Trooper C. G. Hamrick and Sheriff Stark Coker after allegedly striking a parked car in this city. He was arraigned before Magistrate Andrew Hedrick who fined him $25 and costs. The car could not be impounded, the officers said, because it belonged to a garage in Maryland.

Vannoy-Dugan

Announcement has been made of the recent marriage of Miss Margaretie Jackson Dugan, daughter of Leo M. Dugan, Atlantic City, and Mrs. Teresa R. Dugan, this city, to a Kenneth Vannoy, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Vannoy, East Parsons. The marriage took place August 1 in Winchester, Va., by the Rev. Herman McKay, Methodist minister. Both are graduates of the Parsons high school. The bride also is a graduate of West Virginia Business College, Fairmont. She is employed by the National Youth Administration here. Mr. Vannoy spent four years in the navy and is at present employed by the Western Maryland railroad.

PTA To Meet

The Parsons Parent-Teacher Association will hold its first meeting of the present school year Thursday evening at 7:30 in the graded school auditorium, featuring a Court of Honor by the Boy Scouts. The annual autumn court of honor will be held by the Boy Scouts of Tucker county, in charge of Henry E. Katschke, scout executive for the area of Fairmont. Badges and medals will be awarded the deserving scouts.

Parsons Personals

Recent visitors here with friends were Dr. H. R. Werner, Akron, O., and his brother, A. A. Werner, Los Angeles, Calif. The latter was in the mercantile business here forty years ago.

Blackwater Chapter D. A. R. met yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Lalah Scott where a program was given on "Our Possessions," in charge of Mrs. Alice Harman, Uniontown, Pa.

Dr. G. W. Smith, Canton, O., was a visitor here with his brother and sister, J. H. Smith and Mrs. Maggie Judy.

Mrs. Alice Miller, Mrs. Opal Garber and Mrs. Chester Bennett were Elkins visitors yesterday.

A radio show will be given Wednesday night in the graded school auditorium by a group of entertainers from station WBLK, Clarksville, Pa., sponsored by the Men's Brotherhood of the First Street Methodist church. The group is known as the Dixie Serenaders and this is their first appearance in Tucker county.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hebb, Washington, D. C., are visiting with Mrs. Harvey Hebb and other relatives.

Married 57 Years

Huntington, W. Va., Oct. 22 (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rose, residents of suburban Guadalupe for seventy-five years, celebrated today their fifty-seventh wedding anniversary.

Water Shortage Near Frostburg Under Discussion

Supply at Wright's Crossing and Welsh Hill Is Inadequate

Frostburg, Oct. 22.—With the shortage of water at Wright's Crossing and Welsh Hill, suburbs of this city, becoming more serious daily, the mayor and city commissioners held a meeting Friday evening to consider a proposal made by Samuel T. Walker of the Frostburg Water Company to the effect that his company would be willing to turn over the consumers of the district to the city or to purchase water from the city water department. He suggested that a meter be installed at the point where the city water would be turned into the mains of the Frostburg Water Company. After a lengthy discussion, the mayor and city commissioners decided not to sell water beyond the corporate limits until further conferences with the officials of the Frostburg Water Company.

According to residents of Wright's Crossing and Welsh Hill, who are consumers of the Frostburg Water Company, fifty-two families have been without water for three weeks and during that time all, excepting a few families with cellar hydrants, have been securing water from the Hoffman water trough, Lion Spring, Frostburg neighbors and other distant sources.

City Commissioner Walter Powell reported to council that a number of persons in the Wright's Crossing and Welsh Hill districts are suffering from a skin disease, alleged to be caused from the lack of water. It was learned that the illness is a form of itch which may spread into an epidemic unless families are supplied with sufficient water to wash bed clothing and under clothing daily.

The residents of the stricken section held a mass meeting Friday evening at the Grahamtown school for the purpose of discussing the situation with officials of the Frostburg Water Company, but the water company was not represented at the meeting. A committee was appointed and instructed to take the matter up with the State Board of Health through County Health Officer, Dr. Joseph P. Franklin, Cumberland.

Residents of Grahamtown, who are also suffering from a shortage of water from the lines of the Frostburg Water Company, have been getting a limited supply in the lower sections of the village during the past week.

Eagles Plan Reception

An informal reception for members and friends of Frostburg aerie, No. 1273, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will be held Tuesday evening, 8 o'clock, at the newly improved club rooms of the aerie, located on the second floor of the Eagle building, East Main street. The reception is planned to signalize the completion of improvements which have been underway for several months and on which over $2,000 have been spent.

The color scheme of the rooms is of cream, tan and rose-beige. The furnishings include a new bar of modernistic design, luxurious chrome chairs and divans, with Spanish leather upholstery, and tables to match. A curtain of heavy silk divides the ladies' lounge from the tap room. The furnishings are a set off to splendid advantage by a modern indirect lighting system which is one of the features of the decorative scheme.

Cook Rites Held

Funeral services for the late William C. Cook, prominent merchant of this city who died suddenly Friday morning from a heart attack, was held Sunday afternoon, 2:30 o'clock, at the family residence, Bowery street, with the Rev. Edgar W. Beckett, pastor of First Methodist church, this city, and the Rev. Reginald Neel, Cumberland, an uncle of Mrs. Cook, officiating. The service was attended by a Mountain Lodge, No. 99, A. F. and A. M. and delegation from other Masonic bodies with which Mr. Cook was affiliated. The Masonic ritual was read by the officers of the lodge.

The funeral cortege will leave this city Monday morning at 8 o'clock for Shepherdstown, W. Va., where interment will be made. The pall bearers will be William Jenkins, St. George Stern and Richard T. Rizer, representing the Frostburg Rotary club of which Mr. Cook was a past president, and J. Taylor Crump, C. R. Lancaster, Harry C. Hitchens and George E. Taylor of the local Masonic lodge of which Mr. Cook was a past master.

Among those from out-of-town here for the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Allan P. Neel and Mrs. E. R. Rogers, Keyser; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neel and family, Martinsburg, Va.; Miss Salina Neel, Manassas, Va.; Miss Frances Neel, Louisville, Ky.; Miss Majorie Neel, Shepherdstown, W. Va.; Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Kauffman, Lewisburg, W. Va.

Mrs. George Harriett, Wade Harriett, Mrs. John Blue and son, John, Jr., Romney, W. Va.; Mrs. John Malnes, Mrs. Elizabeth Kilty and Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Kilty, Donora, Pa.; Mrs. Thomas Bradley, Russ Bradley, Miss Anna Hardy and Wayne Parker, Pittsburgh, W. Va.

Father and Son Are Placed in Jail at Keyser

Ben F. Davis and Son Charles Held after Family Row at New Creek

Keyser, W. Va., Oct. 22.—As the result of a family row near here yesterday, involving a father and two sons, at Kitzmiller, the father and one son were brought to the Mineral county jail, and the other son was taken to Potomac Valley Hospital.

The father, Ben F. Davis, 45, and Charles Davis, 28, were lodged in jail last night at 5 o'clock on charges of drunkenness and drunk driving, respectively. Wesley Davis was brought to the hospital for treatment after being found lying along the highway by police who said he was hurt in the fight.

State Police Trooper R. R. Karickhoff and Sheriff Harley O. Staggers, answering a call from a new Creek roadhouse, found Wesley Davis lying along the "cut-off" road, which leaves New Creek Drive about four miles south of here to join route 50 at the top of Knobley mountain, at about 4:15 yesterday. The officers said today the injured man was lying about 200 yards up the mountain road from the New Creek intersection.

After arranging for the victim's transportation to the hospital, the officers set out in pursuit of the other pair, overtaking them just at the foot of Allegheny Front mountain, and brought them to jail here.

Today, hospital attaches said Davis was released this morning. His injuries were found to be "not very serious," they said.

The elder Davis and his other son are scheduled to face trial here tomorrow on charges of drunkenness and drunk driving.

Elliott Fined $20

Louis Elliott, Oakmont, was fined $20 and costs by Justice of the Peace J. E. Arnold yesterday on a charge of hunting without a license. The Oakmont man was arrested near his home by Game Protector Joe E. Hughes.

Langley Is Rearrested

Williamson, W. Va., Oct. 22 (AP) — Liberty was short-lived for Harry Langley, declared innocent by a Mingo Circuit court jury of stealing $50 from Ted Morgan, a grocery clerk.

Judge Charles W. Ferguson promptly ordered Langley's rearrest on charges he assaulted Morgan, and the defendant was returned to jail where he has spent the last 102 days.

Snakes Get Chummy

Beckley, W. Va., Oct. 22 (AP) — It wasn't enough when Mrs. Dave Meades of Salt Sulphur found a Copperhead snake coiled in a drawer of her sewing machine.

Two days later she found another slithering himself on a table by a window.

H. B. Lee, Miss Clara Lee, Miss Sabilla Lee and Roy Hunter, Sharpville, Pa.; Walter Neal, College Park, Frances L. Cook and Thomas Elias, Jr., Westminster; John W. Cook, Hagerstown and Prof. Arthur Neal, Taneytown.

Frostburg Personals

Prof. Victor Bennett, a teacher at the University of Maryland, has returned after coming here to attend the funeral of the late William C. Cook.

George Wright, for many years a well known barber here, was stricken with paralysis Saturday at his home, Mill street, and is in a critical condition.

Joseph Richardson, former street supervisor of this city, is critically ill at Memorial Hospital, Cumberland.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hoban and son, Albert Grant, and John Vass, William Keith and William Vass, Snook, Pa., spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Schneider, Maple street.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fresh, Miss Helen Taylor and Miss Evelyn Hloyd returned Sunday after spending several days with relatives in Akron, Ohio.

The Rev. Walter V. Simon, this city, occupied the pulpit of Trinity Lutheran church, Hagerstown, for his father, the Rev. Jacob S. Simon, D. D. who was here Sunday, preaching at St. Paul's Lutheran church in the morning and First Methodist church in the evening.

Mrs. Adriel Grose has returned from Washington, D. C., where she attended a convention of beauticians, accompanied by Mrs. Adam Kaibach.

Mr. and Mrs. John Patterson, Akron, Ohio, came here Saturday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Earl McCleary Hill street, and other relatives. They are former residents.

James Pressman, West Main street, left today to spend the winter in Florida. He was accompanied by his sister, Miss Hazel Pressman, who has accepted a teaching position in a mission orphanage, Gulf of Mexico.

Mrs. Katherine Atkinson is a patient at Allegheny Hospital, Cumberland.

Oakland Plans Big Celebration

Fire Department Will Sponsor Parade and Other Events

Oakland, Oct. 22.—The resumption of a mammoth Halloween celebration here sponsored by the Oakland Fire Department, with the awarding of a number of prizes to participants, was announced yesterday by Emory Bolden, a member of the committee in charge.

Last year the celebration did not attract much attention, and comparatively few took part in the parade as no special plans had been made for the affair and no prizes were offered.

This year Mr. Bolden said that quite a few prizes would be solicited for distribution on the evening of Tuesday, October 31.

The parade will form as usual on Oak street and will follow the route heretofore used through town, disbanding on Second street which will be roped off for the occasion. The parade is scheduled to get under way by 7 o'clock. There will also be a Halloween dance at the Manhattan hall, beginning at 9 o'clock.

Sale of Wild Game In 1892 Recalled

When William M. Harvey Kitzmiller, was in Oakland this week he was exhibiting a memoranda showing sales of wild game he made during the month of November and December, 1892, to M. V. Smith, Baltimore. That was in the days when game was plentiful and there were no law restrictions.

The memoranda sets out that during those two months he sold four saddles of deer at twenty-seven cents per pound amounting to $61.56; 169 pheasants at $1 each; $169; ninety-two woodcock at seventy-five cents each, $69; forty-four wild turkeys at twelve cents per pound, $52.80. The total sales amounted to $362.92. Mr. Harvey was then, as he is now, a "mighty hunter."

Epworth League To Meet Wednesday

Tunnelton, W. Va., Oct. 22.—The Epworth League of the Tunnelton Methodist church will sponsor a church and school dinner at the church dining room Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock. Miss Nina Sherron, league president, will serve as toastmistress for the occasion and talks will be given by the Rev. Earle N. Carlson, Principal W. R. Shaw, County agent, Fred J. Reed, Paul W. Watson, county superintendent of schools.

Musical numbers will be presented by Mary Virginia and Betty Keck of the local high school; John Cole, Tunnelton music instructor, and B. D. Ward, county supervisor of music.

Tunnelton Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. John Shultz, Norfolk, Va., and Frank Coole, Gratton, spent Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Reeder.

F. K. Reeder was a visitor in Cumberland for a few days this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brown, Pruntytown, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Brown in the Walnut Hill section.

Terra Alta Stock Yards

Terra Alta, W. Va., Oct. 22.—The receipts of the last week were the largest of the year. Prices were firm to a shade higher on some grades.

Cattle, good 10.00 to 11.40, medium 7.50 to 9.50, common 4.10 to 7.25. Stocker calves 17.50 to 41.50 per head.

Hogs, Choice weights 7.10 to 7.50, light weights 6.40 to 7.55, heavy weights 6.20 to 7.30, sows 6.00 to 6.35, shoats 5.20 to 7.00 per head, pigs 2.00 to 2.50 per head.

Cows, medium to good 4.50 to 5.60, common and shelly 3.90 to 4.30. Milk cows 33.00 to 59.00 per head.

Steers, good 7.40 to 7.95, medium 6.30 to 6.70, common 4.20 to 5.50. Heifers good 6.65 to 7.80, medium and common 5.50 to 6.50. Stocker Cattle 20.00 to 42.50 per head.

Lambs, good 8.75 to 9.65, medium 7.00 to 8.45, common 4.00 to 6.50. Ewes 1.00 to 7.10 per head, bucks 3.75 to 15.00 per head.

Engineers Name O'Neale

Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 22 (AP) —Morgantown, Wheeling and Clarksburg had bids in today for the 1940 convention of the West Virginia Society of professional engineers.

The choice was left to the executive committee.

The society M. L. O'Neale of Charleston as president.

Unusual Incident

Fayetteville, W. Va., Oct. 22 (AP) — H. M. Miller was foreman of the Circuit court jury which returned a verdict in favor of H. M. Miller in damage suit.

Judge H. E. Dillon said the two Millers were not related.

Eleanor McConnell Becomes Bride of Edgar Murphy

Wedding Takes Place at Methodist Church in Lonaconing

Lonaconing, Oct. 22.—Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McConnell, Rockville district, announce the marriage of their daughter, Eleanor McConnell, to Edgar Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Murphy, Frostburg. The ceremony was performed last night at the Methodist church here, by the pastor the Rev. Lewis F. Ransom. The attendants were Miss Elizabeth Patterson, Lonaconing, and Okey Michaels, Westernport.

Miss Frances Hunter, accompanied by her sister, Elizabeth, sang "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly." Miss Doris Grove played the wedding marches. The church was decorated with fall flowers and cathedral candles, with an illuminated cross adding to the impressive setting.

The bride wore a slate blue ensemble and carried white chrysanthemums and pom poms, while the bridesmaid wore a wine ensemble and carried yellow chrysanthemums. A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony.

The couple will reside on Maryland avenue, Cumberland. Mr. Murphy is employed at the Martin meat market, Cumberland, and his bride was employed at the G. C. Murphy Company store there.

Improvements Made

The Brady hotel, Main street, recently purchased by Patrick Doolan from the Brady estate, one of the old landmarks of the city, is undergoing extensive improvements and is expected to be ready for occupancy soon, it was announced today.

The interior has been remodeled and newly furnished, additional bath facilities provided and a new heating plant installed together with other modern equipment usual to an up-to-date apartment hotel.

Contracts have been let for the complete renovation of the Maryland hotel owned by George Stern, Frostburg. This property has been the subject of court litigation recently and condemnation proceedings were instituted by the state insurance department on account of the hazardous condition of the property. The owner, it is understood, will remodel the building, provide necessary sanitary improvements and remove all hazardous condition.

Hallowe'en Party

The Sub-Deb Club held a Halloween masquerade party last night at the home of Virginia Grindle. Those attending were: Agnes Boyd, Virginia Bradley, Lavine Castle, Dorothy Rowan, Roberta Ritchie, Esther Ruth Stakem, Marie Stakem, Agnes Richmond, Elaine Orr, and Ethel Meese.

Bible Lectures Continue

Alfred E. Holst, Bible lecturer and singer, continues to give a series of illustrated lectures at the Bible Institute being held every night except Monday and Saturday, in the newly-decorated auditorium of the former Mystic Chain building, Front and Jackson streets.

Large crowds have been attending nightly. As the lecture progresses the Scriptures and illustrations used appear upon the screen. An illustrated song service precedes each lecture at 7:30 p. m.

Birthday Party

Miss Marilyn Foote, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie T. Foote, Waterliffe street, celebrated Halloween with a party on her birthday at the family home, Friday.

Those present were: Mary Winner, Elizabeth Winner, Veronica Winner, Norma Wells, DeSales Woods, Robert Ralston, Harold Walters, Leah Jo Dudley, Adrian Anderson, June Doolan, Anna Cook, Billy Wattenschmidt, Joseph Mills, Nelson Meese, Edna McFarlane, Shirley Foote, Ina Gardner, George Kelly, Shirley Williams, Thomas Bell and Billy Cuthbertson.

Brief Mention

John W. Jackson has returned from University hospital, Baltimore, where he took treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stoudy, Miss Audri Hapekamp, Wilmoth Garlick, Scott McMillan and John Warnick are visiting in Akron and Cleveland, Ohio. While there they attended the Notre Dame-Navy football game.

Mr. and Mrs. George Nicol announce the birth of a son Friday.

Mrs. James Emerick, Midland, has returned home from the Memorial hospital, Cumberland.

Jane Bradburn is home from Children's hospital, Baltimore.

Patsy Griffin, Midland, is confined to her home with a broken rib sustained in a fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dodds, Del-mold street, announce the birth of a daughter, Wednesday, Oct. 18.

Carol Meyers, Mary Woods and Lester Cameron are patients in Leves Clinic, Westernport.

Jack Blair, Midland, who was struck with a baseball recently and confined in the Memorial hospital, Cumberland, has returned home.

A card and games party for the benefit of St. Joseph's Catholic church, Midland, will be held Wednesday.

James Breathed Named President Of Kiwanis Club

Annual Election Is Held by Civic Organization at Petersburg

Petersburg, W. Va., Oct. 22.—The annual election of the Petersburg Kiwanis club was held last evening at the Hermitage Inn and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, James Breathed, vice-president, D. E. Cuppert, Jr.; directors, Dr. V. L. Dyer, J. M. K. Reid, J. W. Houshead, G. R. Ours, C. L. Suckler, E. G. Feaster and Dr. J. B. Grove.

Mr. Breathed is owner and operator of the Breathed Chevrolet garage here and succeeds B. F. Mitchell as president. Mr. Cuppert, prosecuting attorney of Grant county, succeeds James Breathed.

The Petersburg Kiwanis club was organized in October, 1937, and has been active since its organization. There are thirty-two members in the club.

Brief Mention

Mrs. Mary Good, Winchester, Va., who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. H. E. J. Oates, for the past five weeks has been confined to her bed and another daughter, Violet Lockhart, Gore, Va., is assisting in taking care of her. Mrs. Good is past eighty-one years of age.

Miss Preeda Lahman who spent the past week visiting her parents, has returned to Cumberland.

Mrs. Peter I. Garber is a patient in the Rockingham Memorial hospital, Harrisonburg, Va.

B. F. Mitchell, J. Justin Arnold and brother, Tim Davis, V. C. Ware and Hugh Allen will leave tomorrow for Solomons, Md., where they will spend several days deep sea fishing. Mrs. E. H. Coker who has been ill for the past three months,

Dog Keeps Watch over Child All Night in Mountains

Stray Mongrel Stands Guard Over Baby Girl

Twenty-Nine Month Old Beckley Girl Wandered Away from Home

Beckley, W. Va., Oct. 22 (AP) — Twenty-nine-month-old Margaret Ann Hovan was safe at home tonight while her parents blessed the day a stray dog came to their home. The child was lost overnight while state police, CCC enrollees and about forty citizens searched for her in a rough, mountainous area.

Bill Hamilton, 9, investigated cries he heard early today and found the missing Margaret Ann in a ravine near his home in the Price Hill section.

Hamilton said the dog, which he described as a mongrel, stood impassively by the child's side when he saw her first about 9 a. m., but that when he approached the dog lunged at him.

The boy said he beat the dog back but that in the tussle Margaret Ann's coat was torn off. He hurried away with the child, leaving the coat on the ground.

Two hours after the boy reached the Hovan home three miles away with his charge, the dog appeared dragging the coat.

Mike Hovan, the father, declared the dog probably kept the child safe during the night.

The dog came to the house two months ago as a stray. Hovan said it had developed a fondness for the small girl.

Child and dog wandered away together last night.

Doctors said the girl needed nothing more than a good rest after her rescue.

Manuel Is Given For Baseball Team At Mt. Savage

Manuel, Oct. 22.—The members and guests of the Mt. Savage baseball team were entertained with a banquet, last night in the Junior High Hall, after which several speeches were given. Patrick A. Cannon, a leading citizen of the town, acted as master of ceremonies. J. L. Chapman and Howard Northcraft, president and secretary of the Wills Creek Valley League were among the speakers.

There will be a special meeting of the same hall, Friday night, October 27 to elect officers of the league and make plans for next year's season.

Brief Items

Duffy's Five and Ten Cent Store opened Friday morning to a large crowd. The fully equipped 5 & 10 is located in Mullane's store building and is under the management of Adolph J. Waitekunas, Westernport.

Mr. Waitekunas is in partnership with J. L. Shay who runs a similar store in Westernport.

The Catholic Daughters of America will meet Wednesday evening at 8 p. m. in St. Patrick's Hall to celebrate their nineteenth anniversary. Members and their friends are invited.

Dr. Brooke Rejects Presidency of P. & E. College

Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 22 (AP) — Francis J. Brooke, Jr., pastor of the First Memorial Presbyterian Church, said today he had declined the presidency of Davis-Elkins College in order to continue his ministry.

Brooke announced he had accepted the offer by telephone, saying he felt that his original call in the ministry was to preach as a pastor, and have no reason to feel that call has been changed.

Dr. Brooke has occupied his Charleston pulpit twelve years. He previously held pastorates at Wytheville, Va., and in Western Maryland. He had accepted the offer extended last week he would have accepted Dr. Charles E. Albert, resigned last month effective as a successor is named.

Albert became president after Dr. James E. Allen resigned in 1935 to become head of Marshall College.

Officers May Close W. Va. Hunting Season

Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 22 (AP) — Game officials met tonight to consider closing the week-long hunting season as 23 new forest lands developed and three whips of control.

Game Forester Dan B. Griffin said a dwelling and sawmill were destroyed in McDowell county as the separate fires there spread to a total 1,000 acres.

Griffin reported winds of approximately thirty-five-mile-an-hour velocity whipped the flames. Unless the winds die down, he said, the fire cannot be brought under control before morning at the earliest.

The three uncontrolled McDowell fires were as yet relatively small with the largest now 500 acres burning into the Bishop area across the Virginia line.

Griffin said, and 400 men on the fire lines there.

PRETTIEST OF SUMMER

Hazel Hanley
They gave that title and a cup to Miss Hazel Hanley, 16, of Washington, after voting her the lowliest visitor at North Beach this season. Besides being lovely, Miss Hanley swims, plays basketball and softball. She's a student at Holy Name academy.

J. D. Close Fined $25 and Costs

St. George Man Is Charged with Driving While Intoxicated

PARSONS, W. Va., Oct. 22.—State and county officers report the arrest of J. D. "Jake" Close, lumberman, St. George, on a charge of driving a car while intoxicated. He was arrested by State Trooper C. G. Hamrick and Sheriff Stark Coberly after allegedly striking a parked car in this city. He was arraigned before Magistrate Andrew Hendrick who fined him $25 and costs. The car could not be impounded, the officers said, because it belonged to a garage in Maryland.

Vannoy-Dugan

Announcement has been made of the recent marriage of Miss Margaret Jackson Dugan, daughter of Leo M. Dugan, Atlantic City, and Mrs. Teresa R. Dugan, this city, to A. Kenneth Vannoy, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Vannoy, East Parsons. The marriage took place August 1 in Winchester, Va., by the Rev. Herman McKay, Methodist minister. Both are graduates of the Parsons high school. The bride also is a graduate of West Virginia Business College, Fairmont. She is employed by the National Youth Administration here. Mr. Vannoy spent four years in the navy and is at present employed by the Western Maryland railroad.

PTA To Meet

The Parsons Parent-Teacher Association will hold its first meeting of the present school year Thursday evening at 7:30 in the graded school auditorium, featuring a Court of Honor by the Boy Scouts. The annual autumn court of honor will be held by the Boy Scouts of Tucker county. In charge of Henry E. Katschke, scout executive for the area, of Fairmont. Badges and medals will be awarded the deserving scouts.

Parsons Personals

Recent visitors here with friends were Dr. H. R. Werner, Akron, O., and his brother, A. A. Werner, Los Angeles, Calif. The latter was in the mercantile business here forty years ago.

Blackwater Chapter D. A. R. met yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Lalah Scott where a program was given on "Our Possessions," in charge of Mrs. Alice Harman, Uniontown, Pa.

Dr. G. W. Smith, Canton, O., was a visitor here with his brother and sister, J. H. Smith and Mrs. Maggie Judy.

Mrs. Alice Miller, Mrs. Opal Garber and Mrs. Chester Bennett were Elkins visitors yesterday.

A radio show will be given Wednesday night in the graded school auditorium by a group of entertainers from station WBLK, Clarksburg, sponsored by the Men's Brotherhood of the First Street Methodist church. The group is known as the Dixie Serenaders and this is their first appearance in Tucker county.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hebb, Washington, D. C., are visiting with Mrs. Harvey Hebb and other relatives.

Married 57 Years

Huntington, W. Va., Oct. 22 (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rose, residents of suburban Guadalupe for seventy-five years, celebrated today their fifty-seventh wedding anniversary.

Water Shortage Near Frostburg Under Discussion

Supply at Wright's Crossing and Welsh Hill Is Inadequate

Frostburg, Oct. 22 — With the shortage of water at Wright's Crossing and Welsh Hill, suburbs of this city, becoming more serious daily, the mayor and city commissioners held a meeting Friday evening to consider a proposal made by Samuel T. Walker of the Frostburg Water Company to the effect that his company would be willing to turn over the consumers of the district to the city or to purchase water from the city water department. He suggested that a master meter be installed at the point where the city water would be turned into the mains of the Frostburg Water Company. After a lengthy discussion, the mayor and city commissioners decided not to sell water beyond the corporate limits until further conferences with the officials of the Frostburg Water Company.

According to residents of Wright's Crossing and Welsh Hill, who are consumers of the Frostburg Water Company, fifty-two families have been without water for three weeks and during that time all, excepting a few families with cisterns, have been securing water from the Hoffman water trough, Lion Spring, Frostburg neighbors and other distant sources.

City Commissioner Walter Powell reported to council that a number of persons in the Wright's Crossing and Welsh Hill districts are suffering from a skin disease, alleged to be caused from the lack of water. It was learned that the illness is a form of itch which may spread into an epidemic unless families are supplied with sufficient water to wash bed clothing and under clothing daily.

The residents of the stricken section held a mass meeting Friday evening at the Grahamtown school for the purpose of discussing the situation with officials of the Frostburg Water Company, but the water company was not represented at the meeting. A committee was appointed and instructed to take the matter up with the State Board of Health through County Health Officer, Dr. Joseph P. Franklin, Cumberland.

Residents of Grahamtown, who are also suffering from a shortage of water from the lines of the Frostburg Water Company, have been getting a limited supply in the lower sections of the village during the past week.

An informal reception for members and friends of Frostburg series, No. 1273, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will be held Tuesday evening, 8 o'clock, at the newly improved club rooms of the aerie, located on the second floor of the Eagle building, East Main street. The reception is planned to signalize the completion of improvements which have been underway for several months and on which over $2,000 have been spent.

The color scheme of the rooms is of cream, tan and rose-beige. The furnishings include a new bar of modernistic design, luxurious chrome chairs and divans, with Spanish leather upholstery, and tables to match. A curtain of heavy silk divides the ladies' lounge from the tap room. The furnishings are set off to splendid advantage by a modern indirect lighting system which is one of the features of the decorative scheme.

Eagles Plan Reception

Langley Is Rearrested

Williamson, W. Va., Oct. 22 (AP) — Liberty was short-lived for Harry Langley, declared innocent by a Mingo Circuit court jury of stealing $50 from Ted Morgan, a grocery clerk.

Judge Charles W. Ferguson promptly ordered Langley's rearrest on charges he assaulted Morgan, and the defendant was returned to jail where he has spent the last 102 days.

Snakes Get Chummy

Beckley, W. Va., Oct. 22 (AP) — It wasn't enough when Mrs. Dave Meades of Salt Sulphur found a Copperhead snake coiled in a drawer of her sewing machine.

Two days later she found another sunning himself on a table by a window.

H. B. Lee, Miss Clara Lee, Miss Sabilla Lee and Roy Hunter, Sharpville, Pa.; Walter Neal, College Park; Frances L. Cook and Thomas Elias, Jr., Westminster; John W. Cook, Hagerstown; and Prof. Arthur Neal, Taneytown.

Frostburg Personals

Prof. Victor Bennett, a teacher at the University of Maryland, has returned after coming here to attend the funeral of the late William C. Cook.

George Wright, for many years a well known barber here, was stricken with paralysis Saturday at his home, Mill street, and is in a critical condition.

Joseph Richardson, former street supervisor of this city, is critically ill at Memorial Hospital, Cumberland.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hoban and son, Albert Grant, and John Vass, William Keith and William Duffy, Snook, Pa., spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Schneider, Maple street.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Presh, Miss Helen Taylor and Miss Evelyn Lloyd returned Sunday after spending several days with relatives in Akron, Ohio.

The Rev. Walter V. Simon, this city, occupied the pulpit of Trinity Lutheran church, Hagerstown, for his father, the Rev. Jacob S. Simon, D. D., who was here Sunday, preaching at St. Paul's Lutheran church in the morning and First Methodist church in the evening.

Mrs. Adriel Grose has returned from Washington, D. C., where she attended a convention of beauticians, accompanied by Mrs. Adam Kalbaugh.

Mr. and Mrs. John Patterson, Akron, Ohio, came here Saturday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Earl McCleary, Hill street, and other relatives. They are former residents.

James Pressman, West Main street, left today to spend the winter in Florida. He was accompanied by his sister, Miss Hazel Pressman, who has accepted a teaching position in a mission orphanage, Gulf of Mexico.

Mrs. Katherine Atkinson is a patient at Allegany Hospital, Cumberland.

Ben F. Davis and Son Charles Held after Family Row at New Creek

Keyser, W. Va., Oct. 22.—As the result of a family row near here yesterday, involving a father and two sons, at Kitzmiller, the father and one son were brought to the Mineral county jail, and the other son was taken to Potomac Valley Hospital.

The father, Ben F. Davis, 45, and Charles Davis, 28, were lodged in jail last night at 5 o'clock on charges of drunkenness and drunk driving, respectively. Wesley Davis was brought to the hospital for treatment after being found lying along the highway by police who said he was hurt in the fight.

State Police Trooper R. R. Karlockhoff and Sheriff Harley O. Staggers, answering a call from a New Creek roadhouse, found Wesley Davis lying along the "cut-off" road, which leaves New Creek Drive about four miles south of here to join route 50 at the top of Knobly mountain, at about 4:15 yesterday. The officers said today the injured man was lying about 200 yards up the mountain road from the New Creek intersection.

After arranging for the victim's transportation to the hospital, the officers set out in pursuit of the other pair, overtaking them just at the foot of Allegheny Front mountain, and brought them to jail here.

Today, hospital attaches said Davis was released this morning. His injuries were found to be "not very serious," they said.

The elder Davis and his other son are scheduled to face trial here tomorrow on charges of drunkenness and drunken driving.

Father and Son Are Placed in Jail at Keyser

Ben F. Davis and Son Charles Held after Family Row at New Creek

Keyser, W. Va., Oct. 22.—As the result of a family row near here yesterday, involving a father and two sons, at Kitzmiller, the father and one son were brought to the Mineral county jail, and the other son was taken to Potomac Valley Hospital.

The father, Ben F. Davis, 45, and Charles Davis, 28, were lodged in jail last night at 5 o'clock on charges of drunkenness and drunk driving, respectively. Wesley Davis was brought to the hospital for treatment after being found lying along the highway by police who said he was hurt in the fight.

State Police Trooper R. R. Karlockhoff and Sheriff Harley O. Staggers, answering a call from a New Creek roadhouse, found Wesley Davis lying along the "cut-off" road, which leaves New Creek Drive about four miles south of here to join route 50 at the top of Knobly mountain, at about 4:15 yesterday. The officers said today the injured man was lying about 200 yards up the mountain road from the New Creek intersection.

After arranging for the victim's transportation to the hospital, the officers set out in pursuit of the other pair, overtaking them just at the foot of Allegheny Front mountain, and brought them to jail here.

Today, hospital attaches said Davis was released this morning. His injuries were found to be "not very serious," they said.

The elder Davis and his other son are scheduled to face trial here tomorrow on charges of drunkenness and drunken driving.

Elliott Fined $20

Louis Elliott, Oakland, was fined $20 and costs by Justice of the Peace J. E. Aronhalt here yesterday, on a charge of hunting without a license. The Oakland man was arrested near his home by Game Protector Joe E. Hughes.

Langley Is Rearrested

Williamson, W. Va., Oct. 22 (AP) — Liberty was short-lived for Harry Langley, declared innocent by a Mingo Circuit court jury of stealing $50 from Ted Morgan, a grocery clerk.

Judge Charles W. Ferguson promptly ordered Langley's rearrest on charges he assaulted Morgan, and the defendant was returned to jail where he has spent the last 102 days.

Snakes Get Chummy

Beckley, W. Va., Oct. 22 (AP) — It wasn't enough when Mrs. Dave Meades of Salt Sulphur found a Copperhead snake coiled in a drawer of her sewing machine.

Two days later she found another sunning himself on a table by a window.

H. B. Lee, Miss Clara Lee, Miss Sabilla Lee and Roy Hunter, Sharpville, Pa.; Walter Neal, College Park; Frances L. Cook and Thomas Elias, Jr., Westminster; John W. Cook, Hagerstown; and Prof. Arthur Neal, Taneytown.

Frostburg Personals

Prof. Victor Bennett, a teacher at the University of Maryland, has returned after coming here to attend the funeral of the late William C. Cook.

George Wright, for many years a well known barber here, was stricken with paralysis Saturday at his home, Mill street, and is in a critical condition.

Joseph Richardson, former street supervisor of this city, is critically ill at Memorial Hospital, Cumberland.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hoban and son, Albert Grant, and John Vass, William Keith and William Duffy, Snook, Pa., spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Schneider, Maple street.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Presh, Miss Helen Taylor and Miss Evelyn Lloyd returned Sunday after spending several days with relatives in Akron, Ohio.

The Rev. Walter V. Simon, this city, occupied the pulpit of Trinity Lutheran church, Hagerstown, for his father, the Rev. Jacob S. Simon, D. D., who was here Sunday, preaching at St. Paul's Lutheran church in the morning and First Methodist church in the evening.

Mrs. Adriel Grose has returned from Washington, D. C., where she attended a convention of beauticians, accompanied by Mrs. Adam Kalbaugh.

Mr. and Mrs. John Patterson, Akron, Ohio, came here Saturday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Earl McCleary, Hill street, and other relatives. They are former residents.

James Pressman, West Main street, left today to spend the winter in Florida. He was accompanied by his sister, Miss Hazel Pressman, who has accepted a teaching position in a mission orphanage, Gulf of Mexico.

Mrs. Katherine Atkinson is a patient at Allegany Hospital, Cumberland.

Oakland Plans Big Celebration

Fire Department Will Sponsor Parade and Other Events

Oakland, Oct. 22.—The resumption of a mammoth Halloween celebration here sponsored by the Oakland Fire Department, with the awarding of a number of prizes to participants, was announced yesterday by Emory Bolden, a member of the committee in charge.

Last year the celebration did not attract much attention, and comparatively few took part in the parade as no special plans had been made for the affair and no prizes were offered.

This year Mr. Bolden said that quite a few prizes would be solicited for distribution on the evening of Tuesday, October 31.

The parade will form as usual on Oak street and will follow the route heretofore used through town, disbanding on Second street which will be roped off for the occasion. The parade is scheduled to get under way by 7 o'clock. There will also be a Halloween dance at the Manhattan hotel, beginning at 9 o'clock.

Sale of Wild Game In 1892 Recalled

When William M. Harvey Kitzmiller was in Oakland this week he was exhibiting a memoranda showing sales of wild game he made during the month of November and December, 1892, to M. V. Smith, Baltimore. That was in the days when game was plentiful and there were no law restrictions.

The memoranda sets out that during those two months he sold four saddles of deer at twenty-seven cents per pound amounting to $61.56; 169 pheasants at $1 each, $169; ninety-two woodcock at seventy-five cents each, $69; forty-four wild turkeys at twelve cents per pound, $52.80. The total sales amounted to $362.92. Mr. Harvey was then, as he is now, a "mighty hunter."

Epworth League To Meet Wednesday

Tunnelton, W. Va., Oct. 22.—The Epworth League of the Tunnelton Methodist church will sponsor a church and school dinner at the church dining room Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock. Miss Nina Sherron, league president, will serve as toastmistress for the occasion and talks will be given by the Rev. Earle N. Carlson, Principal V. R. Shaw, County agent, Fred J. Reed, Paul W. Watson, county superintendent of schools.

Musical numbers will be presented by Mary Virginia and Betty Keck of the local high school; John Cole, Tunnelton music instructor, and B. D. Ward, county supervisor of music.

Tunnelton Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. John Shultz, Norfolk, Va., and Frank Coole, Grafton, spent Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Reeder.

P. K. Reeder was a visitor in Cumberland for a few days this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brown, Pruntytown, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Brown in the Walnut Hill section.

Terra Alta Stock Yards

Terra Alta, W. Va., Oct. 22.—The receipts of the last week were the largest of the year. Prices were firm to a shade higher on some grades.

Calves, good 10.00 to 11.40, medium 7.50 to 9.50, common 4.10 to 7.25. Stocker calves 17.50 to 41.50 per head.

Hogs, Choice weights 7.10 to 7.50, light weights 6.40 to 7.55, heavy weights 6.20 to 7.30, sows 6.00 to 6.35, shoats 5.20 to 7.00 per head, pigs 2.05 to 2.50 per head.

Cows, medium to good 4.50 to 5.60, common and shelly 3.90 to 4.30. Milk cows 33.00 to 39.00 per head.

Steers, good 7.40 to 7.95, medium 6.20 to 6.70, common 4.20 to 5.50. Heifers good 6.85 to 7.80, medium and common 5.00 to 6.50. Stocker Cattle 20.00 to 42.50 per head.

Lambs, good 8.75 to 9.65, medium 7.00 to 8.45, common 4.00 to 6.50, ewes 1.00 to 7.10 per head, bucks 3.75 to 15.00 per head.

Engineers Name O'Neale

Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 22 (AP) — Morgantown, Wheeling and Clarksburg had bids in today for the 1940 convention of the West Virginia Society of professional engineers.

The choice was left to the executive committee.

The society M. L. O'Neale of Charleston as president.

Unusual Incident

Fayetteville, W. Va., Oct. 22 (AP) — H. M. Miller was foreman of the Circuit court jury which returned a verdict in favor of H. M. Miller in damage suit.

Judge H. E. Dillon said the two Millers were not related.

Eleanor McConnell Becomes Bride of Edgar Murphy

Wedding Takes Place at Methodist Church in Lonaconing

Lonaconing, Oct. 22.—Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McConnell, Rockville district, announce the marriage of their daughter, Eleanor Moses, to Edgar Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Murphy, Frostburg. The ceremony was performed last night at the Methodist church here, by the pastor, the Rev. Lewis F. Ransome. The attendants were Miss Elizabeth Patterson, Lonaconing, and Okey Michaels, Westernport.

Miss Frances Hunter, accompanied by her sister, Elizabeth, sang "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly." Miss Doris Grove played the wedding marches. The church was decorated with fall flowers and cathedral candles, with an illuminated cross adding to the impressive setting.

The bride wore a slate blue ensemble and carried white chrysanthemums and pom poms, while the bridesmaid wore a wine ensemble and carried yellow chrysanthemums. A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony.

The couple will reside on Maryland avenue, Cumberland. Mr. Murphy is employed at the Martin meat market, Cumberland, and his bride was employed at the G. C. Murphy Company store there.

Improvements Made

The Brady hotel, Main street, recently purchased by Patrick Doolan from the Brady estate, one of the old landmarks of the city, is undergoing extensive improvements and is expected to be ready for occupancy soon, it was announced today.

The interior has been remodeled and newly furnished, additional bath facilities provided and a new heating plant installed together with other modern equipment usual to an up-to-date apartment hotel.

Contracts have been let for the complete renovation of the Maryland hotel owned by George Stern, Frostburg. This property has been the subject of court litigation recently and condemnation proceedings were instituted by the state insurance department on account of the hazardous condition of the property. The owner, it is understood, will remodel the building, provide necessary sanitary improvements and remove all hazardous condition.

Hallowe'en Party

The Sub-Deb Club held a Halloween masquerade party last night at the home of Virginia Grindle. Those attending were: Agnes Boyd, Virginia Bradley, Lavine Castle, Dorothy Rowan, Roberta Ritchie, Esther Ruth Staken, Marie Staken, Agnes Richmond, Elaine Ort, and Ethel Meese.

Bible Lectures Continue

Alfred E. Holst, Bible lecturer and singer, continues to give a series of illustrated lectures at the Bible Institute being held every night except Monday and Saturday, in the newly-decorated auditorium of the former Mystic Club building, Front and Jackson streets.

Large crowds have been attending nightly. As the lecture progresses the Scriptures and illustrations used appear upon the screen. An illustrated song service precedes each lecture at 7:30 p. m.

Birthday Party

Miss Marilyn Foote, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie T. Foote, Waterliffe street, celebrated Halloween with a party on her birthday at the family home, Friday.

Those present were: Mary Winner, Elizabeth Winner, Veronica Winner, Norma Wells, DeSaes Woods, Robert Ralston, Harold Walters, Leah Jo Dudley, Adrian Anderson, John Doolan, Anna Cook, Billy Wattenchaid, Joseph Mills, Nelson Meese, Edna McFarlane, Shirley Foote, Ina Gardner, George Kelly, Shirley Williams, Thomas Bell and Billy Cuthbertson.

Brief Mention

John W. Jackson has returned from University Hospital, Baltimore, where he took treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stoudy, Miss Audrel Hapekamp, Wilmoth Garlitz, Scott McMillan and John Warnick are visiting in Akron and Cleveland, Ohio. While there they attended the Notre Dame-Navy football game.

Mr. and Mrs. George Nicol announce the birth of a son Friday. Mrs. James Emerick, Midland, has returned home from the Memorial hospital, Cumberland.

Jane Bradburn is home from Children's hospital, Baltimore.

Patsy Griffin, Midland, is confined to her home with a broken rib sustained in a fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dodds, Detmold street, announce the birth of a daughter, Wednesday, Oct. 18.

Social Events and Items of Interest for the Women

Miss Mary Elizabeth Markey, Former Local Girl, Is Married at Frederick

A wedding of much interest in this city was that of Miss Mary Elizabeth Markey, daughter of Brigadier General D. John Markey and the late Mrs. Markey, and James Harold Hooper, 117 Court street, Frederick, which took place at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon in Grace Evangelical and Reformed church in Frederick.

Gen. Markey gave his daughter in marriage. A small reception at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Judge and Mrs. Edward S. Delaplaine, College terrace, followed the ceremony.

Mrs. Hooper is well known in this city, having been dietitian at Memorial hospital for several years and prior to that time the bride and her father made frequent visits to this city.

Cumberlanders attending the wedding were: Miss Eleanor Capper, Edgar T. Dawson, Dr. Donald B. Groves, Mrs. Mary White, Miss Caroline Harden, Miss Catherine Gettle and Miss Caroline Fisher.

McClellan-Fazenbaker

Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore C. Fazenbaker, 312 Washington street, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Garnet E., to Harry C. McClellan, this city, Friday afternoon, with the Rev. Dr. Vernon N. Ridgeley, pastor of the Centre Street Methodist church, officiating.

The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Olive M. Rizer.

After a wedding trip through the south, the couple will live at 312 Washington street.

Circle Meets

The Business Women's Circle of the First Baptist church met Friday night at the home of Miss Helen Ricewick, 329 Independence street. The business session conducted by the president, Mrs. Frank Hiner, was followed by the lesson for the evening and the subject was "Tithing." Mrs. Lester Little was the reader and conducted an open discussion, assisted by Miss Annie Gunn, a visitor.

Those present were: Marie Williams, Elizabeth McCullough, Thelma Grayson, Helen Ricewick, Erna Nicodemus, Wilma Alderton, Gussie Miller, Edith Bobo, Mabel Matlock, Beatrice Shealy, Virginia Godwin, Alta Earl, Ruth Blacklin, Lean Humphries, Gladys Gannon, Goldie Little, Mrs. Edgar Matthews, and two visitors, Mrs. Laura Trenton and Miss Annie Gunn, of Toronto, Canada.

The next meeting, Nov. 17, will be with Mrs. Mabel Matlock, 517 Frederick street.

Costume Prizes

Prizes offered for the best costumes worn at the jamboree dance given Wednesday night at the

SALLY'S SALLIES

She says she can read him like a book—but there's a chapter or two she'd better skip.

Stunning "Wasp Waist" Dress

Marian Martin

PATTERN 9222

If you're looking for a dress with real "umph," stop right here at this Marian Martin newcomer, Pattern 9222. That long center panel streamlines your figure gloriously. Stitch on a wide, bright-colored girdle at either side and tie it in a bustle bow behind, or bring it forward in a gay knot. A narrow, back-tied sash that lets the slim, high-waisted seaming show in front is smart too. And wouldn't a self-fabric or contrasting collar, with a button-trim that may be repeated at the waist, be striking? You might prefer a becoming round neckline. Notice the back skirt fullness.

Pattern 9222 may be ordered only in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32. Size 16 requires 3 1/2 yards 39 inch fabric, 1 1/2 yards contrast for sash and 5 yard contrast for collar.

Send fifteen cents in coins for this Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your size, name, address, and style number.

Let Marian Martin's new winter pattern book show you the easy way to home dressmaking and a distinctive individual wardrobe. It's a style rendezvous for everyone, from tots to teens to brides to matrons and large-sized women. You'll find smart clothes for school year, for working, sporting, partying! And what pride you'll feel in making every stitch yourself! Hurry—write your order today! Book Fifteen cents. Pattern fifteen cents. Book and pattern together, twenty-five cents.

Send your order to The Cum-

Woodmen's hall by the members of Grove No. 11 of the Woodmen's Circle were awarded as follows:

For the best dressed guest, Fannie Flisinger, for the funniest couple, Onedda Wilson and Louraine Nickle, for the second funniest couple, Loretta Booth and Marie Marston, for the oldest, dress worn, Mary Catherine Nickle, and for the most original costume, Kate Smith.

Events in Brief

The Halloween party scheduled for this week by the Epworth League of Grace Methodist church has been postponed and will be held at 8 o'clock Friday evening at the church.

The Woman's Auxiliary of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, Washington street, will hold a luncheon at 12:30 o'clock Tuesday at Emmanuel Parson House, Washington street.

Barclay on Bridge

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

SHOW EQUAL LENGTH

WITH TWO five-card suits, such as Spades and Hearts, Hearts and Diamonds, or Diamonds and Clubs, your first bid should invariably be the higher ranking one. To show the lower ranking suit first and then the higher is to indicate that the lower one is longer and the higher, therefore, shorter. Most of the time such bidding proclaims only a four-card holding in the suit you bid second, and warns your partner not to risk a raise unless he has four cards himself.

9 8 7 6
A 8 6
4 3
A Q 8 4
K Q 5 4
J 10
A J 7 2
7 6 5 3 2
A
K Q 5 4 2
K Q 10 9 8
J 10

(Dealer, South, North-South vulnerable.)

Here is a rubber deal on which South saw fit to open with 1-Diamond because the suit was a little stronger than the hearts. Later he regretted his tactical error. North answered with 2-Clubs. Then East stuck in 2-Spades. South now realized that his original diamond bid had put him in an awkward situation. The best he could do was to bid 3-Hearts.

North realized the logic of this "reverse" bid as an almost absolute force, but could not find a sound way to answer. To raise what seemed like a four-card suit while holding only three hearts was not good. A diamond raise seemed out of the question, also a re-bid of the four-card club suit, and 3-No Trumps did not seem reasonable without a spade stopper. So he passed and a game was missed.

Tomorrow's Problem
A Q J 7 5 3 2
K 8 7
A 10 8 3
K 10 8 3
A 8
Q 10 6 2
K 8 5 4
A Q J 6
A K 10
A K 9 3
K 10 8 7
7 2
A 9 6 4
J 5 4
A J 9 2
9 5 4

(Dealer, East, East-West vulnerable.)

How should the bidding on this deal differ at rubber bridge and at duplicate?

(Submitted by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

street. A business meeting and program will follow the luncheon.

The Ladies' chorus of Saint Luke's Lutheran church, corner Bedford and Columbia streets, will present the farce, "Crazy to Reduce," at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening in the social hall of the church.

Rita Milenson, a music pupil of Mrs. Thomas P. Richards, Gephart drive, was on a program presented Saturday in Hagerstown at a board meeting and tea of the Maryland Federation of Music clubs.

Mrs. Patrick J. Hopkins, president, is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for a dinner meeting to be held at 7:30 o'clock this evening in the Golden Gate Tea room, South Center street, by the Alumnae association of Girls' Central Catholic high school.

Mrs. J. A. Gross, was honored with a surprise party by her daughter, Mrs. Lewis Leasure, Thursday night at their home, 131 Grand avenue for her eightieth birthday.

Members and friends of the Loyal Daughters' Bible class of Kingsley Methodist church were entertained Friday night at the camp of Mr. and Mrs. J. Minke, Milson's road, with Mrs. Harley Meseman and Mrs. Allan Wilkinson as assisting hostesses.

The Francis E. Willard Bible Class held a house-warming party Friday night at the home of Mrs. Ada Minnie, 727 Hilltop drive.

Mrs. G. C. Blake, 1300 Bedford road, honored her daughter, Dorothy Jean, Saturday afternoon with a party on her eleventh birthday.

The Virginia avenue school will hold a Halloween party October 26, at 7:30 p. m. at the school. There will be games, prizes and refreshments.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Walter O. Schleif, 411 Washington street, have returned from a visit in New York city.

Mrs. Porter D. Collins, 419 Washington street, has returned from Florida.

Mrs. Johnson Morgan, of Washington, D. C. is a guest at the home of W. M. Roberts, 415 Washington street.

Mrs. Herbert Dye, of Winona Lake, Ind., is visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Bowen, 209 Washington street.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris L. Nauman, of Hagerstown, have returned after spending the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. James C. Shriver, 417 Washington street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferman McFerran have returned to Clarksburg, W. Va., after being the guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George G. Young, 722 Washington street.

Bert A. Mason, Jr., has returned to his home in Cresap, after spending several weeks in Minneapolis and Sauk Centre, Minn.

Miss Ruth Lenore Rosenbaum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Rosenbaum, The Dingle, has returned from a two week's visit in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Coughenour, 632 Hill Top drive, have returned to their home, accompanied by their nephew, Harry White, from a visit to their daughter, Miss Mary Etta Coughenour, New York city.

James Mason, Race street, and Marvin Reel, 516 Prince George street, are visiting in Cleveland, O.

Winifred J. Daniels has returned to his home, 113 Grand avenue.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store, from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store,

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store,

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store,

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store,

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store,

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store,

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store,

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store,

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store,

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store,

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store,

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store,

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store,

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store,

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store,

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store,

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Use snap clothespins to hold curtains and drapes back while you are washing windows.

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store,

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store,

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store,

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store,

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store,

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store,

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store,

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store,

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store,

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store,

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store,

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

who is a patient at Allegheny hospital, is reported to be much improved.

John J. Boch, LaVale, has returned from a vacation in Florida. William Torkington, Jr., 618 Washington street, has been advanced to the senior class at the Peddie School, Hightstown, N. J.

Miss Reva Trenton who visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Trenton, 839 Gephart drive, has returned to Detroit.

Bruce Chestnut, Baltimore and Ohio conductor, 130 Grand avenue, who was injured September 29, is improving at Potomac Valley hospital, Keyser, W. Va.

Mrs. LeRoy Critchfield, Cleveland avenue, has as her guest, her niece, Miss Betty Mae Brown, Connelville, Pa.

Mrs. J. S. Cook, Mrs. E. W. Yates and Mrs. Charles Montgomery, delegates to the state convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, have returned from Bettendorf.

Harold W. Smith, secretary of the chamber of commerce, left yesterday for Chicago, where he will attend the annual meeting of the National Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Bachman, Nashville, Tenn., have returned from visiting Mr. Bachman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Karl D. Bachman, 426 North Centre

Social Events and Items of Interest for the Women

Miss Mary Elizabeth Markey, Former Local Girl, Is Married at Frederick

A wedding of much interest in this city was that of Miss Mary Elizabeth Markey, daughter of Brigadier General D. John Markey and the late Mrs. Markey, and James Harold Hooper, 117 Court street, Frederick, which took place at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon in Grace Evangelical and Reformed church in Frederick.

Gen. Markey gave his daughter in marriage. A small reception at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Judge and Mrs. Edward S. Delaplane, College terrace, followed the ceremony.

Mrs. Hooper is well known in this city, having been distillate at Memorial hospital for several years and prior to that time the bride and her father made frequent visits to this city.

Cumberlanders attending the wedding were: Miss Eleanor Capper, Edgar T. Dawson, Dr. Donald B. Groves, Mrs. Mary White, Miss Carrie Harden, Miss Catherine Gettle and Miss Caroline Fisher.

McClellan-Fazenbaker

Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore C. Fazenbaker, 312 Washington street, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Garnet E. to Harry C. McClellan, this city, Friday afternoon, by the Rev. Dr. Vernon N. Ridgely, pastor of the Centre Street Methodist church, officiating.

The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Olive M. Rizer.

After a wedding trip through the south, the couple will live at 312 Washington street.

Circle Meets
The Business Women's Circle of the First Baptist church met Friday night at the home of Miss Helen Ricewick, 329 Independence street. The business session conducted by the president, Mrs. Frank Hinz, was followed by the lesson for the evening and the subject was "Tithing." Mrs. Lester Little was the leader and conducted an open discussion, assisted by Miss Annie Gunn, a visitor.

Those present were: Marie Williams, Elizabeth McCullough, Thelma Grayson, Helen Ricewick, Erma Nicodemus, Wilma Alderton, Gustie Miller, Edith Bobo, Mabel Matlick, Beatrice Shealy, Virginia Godwin, Alta Earl, Ruth Blacklin, Lean Humphries, Gladys Gannon, Goldie Little, Mrs. Edgar Matthews, and two visitors, Mrs. Laura Trenton and Miss Annie Gunn, of Toronto, Canada.

The next meeting, Nov. 17, will be with Mrs. Mabel Matlick, 517 Frederick street.

Costume Prizes

Prizes offered for the best costumes worn at the jamboree dance given Wednesday night at the

SALLY'S SALLIES

She says she can read him like a book—but there's a chapter or two she'd better skip.

Stunning "Wasp Waist" Dress

Marian Martin

PATTERN 9222

If you're looking for a dress with real "umph," stop right here at this Marian Martin newcomer, Pattern 9222. That long center panel streamlines your figure gloriously. Stitch on a wide, bright-colored girdle at either side and tie it in a bustle bow behind, or bring it forward in a gay knot. A narrow, back-lying sash that lets the slim, high-waisted seaming show in front is smart, too. And wouldn't a self-fabric or contrasting collar, with a button-trim that may be repeated at the waist, be striking? You might prefer a becoming round neckline. Notice the back skirt fullness.

Pattern 9222 may be ordered only in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32. Size 16 requires 3 1/2 yards 39 inch fabric, 1 1/4 yards contrast for sash and 1/2 yard contrast for collar.

Send fifteen cents in coins for this Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your size, name, address and style number.

Let Marian Martin's new winter pattern book show you the easy way to home dressmaking and a distinctive individual wardrobe. It's a style rendezvous for everyone, from tots to teens— from brides to matrons and large-sized women. You'll find smart clothes for school year, for working, sporting, partying! And what price you'll feel in making every stitch yourself! Hurry—write your order today! Book fifteen cents, Pattern fifteen cents. Book and pattern together, twenty-five cents.

Send your order to The Cumberland News, Pattern Department, 232 8th St., New York, N. Y.

Woodmen's hall by the members of Grove No. 11 of the Woodmen's Circle were awarded as follows:

For the best dressed guest, Fannie Fiesinger, for the funniest couple, Onedda, Wilson and Lorraine Nickle, for the second funniest couple, Loretta Booth and Marie Marston, for the oldest dress worn, Mary Catherine Nickle, and for the most original costume, Kate Smith.

Events in Brief

The Halloween party scheduled for this week by the Epworth League of Grace Methodist church has been postponed and will be held at 8 o'clock Friday evening at the church.

The Woman's Auxiliary of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, Washington, will hold a luncheon at 12:30 o'clock Tuesday at Emmanuel Parish House, Washington.

Barclay on Bridge

By Shepard Barclay
"The Authority on Authorities"

SHOW EQUAL LENGTH

WITH TWO five-card suits, such as Spades and Hearts, Diamonds and Clubs, your first bid should invariably be the higher ranking one. To show the lower ranking suit first and then the higher is to indicate that the lower one is longer and the higher, therefore, shorter. Most of the time such bidding proclaims only a four-card holding in the suit you bid second, and warns your partner not to risk a raise unless he has four cards himself.

♠ 9 8 7 6
♥ A 8 6
♦ 4 2
♣ A Q 8 4
♠ J 10
♥ 10 9 7 3 2
♦ A J 7 2
♣ 7 6 3 2 2
♠ A
♥ K Q 5 4 2
♦ K Q 10 9 8
♣ J 10

(Dealer, South, North-South vulnerable.)

Here is a rubber deal on which South saw fit to open with 1-Diamond because the suit was a little stronger than the hearts. Later he regretted his tactical error. North answered with 2-Clubs. Then East stuck in 3-Spades. South now realized that his original diamond bid had put him in an awkward situation. The best he could do was to bid 3-Hearts.

North realized the logic of this "reverse" bid as an almost absolute force, but could not find a sound way to answer. To raise what seemed like a four-card suit while holding only three hearts was not good. A diamond raise seemed out of the question, also a re-bid of the four-card club suit, and 3-No Trumps did not seem reasonable without a spade stopper. So he passed and a game was missed.

♠ 9 8 7 6
♥ A 8 6
♦ 4 2
♣ A Q 8 4
♠ J 10
♥ 10 9 7 3 2
♦ A J 7 2
♣ 7 6 3 2 2
♠ A
♥ K Q 5 4 2
♦ K Q 10 9 8
♣ J 10

(Dealer, East, East-West vulnerable.)

How should the bidding on this deal differ at rubber bridge and at duplicate?

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

street. A business meeting and program will follow the luncheon.

The Ladies' chorus of Saint Luke's Lutheran church, corner Bedford and Columbia streets, will present the farce, "Crazy to Reduce," at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening in the social hall of the church.

Rita Millenson, a music pupil of Mrs. Thomas P. Richards, Gephardt drive, was on a program presented Saturday in Hagerstown at a board meeting and tea of the Maryland Federation of Music clubs.

Mrs. Patrick J. Hopkins, president, is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for a dinner meeting to be held at 7:30 o'clock this evening in the Golden Gate Tea room, South Centre street, by the Alumnae association of Girls' Central Catholic high school.

Mrs. J. A. Gross was honored with a surprise party by her daughter, Mrs. Lewis Leisure, Thursday night at their home, 131 Grand avenue for her eightieth birthday.

Members and friends of the Log Cabin Daughters' Bible class of Kingsley Methodist church were entertained Friday night at the camp of Mr. and Mrs. J. Minke, Millson's road, with Mrs. Harley Meesman and Mrs. Allan Wilkinson as assisting hostesses.

The Francis E. Willard Bible Class held a house-warming party Friday night at the home of Mrs. Ada Minnick, 727 Hilltop drive.

Mrs. G. C. Blake, 1300 Bedford road, honored her daughter, Dorothy Jean, Saturday afternoon with a party on her eleventh birthday.

The Virginia avenue school will hold a Halloween party October 26, at 7:30 p. m. at the school. There will be games, prizes and refreshments.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Walter O. Schleff, 411 Washington street, have returned from a visit in New York city.

Mrs. Porter D. Collins, 419 Washington street, has returned from Florida.

Mrs. Johnson Morgan, of Washington, D. C., is a guest at the home of W. M. Roberts, 415 Washington street.

Mrs. Herbert Dye, of Winona Lake, Ind., is visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Bowen, 209 Washington street.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris L. Nauman,

of Hagerstown, have returned after spending the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. James C. Shriver, 417 Washington street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferman McFerran have returned to Clarksburg, W. Va., after being the guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George G. Young, 722 Washington street.

Bert A. Mason, Jr., has returned to his home in Cresaptown, after spending several weeks in Minneapolis and Sauck Centre, Minn.

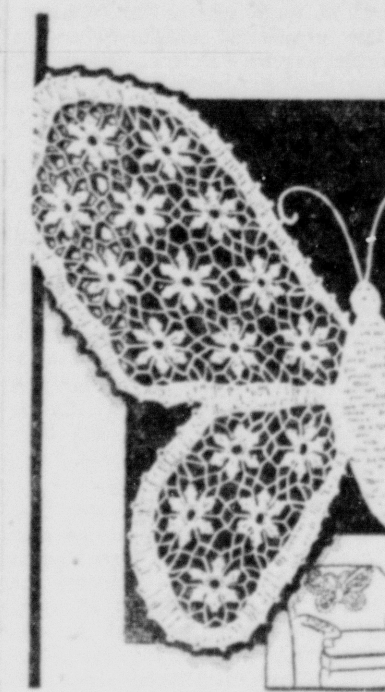

Miss Ruth Lenore Rosenbaum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Rosenbaum, The Dingle, has returned from a two week's visit in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Coughenour, 632 Hill Top drive, have returned to their home, accompanied by their nephew, Harry White, from a visit to their daughter, Miss Mary Elta Coughenour, New York city.

Mrs. Mason, Race street, and Marvin Reel, 516 Prince George street, are visiting in Cleveland, O.

Winifred J. Daniels has returned to his home, 113 Grand avenue.

Laura Wheeler Designs Chair Set Made One Medallion at a Time

CROCHETED CHAIR SET

PATTERN 2344

A Xmas gift that's different! Just repeat this easily memorized medallion and before you know it you'll have enough to make this Butterfly chair set. Pattern 2344 contains directions for making set; illustrations of it and stitches; materials required; photo of chair back.

Send ten cents in coin for this pattern to The Cumberland News, Needlecraft Dept., 82 Eighth Avenue, New York, N. Y. Write plainly pattern number, your name and address.

as she crossed the room and bent above the table.

"I'm not sure," she said at last, "but I think this is the one. I seem to remember that it had some blue enamel on it. We never used the thing, but I've seen it lying there on the desk ever since we first came to Hill House."

"Was it there last night?" Lancy leaned forward scanning her face with eager eyes.

"I'm positive it was. I wrote two letters at the desk last night, and I know I saw it then."

"Thank you, Mr. Barry, can you pick out the one which belongs in your cottage?"

Barry examined them closely, then shook his head negatively. "Sorry, sir, but I can't. I've noticed the thing lying there, but I never touched it but once."

"When was that?" Lancy snapped the question at him before Barry had scarcely spoken his last word.

"Why, I don't know exactly. I remember picking it up and twirling it around while I was talking to Orton once, but I don't remember when it was. Perhaps he can tell you."

"How about it, Orton?"

Bruce left his chair and walked to the table. "I remember Barry's handling the thing and I've seen it lying on the desk ever since I've been in the cottage, but I'm hanged if I can tell which one of the three it is. It might be anyone of them as far as I'm concerned."

"Can either of you remember when you saw it there last?"

Both failed to place an exact time when the knife was last seen, and Lancy turned to Josie.

"How do you open your letters, Miss Peake?"

Josie blushed. "Usually with a hairpin," she confessed.

"Not always?" queried Lancy gently.

"No, not always. Sometimes I haven't one in my hair. Then I use a knife or scissors, whichever is handiest."

"I see, and you, Miss Rutherford?"

"I tear off the end of the envelope with my fingers."

Rhoda, Coral and Chloe said the same. I was the only one who habitually used a paper cutter. "If," I said farther while I was talking to open at one time, you'd use a cutter, too."

With the men a key was the favored article. And that line of questioning died right there.

The next move was a surprise to me. Fingerprints!

"And now," said Captain Lancy, when the messiness was over, "I want to know where each one of you was last night between nine-thirty and five minutes of ten."

"Miss Peake, Miss Dutton and Miss Gordon were together during the entire 25 minutes. Mr. Abbott and Dr. Peake together during a part of the time, and Mr. Abbott was with the three girls on the terrace when the scream sounded. His eyes rested on Paul's face. I saw Rutherford, where were you during that time?"

Wife Preservers

Use snap cloths to hold curtains and drapes back while you are washing windows.

from Richmond, Va., where he attended the annual Virginia conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Ethel Snyder, Greene street, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Veronica Cowden, 113 North Paw Paw way, and Mrs. George Alderfer, San Diego, Calif., are visiting in New York city and the New England states.

Lawrence F. Flynn, manager of the G. C. Murphy Company store, who is a patient at Allegany hospital, is reported to be much improved.

John J. Boch, LaVale, has returned from a vacation in Florida. William Torkington, Jr., 618 Washington street, has been advanced to the senior class at the Peddie School, Hightstown, N. J.

Miss Reva Trenton who visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Trenton, 839 Gephardt drive, has returned to Detroit.

Bruce Chestnut, Baltimore and Ohio conductor, 130 Grand avenue, who was injured September 29, is improving at Potomac Valley hospital, Keyser, W. Va.

Mrs. Lefty Critchfield, Cleveland avenue, has as her guest, her niece, Miss Betty Mae Brown, Connelville, Pa.

Mrs. J. S. Cook, Mrs. E. W. Yates and Mrs. Charles Montgomery delegates to the state convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, have returned from Betterton.

Harold W. Smith, secretary of the chamber of commerce, left yesterday for Chicago, where he will attend the annual meeting of the National Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Bachman, Nashville, Tenn., have returned from visiting Mr. Bachman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Karl D. Bachman, 426 North Centre street.

Mrs. Frank Stuart Roe, Mrs. Richard W. Trevas, Mrs. R. L. Critchfield, Mrs. Henry C. Swearingen, Mrs. S. Lisa Sykes and Mrs. Thomas Pickering, this city, board members of the Maryland Federation of Music Clubs, attended a board meeting of the federation Saturday in Hagerstown.

Mrs. Walter C. Capper has returned to her home, 502 Washington street, from New York city, where she attended the World's fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Rosenbaum, The Dingle, returned yesterday from New York city.

After attending the World's fair in New York city, Mrs. J. H. Holzhshu and daughter, Miss Marie Holzhshu, 417 Washington street, are home.

Mrs. F. Brooke Whiting, 632 Washington street, has returned from New York city.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

Why this grandfatherly point of view, when you're only 29 years of age? No one thinks ten years difference is a bar to a happy marriage, when the difference is in favor of the man. If it were the other way round and the lady were ten years your senior, you might question and hesitate. But even then, a wife a decade older than her husband has contributed to many a happy marriage.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

Home-Made Nail Beauty

By HELEN FOLLETT

IT WON'T DO to be too dependent on the services of Annabelle, the beautiful manicurist. There are times when it isn't convenient to toddle to the beauty works. Maybe Aunt Emily has zoomed in from the country and wants to talk family gossip. Or the neuritis is twanging on the same old strings and you and the electric pad are spending the day together. You might as well know how to put your pink shells in order anyhow.

After using the metal file, sweep under the nail eaves with the orange wood stick, remove the cutaneous fringes with an emery board. Then do your scouring, using hot soap suds and a brush. Scrub long enough to soften the cuticle. Dry the hands, touch each nail with cuticle cream or olive oil, lift the flesh lightly with the orange wood stick or cuticle knife. If you insist upon the knife, have it properly dulled and be careful. No wounds. Even the smallest one is a menace, invites infections.

Snip Off Hangnails

If you discover hangnails, snip them with the curved needle-point scissors, pointing the ends toward the nail eaves. Pass the white pencil under the eaves or, if you wish, you can use the orange wood stick which you must dip in peroxide. Form a neat, straight line.

So far, so good. Of course, you removed the old polish before you started the treatment; no need telling any girl to do that. Removing old polish and swishing on new is a minor occupation these days, especially for the home girls who hustle pots and pans and monkey around with dust cloths.

Into the soap suds again; don't

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

ALICE FROST... radio actress uses the buffer for nail health.

fail to have a thorough rinsing with clear water and a gentle drying. Get out the heavenly new polish, apply it with the camel's hair brush, placing the bristles of the nail base and sweeping upward.

Some girls have gone back to the prehistoric buffer, which has a stimulating effect upon the blood streams under the nails, keeps the nails from drying and breaking.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

me, and we get along well. T. P.

New Feature Is Booked for Blue Network Tonight

Deals with Thoughts of Young Americans on the War

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD,
Associated Press Radio Editor

New York, Oct. 22.—Youth and the headlines is a new WJZ-NBC feature to make its appearance on the Monday night schedule at 9:30. It professes to deal with what young Americans are thinking and doing about the possibility of war, neutrality and other problems now making the headlines. The programs in the form of discussion will come from various parts of the country. To start off young people in Boston and in Cincinnati will participate from their respective cities.

Mrs. Roosevelt Scheduled
Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt is scheduled for two Monday broadcasts. At 2:30 the WJZ-NBC from New York she will participate in a better parent-hood luncheon at which she is to receive an award. At 9:15 WJZ she is to address the convention of Girl Scouts of America at Philadelphia.

The Europe list—WEAF-NBC 8 A. M., 12:45 and 1 P. M.; WABC-CBS 8 A. M., 6:30, 8:55, 11 P. M.; WJZ-NBC 12 Noon; MBS 9:15 P. M. Some other selected items: WEAF-NBC—8 Lee Wiley with Tommy Riggs and Betty Lou; 8:30 Margaret Sparks, soprano, celebrating her birth anniversary.

Some Concerts
WABC-CBS—4 Curtis Concert, Frederick Vogelgesang, violinist; 8 Tony Martin and Andre Keetel-etz, Jerome Kern music; 9 Radio Theater, Fred MacMurray and Madeleine Carroll in "Invitation to Happiness".

WJZ-NBC—10:30 weekly session of the Radio Forum. The speaker is

Sen. Robert F. Wagner, of New York, on "National Health and National Defense."

An added speaker for WEAF-NBC at 1:30 is William Allen White, noted Emporia, Kan., editor, on "Thrill and Democracy."

The Radio Log

MONDAY, OCTOBER 23

Eastern Standard—Subtract One Hr. for DST, 2 Hrs. for MT.—P. M.
(Changes in programs as listed due to last-minute network corrections)

8:00—Gentleman of Jive—nbc-wjz
News—Dancing Music—nbc-wjz
News Broadcasting Period—nbc-wjz
Song and Organ Program—mbs-net
6:00—Edwin C. Hill—nbc-wjz
The Troubadours in Song—nbc-wjz
6:15—Malcolm Claire—nbc-wjz
Annette Hastings & Songs—nbc-wjz
Uncle Jonathans' Com.—nbc-wjz
Weber Concert Orchest.—mbs-net
6:30—Capt. Head Stamps—nbc-wjz
Gomez & Guitars—nbc-wjz
Ray Perkins and His Piano—nbc-wjz
H. V. Kallenborn Talks—nbc-wjz
6:45—Crawford Ensemble—nbc-wjz
Lowell Thomas news—nbc-wjz
Tom Mix repeat—nbc-wjz
European News Broadcast—nbc-wjz
The Johnson Family—wob-wol-only
7:00—Waring Time—nbc-wjz
Amos & Andy, Skit—nbc-wjz
Margaret Dougherty—nbc-wjz
Fulton Lewis, Jr.—Talks—mbs-net
7:15—"I Love a Mystery"—nbc-wjz
Lum & Abner Skit—nbc-wjz
Dancing Music Orchest.—mbs-net
7:30—Larry Clinton Or.—nbc-wjz
Rex Maripin & Orchest.—nbc-wjz
One of the Finest, Sketch—wjs-wjz
Ricardo and Violin—nbc-wjz
Hondas & Dogwood—nbc-wjz
The Aeolian Ensemble—nbc-wjz
7:45—Ross Jordan's Songs—nbc-wjz
Leon & Marlowe, Piano—nbc-wjz
8:00—Tommy Ricks, Betty—nbc-wjz
Sherlock Holmes, Dramatic—nbc-wjz
Cosmetists & T. Martin—nbc-wjz
Breathing Along—wob-wol-only
Dancing Music Orchest.—mbs-net
8:30—Wallenstein Orchest.—nbc-wjz
Hagen's True or False—nbc-wjz
Tom Howard, G. Shelton—nbc-wjz
Dancing Music Orchest.—mbs-net
The Lone Ranger's repeat—wob-wol-only
8:55—Elmer Davis News—nbc-wjz
Dancing Music Orchest.—nbc-wjz
De Mille's Radio Theater—nbc-wjz
Girl Scouts—nbc-wjz
9:15—Edwin Hill Talk—wob-wol-only
9:30—Alec Templeton Time—nbc-wjz
Youth Questions Headlines—nbc-wjz
Author's Author Program—nbc-wjz
10:00—Pasternack's Concert—nbc-wjz
European News & Dance—nbc-wjz
Guy Lombardo's Orchest.—nbc-wjz
Raymond G. Swing—wob-wol-only
10:15—Dance Music—nbc-wjz
10:30—Dance Music Or.—nbc-wjz
Larry Clinton repeat—nbc-wjz
CBS Concert Hall—nbc-wjz
"Blondie" in repeat—nbc-wjz
Weber Concert Orchest.—mbs-net
11:00—News—Dancing—nbc-wjz
Fred Waring's repeat—nbc-wjz
News—Dancing Music Or.—nbc-wjz
11:15—Dance & News to 1—nbc-wjz
Dance Or. & News to 2—nbc-wjz
Dancing Orchest.—nbc-wjz
11:30—J. Sullivan—nbc-wjz

OLIVER HARDY FEATURED IN "ZENOBIA"

Oliver Hardy and Harry Langdon try to figure out some universal problems during the course of "Zenobia," the new Hal Roach comedy which begins a run at the Maryland Theater today through United Artists release in conjunction with the personal appearance of George Hall and His Orchestra, featuring Dolly Dawn, song star.

Twelve Pennsylvania Farmers Will Take Part in Corn Husking Finals

Winner of State Contest Will Participate in National Event

By ALLAN CRIST

Harrisburg, Oct. 21 (AP)—Two dozen farmers who have proven that they're some shucks with a stand of corn are sharpening their knives and limbering their muscles for Pennsylvania's number one agricultural, harvest-time sports event.

The winners of sixteen county corn-husking contests across the state are all set for the trip to York and the state meet next Thursday, and the chance at cash prizes, a state championship, and an opportunity to vie later with the nation's best huskers at the national contest next month.

By special dispensation, the state contest officials made it possible for the winners in five Western Pennsylvania meets—in Westmoreland, Fayette, Greene, Beaver and Armstrong counties—to try for the finals of the state contest.

The Westerners worked with shucked corn, while Eastern counties specified standing corn. Only the first-place winners from the West will be permitted to enter the preliminaries against the runners-up from the Eastern counties. The seven best emerging from the preliminaries will be pitted against the eleven Eastern champions.

The Eastern meets were held in Juniata, Perry, Dauphin, York, Lancaster, Chester, Lebanon, Schuylkill, Berks, Lehigh and Northampton counties.

Yeager Defends Title

Stanley Yeager of York county declared his confident of beating them all to retain his state championship. He stood up under the first test by downing forty-four other contestants in the county meet, husking 2148 bushels in eighty minutes. None of the scores was up to par, said County Agent George G. Weber, because the recent drought damaged the corn.

Thirty-five-year-old Lester Baust of Lud's corner husked 1385 bushels to win the Chester county championship over twenty-seven others. Runner-up was Robert Jeffries, 24, of near Downingtown. James Raush of near Hershey topped Dauphin county's fifteen contestants with 1324 pounds to win the $15 county prize. Robert Jury of Millersburg was second-best.

Four years a contestant, Raymond Bruckner of Jefferson shucked some 1240 pounds to defeat the thirty-four other Greene county contestants.

Frank Hettinger of Womelsdorf and Paul Keeney of Rehrersburg emerged in that order from the Berks county meet.

A $15 prize and the Westmoreland county championship went to John Phillips of Pleasant unity. He husked 158 bushels to beat nine others.

D. J. Wagner of Spring Church was the Armstrong county winner. Win or lose, each of the eighteen finalists in the state meet will get at least $5 for his showing. The state champion will be awarded $25 and the runner-up $15, besides the trip to the national event.

Organizations

Mrs. Flora Black of Holland farm, near Garrett, founder of the first society of farm women in Somerset county, was presented with a silver vase at the society's twenty-fifth anniversary celebration.

The Cumberland County Agricultural Extension Association is holding the eleventh annual county dairy banquet in Bolling Springs Thursday night (Oct. 26).

Men and women will hold separate sessions at the Locomotion County Agricultural Extension Association's annual meeting in Williamsport Dec. 16.

Earl Groff of Strasburg was elected president of the Paradise unit

Theaters Today

George Hall and Band Features Dolly Dawn

George Hall, who has become the preferred dance-band-leader of millions of radio listeners during ten years of continuous broadcasting will conduct his celebrated orchestra in a special program of music on the stage of the Maryland Theatre today and tomorrow at four shows through arrangements with the Music Corporation of America. This engagement will make the first opportunity that many of George Hall's local admirers have had to see as well as hear their favorite maestro of the kilocycles in action.

Direct from the Hotel Taft and the Stanley Theatre, Pittsburgh, George Hall and his musical aggregation include in their local program many of the specialized arrangements that have won them acclaim on their daily, coast-to-coast broadcast.

Dolly Dawn, America's No. 1 song stylist is the featured vocalist along with her Dawn Patrol and The Georgians, male trio. On the screen will be the Hal Roach comedy hit "Zenobia," starring Oliver Hardy, Harry Langdon, Billie Burke, Alice Brady, James Ellison, Jean Parker, Stepin Fetchit and June Lang.

"The Mikado", World's Most Popular Show

Everything has changed since the horse and buggy age, except Gilbert and Sullivan.

The past 50 years have witnessed more changes than any similar period in world history. Transportation has gone from covered wagons to streamlined planes. Radio has replaced the parlor organ. Art, medicine, politics and economics have been revolutionized. The map of the world has refused to stay put for more than a few weeks at a time. But the ritual of producing Gilbert and Sullivan's musical shows has remained as changeless . . . and as charming . . . as the painted court etiquette on an old Chinese porcelain.

Their biggest hit, "The Mikado," now showing at the Liberty Theatre, is the most popular show of any kind ever written. It has played in all countries, save one, and been presented through every entertainment medium. It now makes its screen debut in a Technicolor production which Universal is releasing with Kenny Baker, Jean Colin, Martyn Green, John Barclay and Constance Willis in

LIBERTY NOW SHOWING

From silent pictures to sound pictures, and from sound pictures to this new screen magnificence! Nothing remotely comparable has ever been achieved in motion pictures before. Not these lilting, intoxicating melodies! Not this convulsive fun, witty satire! Not this color-drenched pageantry, these deep-hued vistas of breath-taking splendor! The brain-child that genius wrote to make men laugh, sing and dance . . . reaches you as its creators could only dream of presenting it!

By Arrangement with Rupert D'Oyly Carte
Universal Pictures Presents

GILBERT and SULLIVAN'S MIKADO

IN TECHNICOLOR

with KENNY BAKER, Jean Colin, the DOYLE CARTE CHORUS, and a Cast of Hundreds

Recorded by London Symphony Orchestra
Adapted, Conducted and Produced by GEOFFREY TOYE

Directed by VICTOR SCHERTZINGER

ADDED TREATS

LIFE BEGINS FOR ANDY PANDY

A Cartoon in Color

Stranger Than Fiction

Latest Pathe News

the principal roles. Yet in making this film in an ultra-modern medium, director Victor Schertzinger followed exactly the instructions laid down by W. S. Gilbert for the first show, performed in London on March 14, 1885. Perhaps that accounts for the fact that critics have compared it to the fantastic "Snow White."

Girl Revue Current Strand Stage Hit

The "Platinum Blonde Revue" headed by Sara Jane Battles' all-girl band, a bevy of golden haired beauties and six good vaudeville acts opened to a capacity house at the midnight show at the Strand last night and continues today and tomorrow. The stage show an hour long, is very entertaining and the picture "Should Husbands Work" starring the Gleason family is a panic of laughter from inception to climax.

Carolyn Lee, four-year-old child "find" from Wheeling, W. Va., appears in a featured role in Paramount's new romantic comedy, "Honey Moon in Bali," which opens Wednesday at the Strand Theater. The film co-stars Fred MacMurray, Madeleine Carroll and Allan Jones. Carolyn proved that she's a real trouper by working on twenty-four out of the forty-eight days required to film the picture. "Honey Moon in Bali" casts her as a wife who is left on Fred MacMurray's hands by an old friend, and who is used as ammunition by Fred in a terrific campaign to make Madeleine Carroll admit that even career women are women.

"The Wild Stallion", "Lady of the Tropics"

An exciting and absorbing story with a novel and touching human slant was revealed at the Embassy Theater yesterday with the premiere of Columbia's outdoor action drama, "Konga, the Wild Stallion." A skillful cast headed by Fred Stone, Rochelle Hudson and Richard Piske moves deftly through the tense and

STRAND TODAY TOMORROW STAGE IN PERSON

The PRIZE Girl-and Music Show of 1939
35 - People - 35

Sara Jane's All Girl Band
8 Vaudeville Acts
16 Stunning Blondes
Carload Scenery & Effects

ON THE SCREEN
"SHOULD HUSBANDS WORK"

With the Famous Funny Gleasons

STARTING WEDNESDAY

"You're coming back to Bali, baby . . . and you're coming back with me!"

Paramount presents
Fred MacMurray
Madeleine Carroll
Allan Jones
"HONEYMOON IN BALI"

with Akim Tamiroff
Hein Braderick-Doe Masson
Carolyn Lee
Directed by Edward H. Griffith

Also
BLOOD—STIRRING THRILLS!
HEART—WARMING LOVE!

"KONGA, THE WILD STALLION"

FRED STONE • ROCHELLE HUDSON • RICHARD FISKE
THE GRACE M. FISHER THEATRES

at the same time tender story and the film is made especially noteworthy because of the amazing performance of a magnificent horse in the title role.

"Konga" is a wild stallion found when a colt by a wise old horse-breeder. When "Konga" is full-grown his free spirit refuses to acknowledge such barriers as fences and the title role.

Packed with drama and romance under tropic skies, "Lady of the Tropics" opened yesterday at the Embassy Theater, providing screen entertainment of the must-see kind. With two stars of the calibre of Robert Taylor and the much talked-about Hedy Lamarr in the leads, this picture soars to new heights of film artistry.

Jack Benny Goes to Town in New Film

Jack Benny, who has amazed millions of Americans with his consistently high calibre of his good-natured fun on radio, stage and screen, really gets a chance to go to town in his latest screen offering! Never has Jack had co-stars like Dorothy Lamour and Edward Arnold! Never has he had a story so well-tailored for him as the one contrived by Morrie Ryskind for this new comedy with infuse, "Man About Town," which opened yesterday at the Garden Theater.

How tall was Abraham Lincoln? Did he use a single or a double-bladed axe to split those famous rails? How many stars were there in the American flag in his Springfield, Illinois, jockeying lawyer days? These were only a few of the hundreds of questions which the 20th Century-Fox property department hurled at Frances Richardson, head of the studio's research staff, while working on Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "Young Mr. Lincoln" now at the Garden Theater with Henry Fonda in the title role.

And Miss Richardson came right back at them with the right answers to wit: 1.—Six feet 4 inches. 2.—Both. 3.—Twenty-five.

Featured with Fonda in the cast are Alice Brady, Marjorie Weaver and Arleen Whelan.

In Hyde County, North Carolina, farm land is measured in hills of corn instead of acres. Roughly, an acre is equal to 2,760 hills of corn.

WHY USE A PARKING LOT OR CITY PARKING METERS?

Don't Take Chances With Your Expensive Car

YOU CAN PARK AT

KELSO GARAGE

FOR 5¢ PER HOUR

located in the heart of the business and theatre district

123 S. Liberty St.

THE GRACE M. FISHER THEATRES MARYLAND

• TODAY---TOMORROW •
APPEARING AT 1:45, 4, 7 and 9:15 p. m.

ON OUR STAGE IN PERSON

Direct From Stanley Theatre, Pittsburgh

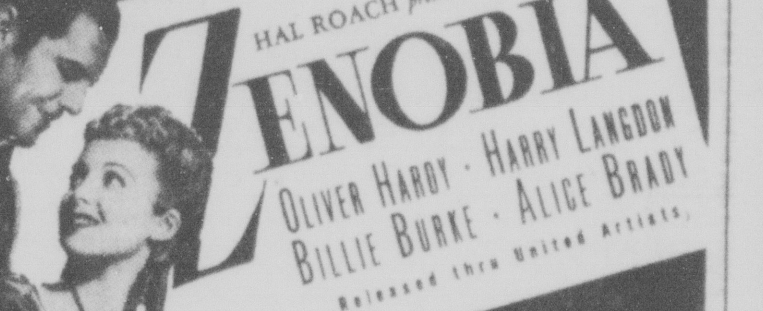

George Hall AND HIS ORCHESTRA

"THE DAWN PATROL" The Georgians (Male Trio)

• ON THE SCREEN •

Hardly A Lady . . . But Oh! What A Girl!

WITH JEAN PARKER — JAMES ELLISON — JUNE LANG STEPIN FETCHIT — HALL JOHNSON CHOIR

• STARTS WEDNESDAY •

NOW IT CAN BE TOLD!

WALLACE BEERY CHESTER MORRIS VIRGINIA GREY

IN "THUNDER AFLOAT"

EMBASSY TODAY AND TOMORROW 2 -- FEATURES EVERY DAY -- 2

Together AT LAST!
TAYLOR-LAMARR
LADY OF THE TROPICS

Also
BLOOD—STIRRING THRILLS!
HEART—WARMING LOVE!

"KONGA, THE WILD STALLION"

FRED STONE • ROCHELLE HUDSON • RICHARD FISKE
THE GRACE M. FISHER THEATRES

SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINTS

COVER THE EARTH

BUILDERS PAINT & SUPPLY CO.

211 N. Centre St. Phone 138

NEURITIS

Relieve Pain in few Minutes or Money Back

To relieve torturing pain of Rheumatism, Neuritis, Neuralgia or Lumbago in few minutes, get NURITO, the splendid formula, used by thousands. Dependable relief. Does the work quickly. Must relieve your pain, to your satisfaction, in few minutes or your money back. Ask your doctor or drugist today for NURITO on this guarantee.

LOANS

UP TO $300

AUTO LOANS
FURNITURE LOANS

INDUSTRIAL LOAN SOCIETY, INC.

Liberty Trust Building
3rd Floor Phone 97

GARDEN

OPEN TODAY

YOUNG MR. LINCOLN

BERRY TORDA

BENNY LAMOUR

ARNOLD

A Timely Reminder For You!

CASH & CARRY SPECIAL

Suits
Dresses
Cleaned and Pressed

CALL FOR AND DELIVERY 65¢

Cold weather is just around the corner. Better get your fall suits, coats and dresses ready for wear . . . you'll need them! Peter Pan will do the job perfectly . . . and with economy, too!

Peter Pan Cleaners

A Local Institution
Home Owned — Home Operated

158 N. Centre St. 536 N. Centre St.

Let The Cumberland Laundry Take care of

WASH DAY

Services To Suit All

ROUGH DRY
8 lbs. 69¢
Each Additional lb. 8¢

THRIFTY WASH
Monday and Tuesday
10 lbs. 69¢
Each Additional lb. 8¢
Wed. to Sat. per lb. 8¢

DAMP WASH
17 lbs. 60¢
Everything Returned Damp

SHIRTS
Finished out of washes, each 10¢
Less 10¢—Cash and Carry

Cumberland Laundry

22 N. Mechanic St., Phone 448

New Feature Is Booked for Blue Network Tonight

Deals with Thoughts of Young Americans on the War

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD,
Associated Press Radio Editor

New York, Oct. 22.—Youth and the headlines is a new WJZ-NBC feature to make its appearance on the Monday night schedule at 9:30. It professes to deal with what young Americans are thinking and doing about the possibility of war, news, quality and other problems now making the headlines. The program in the form of discussion will come from various parts of the country. To start off young people in Boston and in Cincinnati will participate from their respective cities.

Mrs. Roosevelt Scheduled
Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt is scheduled for two Monday broadcasts. At 2:30 WJZ-NBC from New York she will participate in a better parent-lunch program at which she is to receive an award. At 9 via MBS she will address the convention of the Girl Scouts of America at Philadelphia.

The Europe list—WEAF-NBC 8 A. M., 12:45 and 11 P. M.; WABC-NBC 8 A. M., 6:30, 8:55, 11 P. M.; WJZ-NBC 12 Noon; MBS 9-15 P. M. Some other selected items: WEAF-NBC—8 Lee Wiley with Tommy Riggs and Betty Lou; 8:30 Margaret Sparks, soprano, celebrating her birth anniversary.

Some Concerts
WABC-NBC—4 Curtis Concert, Frederick Vogelgesang, violinist; 8 Tony Martin and Andre Kostelanetz, Jerome Kern music; 9 Radio Theater, Fred MacMurray and Madeleine Carroll in "Invitation to Happiness."

WJZ-NBC—10:30 weekly session of the Radio Forum. The speaker is

Sen. Robert F. Wagner, of New York, on "National Health and National Defense."

An added speaker for WEAF-NBC at 1:30 is William Allen White, noted Emporia, Kan., editor, on "Thrift and Democracy."

The Radio Log

MONDAY, OCTOBER 23

Eastern Standard—Subtract One Hr. for CST, 2 hrs. for MT.—P. M. (Changes in programs as listed due to last-minute network corrections)

6:00—Gentlemen of Jive—nbc-wear News, Dancing Music Or.—nbc-wear News Broadcasting Period—nbc-wear News & Organ Program—nbc-wear 6:30—Edwin C. Hill—nbc-wear-bair The Troubadours in Song—nbc-wear 6:45—Malcolm Claire News—nbc-wear Annette Hastings & Songs—nbc-wear "Uncle Jonathan," Com.—nbc-wear 7:00—Capt. Healy Stamp—west only 7:10—Gomez & Guitars—nbc-red-chain 7:15—Parkinson and His Piano—nbc-wear 7:30—Kallenbach Talks—nbc-wear 7:45—Crawford Ensemble—nbc-wear 7:50—Thomas News—nbc-wear-bair Tom Mix repeat—nbc-blue-nbc-west European News Broadcast—nbc-wear 7:55—P. Waring Time—nbc-wear-only To Be Announced (15 m.)—nbc-wear 8:00—Amos & Andy, Skit—nbc-wear-east Margaret Dougherty—nbc-wear-west 8:15—"I Love a Mystery"—nbc-wear Science On March, Talk—nbc-wear 8:30—Lum & Abner Skit—nbc-wear-chain 8:35—Dancing Music Orchestra—nbc-wear 8:40—Larry Clinton Or.—nbc-wear-east 8:45—Maupin & Orchest.—nbc-wear-east One of the Finest, Skit—nbc-wear-east 8:50—Ricardo and Violin—nbc-blue-chain 9:00—Blondie & Dagwood—nbc-wear-east 9:05—The Aedon Ensem.—nbc-wear-east 9:10—Lone Ranger Drama—nbc-wear-east 9:15—Ross Jordan's Songs—nbc-wear 9:20—Lum & Abner, Play—nbc-wear 9:25—Sam Baller and Sports—nbc-wear 9:30—Tommy Riggs, Betty—nbc-wear Sherlock Holmes Drama—nbc-wear 9:35—Kostelanetz & T. Martin—nbc-wear 9:40—Dancing Music Orchest.—nbc-wear 9:45—Wallenstein Orchest.—nbc-wear 9:50—Hagen's True or False—nbc-wear 9:55—Tom Howard, G. Skelton—nbc-wear 10:00—Dancing Music Orchestra—nbc-wear 10:05—Lone Ranger's repeat—nbc-wear 10:10—Doctor "I. Q." Quiz—nbc-wear 10:15—Dancing Music Orchestra—nbc-wear 10:20—The Radio Theater—nbc-wear 10:25—The Girl Scouts Convention—nbc-wear 10:30—Edwin Hill Talk—nbc-wear-east 10:35—Alice Templeton—nbc-wear-east 10:40—Youth Questions Headlines—nbc-wear 10:45—Author's Program—nbc-wear 10:50—Pasternack's Concert—nbc-wear 10:55—European News & Dance—nbc-wear 11:00—Guy Lombardo Or.—nbc-wear-east 11:05—Raymond G. Swing—nbc-wear-east 11:10—Dance Music & News—nbc-wear 11:15—Dance Music Or.—nbc-wear-east 11:20—Larry Clinton repeat—nbc-wear-east 11:25—The National Radio Forum—nbc-wear 11:30—News, Dancing—nbc-wear-east 11:35—De Mille's Radio Theater—nbc-wear 11:40—"Blondie" in repeat—nbc-wear-east 11:45—Water Pagant of Melody—nbc-wear 11:50—News, Dancing—nbc-wear-east 11:55—Fred Waring's repeat—nbc-wear-east 12:00—Dancing Music Or.—nbc-wear-east 12:05—Edwin Hill Talk—nbc-wear-east 12:10—Amos & Andy rpt. (15 m.)—nbc-wear 12:15—Dance & News to 1—nbc-wear-east 12:20—Dance Or.—nbc-wear-east 12:25—Dancing Orchest.—nbc-wear-east 12:30—P. Sullivan's rpt.—nbc-wear-east

OLIVER HARDY FEATURED IN "ZENOBIA"

Oliver Hardy and Harry Langdon try to figure out some universal problems during the course of "Zenobia," the new Hal Roach comedy which begins a run at the Maryland Theater today through United Artists release in conjunction with the theatrical appearance of George Hall and His Orchestra, featuring Dolly Dawn, song star.

Twelve Pennsylvania Farmers Will Take Part in Corn Husking Finals

Winner of State Contest Will Participate in National Event

By ALLAN CRIST
Harrisburg, Oct. 21 (AP)—Two dozen farmers who have proven that they're some shucks with a stand of corn are sharpening their knives and limbering their muscles for Pennsylvania's number one agricultural, harvest-time sports event.

The winners of sixteen county corn-husking contests across the state are all set for the trip to York and the state meet next Thursday, and the chance at cash prizes, a state championship, and an opportunity to vie later with the nation's best huskers at the national contest next month.

By special dispensation, the state contest officials made it possible for the winners in five Western Pennsylvania meets—in Westmoreland, Fayette, Greene, Beaver and Armstrong counties—to try for the finals of the state contest.

The Westerners worked with shucked corn, while Eastern counties specified standing corn. Only the first-place winners from the West will be permitted to enter the preliminaries against the runners-up from the Eastern counties. The seven best emerging from the preliminaries will be pitted against the eleven Eastern champions.

The Eastern meets were held in Juniata, Perry, Dauphin, York, Lancaster, Chester, Lebanon, Schuylkill, Berks, Lehigh and Northampton counties.

Yeager Defends Title
Stanley Yeager of York county declared his confidence of beating them all to retain his state championship. He stood up under the first test by downing forty-four other contestants in the county meet, husking 2148 bushels in eighty minutes. None of the scores was up to par, said County Agent George G. Weber, because the recent drought damaged the corn.

Thirty-five-year-old Lester Baust of Lundy's corner husked 1385 bushels to win the Chester county championship, over twenty-seven others. Runner-up was Robert Jeffries, 24, of near Downingtown. James Raush of near Hershey topped Dauphin county's fifteen contestants, with 1324 pounds to win the $15 county prize. Robert Jury of Millersburg was second-best.

Four years a contestant, Raymond Bruckner of Jefferson shucked some 1240 pounds to defeat the thirty-four other Greene county contestants.

Frank Hetinger of Womelsdorf and Paul Keeney of Rehrersburg emerged in that order from the Berks county meet.

A $15 prize and the Westmoreland county championship went to John Phillips of Pleasant unity. He husked 158 bushels to beat nine others.

D. J. Wagner of Spring Church was the Armstrong county winner. Win or lose, each of the eighteen finalists in the state meet will get at least $5 for his showing. The state champion will be awarded $25 and the runner-up $15, besides the trip to the national event.

Organizations
Mrs. Flora Black of Holland farm, near Garrett, founder of the first society of farm women in Somerset county, was presented with a silver vase at the society's twenty-fifth anniversary celebration.

The Cumberland County Agricultural Extension Association is holding the eleventh annual county dairy banquet in Bolling Springs Thursday night (Oct. 26). Men and women will hold separate sessions at the Lycoming County Agricultural Extension Association's annual meeting in Williamsport Dec. 16.

Earl Groff of Strasburg was elected president of the Paradise unit of the Inter-State Milk Producers' Cooperative.

Members of the Indiana County Agricultural Extension Association will hold their annual dinner in Indiana Friday night (Oct. 27).

North Coventry Grange recently inducted eleven candidates into the third and fourth degrees.

Youth Activities
4-H Clubs will hold a roundup in conjunction with the Williamsport Kiwanis club banquet Friday (Oct. 27).

The Lancaster Kiwanis club recently was entertained by members of the Red Rose 4-H Baby Beef Club Hubersburg vocational agriculture classes took a field trip to Nittany gardens.

Seven members of the Lock Haven F. F. A. Club conducted the initiation ceremony for the new twenty-member chapter at Hubersburg.

One hundred and forty-three Vocational agriculture pupils of four York county schools made an inspection tour of four farms in the vicinity of Spring Grove, and heard government experts explain the value of soil conservation.

Around the Countryside
You'd think you were in the tropics, to see what grows in the Venango county oil region: papaya, fruit of the papaw tree, on the S. R. Parsons lease in "Peaceful Valley," on other fields are tobacco, in Siverly; and cotton at Reno.

Farmers were recent guests of the Eastern Fish and Game Association at a booster meeting. And the Mount Joy Rotary Club entertained committee chairman of the community farm show.

A field day will be held at Laumount farms, York county, Oct. 31 for turkey growers of York and nearby counties in Pennsylvania and Maryland.

Lions Clubs have chosen the Washington Township high school, near Waynesboro, as the site of the First Franklin - Fulton county "little farm show," Nov. 16 and 17. The Penn Central Livestock Market, Inc. of Hepburnville, is closing out its first year with sales reaching more than $350,000.

Corn trials, to determine the best varieties for the area, will be held on the Noah Hershey farm near Parkersburg on Friday, Oct. 27.

Southeastern Pennsylvania farmers calculate that more than 1,500,000 baskets of tomatoes were grown this year in Chester, Lancaster and Lebanon counties especially for a New Jersey cannery.

Let The Cumberland Laundry Take care of

WASH DAY

Services To Suit All

ROUGH DRY
8 lbs. 69c
Each Additional lb. 8c

Linens, ironed, wearing clothes starched and dried.

THRIFTY WASH
Monday and Tuesday
10 lbs. 69c
Each Additional lb. 8c

Wed. to Sat. per lb. 6c
Linens, ironed, wearing clothes returned damp, just right to iron.

DAMP WASH
17 lbs. 60c
Everything Returned Damp

SHIRTS
Finished out of washes, each 10c
Less 10%—Cash and Carry

Cumberland Laundry
22 N. Mechanic St., Phone 440

Theaters Today

George Hall and Band Features Dolly Dawn

George Hall, who has become the preferred dance-band-leader of millions of radio listeners during ten years of continuous broadcasting will conduct his celebrated orchestra in a special program of music on the stage of the Maryland Theatre today and tomorrow at four shows through arrangements with the Music Corporation of America. This engagement will make the first opportunity that many of George Hall's local admirers have had to see as well as hear their favorite maestro of the kilocycles in action.

Direct from the Hotel Taft and the Stanley Theatre, Pittsburgh, George Hall and his musical aggregation include in their local program many of the specialized arrangements that have won them acclaim on their daily, coast-to-coast broadcast.

Dolly Dawn, America's No. 1 song stylist is the featured vocalist along with her Dawn Patrol and The Georgians, male trio. On the screen will be the Hal Roach comedy hit "Zenobia," starring Oliver Hardy, Harry Langdon, Billie Burke, Alice Brady, James Ellison, Jean Parker, Stepin Fetchit and June Lang.

"The Mikado", World's Most Popular Show

Everything has changed since the horse and buggy age, except Gilbert and Sullivan.

The past 50 years have witnessed more changes than any similar period in world history. Transportation has gone from covered wagons to streamlined planes. Radio has replaced the parlor organ. Art, medicine, politics and economics have been revolutionized. The map of the world has refused to stay put for more than a few weeks at a time. But the ritual of producing Gilbert and Sullivan's musical shows has remained as changeless . . . and as charming . . . as the painted court etiquette on an old Chinese porcelain.

Their biggest hit, "The Mikado," now showing at the Liberty Theatre, is the most popular show of any kind ever written. It has played in all countries, save one, and been presented through every entertainment medium. It now makes its screen debut in a Technicolor production which Universal is releasing with Kenny Baker, Jean Colin, Martyn Green, John Barclay and Constance Willis in

LIBERTY

NOW SHOWING

From silent pictures to sound pictures, and from sound pictures to this . . . new screen magnificence! Nothing remotely comparable has ever been achieved in motion pictures before. Not these lilting, intoxicating melodies! Not this convulsive fun, witty satire! Not this color-drenched pageantry, these deep-hued vistas of breathtaking splendor! The brain-child that genius wrote to make man laugh, sing and dance . . . reaches you as its creators could only dream of presenting it!

By Arrangement with Robert D'Orly Carte
Universal Pictures Presents

GILBERT and SULLIVAN'S MIKADO

IN TECHNICOLOR

with KENNY BAKER, Jean Colin, the DOYLE CARTE CHORUS, and a Cast of Hundreds

Recorded by London Symphony Orchestra
Adapted, Condensed and Produced by GEOFFREY TOYE

Directed by VICTOR SCHWARTZINGER

ADDED TREATS
LIFE BEGINS FOR ANDY PANDY
A Cartoon In Color

Stranger Than Fiction

Latest Pathe News

the principal roles. Yet in making this film in an ultra-modern medium, director Victor Schwartzing followed exactly the instructions laid down by W. S. Gilbert for the first show, performed in London on March 14, 1885. Perhaps that accounts for the fact that critics have compared it to the fantastic "Snow White."

Girl Revue Current Strand Stage Hit

The "Platinum Blonde Revue" headed by Sara Jane Battles all-girl band, a bevy of golden haired beauties and six good vaudeville acts opened to a capacity house at the midnight show at the Strand last night and continues today and tomorrow. The stage show, an hour long, is very entertaining and the picture "Should Husbands Work" starring the Gleason family is a panic of laughter from inception to climax.

Carolyn Lee, four-year-old child "fud" from Wheeling, W. Va., appears in a featured role in Paramount's new romantic comedy, "Honeymoon in Bali," which opens Wednesday at the Strand Theater. The film co-stars Fred MacMurray, Madeleine Carroll and Allan Jones. Carolyn proved that she's a real trouper by working on twenty-four out of the forty-eight days required to film the picture. "Honeymoon in Bali" casts her as a wife who is left on Fred MacMurray's hands by an old friend, and who is used as ammunition by Fred in a terrific campaign to make Madeleine Carroll admit that even career women are women.

How tall was Abraham Lincoln? Did he use a single or a double-bladed axe to split those famous rails? How many stars were there in the American flag in his Springfield, Illinois, jockeying lawyer days? These were only a few of the hundreds of questions which the 20th Century-Fox property department hurried at Frances Richardson, head of the studio's research staff, while working on Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "Young Mr. Lincoln," now at the Garden Theater with Henry Fonda in the title role.

And Miss Richardson came right back at them with the right answers to wit: 1.—Six feet 4 inches. 2.—Both. 3.—Twenty-five.

Featured with Fonda in the cast are Alice Brady, Marjorie Weaver and Arleen Whelan.

In Hyde County, North Carolina, farm land is measured in hills of corn instead of acres. Roughly an acre is equal to 2,700 hills of corn.

Why use a parking lot or city parking meters? Don't take chances with your expensive car. YOU CAN PARK AT KESLO GARAGE FOR 5c PER HOUR

(located in the heart of the business and theatre district)
123 S. Liberty St.

THE GRACE M. FISHER THEATRES

MARYLAND

• TODAY---TOMORROW •
APPEARING AT 1:45, 4, 7 and 9:15 p. m.

ON OUR STAGE IN PERSON

Direct From Stanley Theatre, Pittsburgh

STRAND TODAY 7 & 9:15 p. m. TOMORROW

STAGE IN PERSON

The PRIZE Girl-and Music Show of 1939
35 - People - 35

LATINUM BLONDES REVUE

Sara Jane's All Girl Band
4 Vaudeville Acts
16 Stunning Blondes
Carload Scenery & Effects

ON THE SCREEN

"SHOULD HUSBANDS WORK"
With the Famous Funny Gleasons
STARTING WEDNESDAY

"You're coming back to Bali, baby . . . and you're coming back with me!"

Personal present: Fred MacMurray, Madeleine Carroll, Allan Jones

"HONEYMOON IN BALI"

Akim Tamiroff
Helen Broderick, Osa Massen, Carolyn Lee
Directed by Edward H. Griffith

WITH JEAN PARKER — JAMES ELLISON — JUNE LANG
STEPIN FETCHIT — HALL JOHNSON CHOIR

STARTS WEDNESDAY

NOW IT CAN BE TOLD!
WALLACE BEERY CHESTER MORRIS VIRGINIA GREY
IN MGM'S "THUNDER AFLOAT"

EMBASSY TODAY AND TOMORROW

2 -- FEATURES EVERY DAY -- 2

Together AT LAST! TAYLOR-LAMARR LADY OF THE TROPICS

Screen Play by Ben Hecht & Directed by Sam Zuckerman Produced by Sam Zuckerman

ALSO
BLOOD-STIRRING THRILLS! HEART-WARMING LOVE!
"KONGA, THE WILD STALLION"

FRED STONE • ROCHELLE HUDSON • RICHARD FISKE

THE GRACE M. FISHER THEATRES

SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINTS
COVER THE EARTH
BUILDER'S PAINT & SUPPLY CO.
221 N. Centre St. Phone 158

LOANS
UP TO $300
AUTO LOANS
FURNITURE LOANS
INDUSTRIAL LOAN SOCIETY, INC.
Liberty Trust Building
3rd Floor Phone 97

DOUBLE FEATURE
GARDEN OPEN TODAY
YOUNG MR. LINCOLN
BENNY FOND
BENNY LAMOUR ABOUT TOWN

A Timely Reminder For You!
CASH & CARRY SPECIAL
Men's Suits 60c
Ladies' Plain Dresses 65c
Cleaned and Pressed
CALL FOR AND DELIVERY 65c

Peter Pan Cleaners
A Local Institution
Home Owned — Home Operated
158 N. Centre St. 536 N. Centre St.

Eagles

Tennessee Heads for Second Perfect Year

Vols Rank High After Defeating Alabama 21 to 0

Pitt's 21-13 Defeat by Duquesne Rocks Grid-iron World

Oregon and Carnegie Tech also Victims of Upsets Saturday

New York, Oct. 22 (AP)—Tennessee's well-equipped Volunteers have moved into the place held open for them in college football's "upper crust" today after a week end in which Pittsburgh, the Army and the Navy, Carnegie Tech, Oregon, Baylor, Harvard and Kansas State were thrown for their first losses of the season.

With the exception of Pitt's 21-13 humbling by a wide-awake young Duquesne team, Gonzaga's 12-7 upset of Oregon and New York U's smartly won 6-0 decision over Carnegie Tech and Sam Houston Teachers' 9-8 defeat of Rice, the season's fourth major Saturday saw results follow the form chart as closely as a bloodhound on a fresh scent.

For impressive performance, Tennessee had to share the day's honors with a host of other ball clubs, notably Duquesne. Three sophomores accounted for all the Dukes' points after the Pitt regulars, who had helped win No. 1 national ranking for the Panthers in the Associated Press poll last week, had sprinted away to a 13-0 first period advantage.

"The game of the day" next Saturday should be the clash at Columbus between Ohio State and Cornell. The Buckeyes established themselves more firmly in the Big Ten's top flight with their 23-20 conquest of Minnesota, and Cornell's big red squad ran riot for a 47-0 score against previously unbeaten Penn State.

Irish Piled Up Yardage
In handling Minnesota the Gophers' first Big Ten licking on their home preserve since 1932, Ohio State scored all three touchdowns on passes and got the vital three points on a field goal. Michigan, another Big Ten choice, meanwhile kept in step by running up 85 points to none for Chicago, which now has given up 146 points in two games.

Two other mid-western powers also continued on the march. Notre Dame's long line of backs, operating behind clean-cut blocking, piled up 419 yards in beating back Navy, 14-7, while Oklahoma's Sooners opened defense of the Big Six (title with Beryl Clark leading the way to a 27-7 conquest of Kansas. Nebraska, winner by 20-0 over Baylor in an inter-sectional duel, thereby took rank as chief conference threat to Oklahoma, which now has given up 146 points in two games.

Right behind Cornell in the Ivy League stands Penn, which finally broke out some of its vaunted power and deception to top Harvard, 22-7, after the Crimson had opened the scoring.

North Carolina and Duke, Southern Conference co-favorites, also came up with sterling showings. A brilliant passing attack brought the Tarheels up from behind for a 14-14 tie with favored Tulane as both remained unbeaten, and Duke bounced back from its 14-13 defeat by Pitt to swamp Syracuse, 33-6.

Unbeaten and untied Kentucky stayed in the Southeastern Conference race with a 13-6 defeat of Georgia, and Mississippi kept its state clean with a 42-0 breeze past St. Louis University.

In the Southwest Conference Texas A. and M.'s attack revolving around big John Kimbrough, walloped Texas Christian, 20-6, to stay on top of the heap.

A woeful Army team lost to resourceful Yale, 20-15; a field goal and a touchdown gave Sam Houston Teachers its 9-8 victory over disappointing Rice, and a steady 61-yard march brought Manhattan a 7-0 score over Auburn in their surprises.

The day's comeback brigade was headed by Princeton, California, Boston College, Northwestern and Texas.

Princeton finally showed a running attack which, mixed well with aerials, downed Columbia, 14-7. California, after three straight defeats, beat Washington State, 13-7. Boston College sparked by Lou Montgomery, won over Temple by 19-0. Bill De Corvont looked good but another Northwestern sophomore, Don Clawson, put over the touchdowns that whipped Wisconsin, 13-7, and Texas Tech Crain broke away for a 61-yard payoff touchdown and kicked the extra point, all in the last minute, to edge out Arkansas, 14-13.

Among teams that have been beaten or tied but still are going strong were Holy Cross, 20-0 victor over Brown; Purdue, whose Mike Byelene was the star of a 20-7 defeat of Michigan State; Indiana, which gained its second Big Ten

From the PRESS BOX

Hartnett Faces Problem In Demand for Cub Purge

By JOHN LARDNER
Released by North American Newspaper Alliance
New York, Oct. 22.—When Mr. P. K. Wrigley demanded a shake-up, a housecleaning, a new deal, a sweeping reorganization among his Chicago Cubs, the dispatches say that Gabby Hartnett obliged him with what amounted to a revolution—he gave Jack Russell and Earl Whitehill their unconditional release.

This is like P. D. Roosevelt, in the face of a demand that he purge and shake up his administration, obtaining waivers on Elbert J. Roother, fourth assistant stenographer in the Alfalfa branch of the Department of Agriculture.

In other words, the Cub purge must be stopped before it extends to the batboy and the batting practice pitcher. Hartnett appears to have lost his head. Mr. Wrigley seems to be mad with power. Before you know it, the Cubs will swing a deal for a new groundskeeper, and the public will never recognize the ball club which took fourth place by storm this year, when third place seemed to be the best they could do.

Gabby Avoids Being Purged
Kidding to one side—port or starboard, take your choice—the purging of Whitehill and Russell, youngsters of 39 and 35 respectively, was really about the only purging Mr. Hartnett could manage on such short notice. Mr. Hartnett's instructions were "purge or be purged," and Gabby, looking hastily around him, purged the two fairly ancient mariners for the very practical reason that he didn't think they would be much use to him next year anyway.

Having averted a self-purge for the time being, and gained time to repair his ball club, Gabby will probably settle down to serious purging before many weeks have elapsed. Not only will he purge, but here and there he will take on help. The Cubs make no secret of the fact that the Wrigley pen is poised over the Wrigley check-book against the moment when Joseph Muscles Medwick, of St. Louis, becomes a member of the open market.

The Cubs also covet Big John Mize, Medwick's associate; but, unless he plans to disband his hopeful ball club and take up stoat-farming, Mr. Sam Braden, Cardinal president, will hardly peddle big John.

There's a theory in circulation that Mr. Braden and his henchman, Branch Rickey, feel they owe the Cubs something because they diddle Mr. Wrigley in the sale of Dizzy Dean two years ago. This is doubtful. For one thing, the Cardinal salesman did not unload the famous gift ($185,000) hoss upon Mr. Wrigley without giving him ample opportunity to study Dizzy's dental plate. Several Chicago specialists went over Diz from base to summit before recommending him as a buy.

Cubs Will Have To Pay
For another thing, Mr. Braden and Mr. Rickey are not sentimental enough to take a low bid for Medwick just because they feel sorry for Mr. Wrigley. The Cubs will have to give plenty in cash and ivory for Joe if they want him in Chicago rather than Brooklyn, New York, or Cincinnati.

Medwick would help the Cubs, but, frankly, they need more than that, and I don't doubt for a minute that Mr. Hartnett knows it. With Bill Lee passing much of his summer in the doldrums, the Cub pitching looked bad. Mr. Wrigley traded a brilliant prospect, Kirby Higbe, to get quick relief in the form of Claude Passeau. Passeau did just fair. Larry French and his manager were never chummy, and Clay Bryant came down with one of those charity-arms which may get well and may not.

That left all the pressure work on the shoulders of the old color-seigneur, Charlie Root, who keeps getting no younger year after year. In other words, the Cubs need pitching. They could use a solid shortstop. And, even with Medwick in left, their outfield falls short of the old Hooper-Speaker-Lewis standard, as whose doesn't?

This all constitutes a problem as old as trouble between managers and owners is old. A ball club, once strong, begins to crumble in spots, and replacements are not ready. The owner, misjudging the evidence, believes that all he needs is a little more hustle out there, a little more drive, some new faces, no matter who wears them.

The manager, knowing better, does not like to admit that he can't work miracles with what he's got. I think personally that Gabby will be guilty of a miracle if the Cubs win next year, even with Medwick. It's sad to see this great campaigner in such a spot.

But, as long as the world remembers that he was a great campaigner, why should Gabby worry? In his time, he's done enough good work for three guys.

Frostburg Booters Nip Salisbury 2-1
Towson, Oct. 22.—Frostburg State College's soccer team made its two-day road trip a complete success by following up a 13-0 victory over Blue Ridge on Friday with a 2-1 decision in two extra periods over Salisbury State Teachers College here Saturday.

LaSalle Loses to St. Francis 12-7 At Morgantown

Klosterman Scores Touchdown and D'Arcangeles Extra Point

Lady Luck played a big hand, although LaSalle High was outplayed, as it bowed to St. Francis High at Morgantown, W. Va., yesterday, 12 to 7. In fact, misfortune messed up the LaSalle team right at the start, when the ball on the opening kickoff struck LaSalle's right guard, Harden, on the shoe and bounded into the arms of G. Price.

In five plays, during which LaSalle suffered three straight off-side penalties, the ball rested on the three yard line. G. Price took it over from there before the game was three minutes under way.

Although pretty much on defensive, LaSalle staged what looked like a score-tying thrust in the ebbing minutes of the second half.

Cavanaugh intercepted a St. Francis pass on the LaSalle five and galloped 70 yards before he was forced out of bounds by Simmons, the only man between him and the goal. On an end around play the ball was advanced to the 19 but McGraw fumbled on the next play, St. Francis recovering.

Klosterman's First Play
The second Morgantown score came early in the final quarter when Perchinka intercepted a LaSalle pass on his own 40 to open another St. Francis drive. In six plays the ball was advanced to the one foot mark with Zizzi carrying it over. Again the home team failed to convert.

LaSalle went to the air in the ebbing minutes of the fray when two passes, Smith to Shaffer, clicked for six and eight yards. A penalty put the ball on the 30. Lawrence Klosterman, a third stringer, went into the game at this point and, with McGraw doing the throwing, Klosterman took the throw in tow and went over for the score. D'Arcangeles converted for the point.

Peretti featured for LaSalle throughout the game. LaSalle yielded 11 first downs while getting four, and gained only 38 yards from scrimmage to 155 by St. Francis. LaSalle made good on three of nine passes with two intercepted, while St. Francis failed to click on five. Cavanaugh intercepting one for his 70 yards run.

St. Francis was set back 55 yards on penalties and LaSalle 20.

Lineup and summary—

Pos.	LaSalle	St. Francis
LT	Speelman	Lakus
LG	Peretti	Tamaka
LC	LaManna	Calton
RT	Pair	Maupin
RG	Harden	Fisher
RE	Reese	Simmons
RB	Small	Simmons
QB	Smith	Belinsky
HB	Cavanaugh	Price
LB	Bug	Zizzi
PB	Boyle

Substitutions: LaSalle—Shaffer, D. Palmer, R. Palmer, Turano, Klosterman, McGraw, Ryan, D'Arcangeles, St. Francis—Perchinka, Strach, C. Price, Murphy, Bergden, J. Zizzi, Vecchio.

Touchdowns—G. Price and Zizzi (St. Francis). Klosterman (LaSalle). Point after touchdown—D'Arcangeles (LaSalle). Officials—Referee, Cudbank, umpire, Hornsby; head linesman, Conley.

Redskins Whip Pirates
Pittsburgh, Oct. 22 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates of the National Professional Football League threw a scare into the pennant-seeking Washington Redskins today before giving up their sixth straight defeat, 21-14 before a slim crowd of 8,602.

In an exciting finish the Pirates penetrated to the Washington 26 in a fourth period rally and sent Coley McDonough back to hurl a desperate, last-down aerial on the final play.

Right end George Platkus raced across the end zone to try for the catch that might have meant a tie, but the ball collided with a goal post and fell dead on the field as the final pistol sounded.

"And Then There Was One", Sums Up West Virginia Grid Situation
By DICK BOYD
Associated Press Staff Writer
"And then there was one," summarized the college football situation in West Virginia today after another disastrous week-end, but it might have been worse—Marshall, now alone in the undefeated rank, escaped by a hair.

Laidley Field, Charleston's pigskin park, was the scene of two marked upsets, the undefeated Morris-Harvey eleven being slapped down there by a much underrated Davis and Elkins eleven, 26 to 6, Friday night, while West Virginia University was plowed under on the same field Saturday by Washington and Lee, 9-0.

The Generals' victory over the Mountaineers was the first for the Virginians in 24 years, and there was no denying its decisiveness, despite the comparatively small score.

Marshall Has Close Call
Marshall won a close one, over the Dayton Flyers, at Dayton, pounding 70 yards to cross the goal line in the final minute after the score had been knotted at 13-13. The Herd had the advantage in statistics, however, and at one time led the Flyers, 13 to 0.

In other games in which state colleges figured, Wesleyan was battered into its fourth straight defeat by Catholic U. at Washington, 60

Rickey Says Medwick Will Play for Cards In 1940 World Series

Delaware, O., Oct. 22 (AP)—Branch Rickey, general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, came up today with two pertinent predictions on the 1940 National League situations. They were:

1—That the St. Louis Cardinals would win the pennant.

2—That Joe (Ducky) Medwick, Cardinal outfielder, would not be sold or traded, as indicated by recent rumors.

Rickey, here for the installation of Dr. Herbert J. Burgess as president of Ohio Wesleyan University, Rickey's alma mater, wrapped his predictions up in a single statement, thusly:

"Joe Medwick will be playing left field for the Cardinals in the 1940 world series."

Pennsylvania Host To Three Leading Elevens This Week
Ridgeley Eleven outplayed its Mineral county rival after an even first period. The Cathemmen, however, made two points in the initial heat when Albert Bean, guard, broke through to block Sites' kick for a safety.

With the ball on Keyser's 25, Carl DeRosa, aided by perfect blocking, got into the clear and ran to the end zone. Bill Spriggs' kick for point was wide.

Before the half whistle, Ridgeley had tallied again. Sites of Keyser booted the oval to the Ridgeley 20 and after making a first down on the 30, Robert Zimmerman went through the entire Keyser team for 70 yards and a six-point play. DeRosa plumped the point.

Ridgeley's other score came when Zimmerman recovered a Keyser fumble in the Tornado end zone in the third period. A pass, Zimmerman to Thompson, produced the point.

Keyser threatened several times but bogged down when in striking distance.

The lineups:

Pos.	RIDGELEY	KEYSER
LT	Carr	Burns
LG	Starter	Spencer
LC	Bean	Newhouse
RT	Thomas	Wolfe
RG	Murphy	Calton
RE	Spriggs	Brill
RB	Bennett	Treble
QB	DeRosa	Gallion
HB	L.H. Thompson	Rawlings
PB	Zimmerman	Smith
PB	Lookabough	Smith

Score by Periods

Period	1	2	3	4	Total
Ridgeley	0	0	12	0	12
Keyser	0	0	0	0	0

Touchdowns—DeRosa, Zimmerman 2. Points after touchdowns—DeRosa and Thompson.

Other attractive games on Saturday include: Gettysburg vs. Lafayette; Franklin-Marshall vs. Muhlenberg; Penna. Military College vs. Lebanon Valley; Upsala vs. Albright; Marshall vs. Scranton; Slippery Rock vs. Grove City; Washington College vs. Juniata; Susquehanna vs. Moravian; Westminster vs. Thiel; and Indiana vs. Mansfield.

Ursinus meets Army in what is regarded as a "breather" for the Cadets while Lehigh tangles with Rutgers at New Brunswick. Dickinson goes south for a tussle with Roanoke.

John Creagan Wins Golf Handicap Meet at CCC
A gross 80 with a 15 handicap for a net 65, was what it took to win the golf handicap tourney at the Cumberland Country Club this week-end, and John Creagan had it.

Creagan's net 65 showed the way for a field of performers who are crowding in the ebbing days of play at the local course.

Again Pro Carroll Boggs made the event doubly interesting by offering prizes for the best approach to all par three holes. The winners were: P. D. Collins, No. 1 hole; H. E. Martin, No. 6; J. W. Holmes, No. 10; R. E. Barnard, No. 12; B. H. McCrackin, No. 13, and George Werkmeister, No. 18.

Ridgeley Eleven Downs Keyser in Conference Bowl

Zimmerman Runs 70 Yards for Touchdown in 22-0 Triumph

Coach "Pete" Cather's Ridgeley High School gridmen made a successful debut in the Potomac Valley Conference Saturday afternoon on their home field where they handed Keyser High's defending champions a decisive 22-0 setback.

In ringing up their fourth consecutive victory, the Cathemmen again made all possible use of their flashy passing attack which they used to advantage in walloping LaSalle in their first game.

The Ridgeleyites made nine first downs to Keyser's four and amassed 180 yards by rushing and 64 on seven of 15 passes. The Golden Tornado picked up only 94 yards from scrimmage and connected four of 16 aerials for 59 more yards.

Scores on 70-Yard Run
Ridgeley easily outplayed its Mineral county rival after an even first period. The Cathemmen, however, made two points in the initial heat when Albert Bean, guard, broke through to block Sites' kick for a safety.

With the ball on Keyser's 25, Carl DeRosa, aided by perfect blocking, got into the clear and ran to the end zone. Bill Spriggs' kick for point was wide.

Before the half whistle, Ridgeley had tallied again. Sites of Keyser booted the oval to the Ridgeley 20 and after making a first down on the 30, Robert Zimmerman went through the entire Keyser team for 70 yards and a six-point play. DeRosa plumped the point.

Ridgeley's other score came when Zimmerman recovered a Keyser fumble in the Tornado end zone in the third period. A pass, Zimmerman to Thompson, produced the point.

Keyser threatened several times but bogged down when in striking distance.

The lineups:

Pos.	RIDGELEY	KEYSER
LT	Carr	Burns
LG	Starter	Spencer
LC	Bean	Newhouse
RT	Thomas	Wolfe
RG	Murphy	Calton
RE	Spriggs	Brill
RB	Bennett	Treble
QB	DeRosa	Gallion
HB	L.H. Thompson	Rawlings
PB	Zimmerman	Smith
PB	Lookabough	Smith

Score by Periods

Period	1	2	3	4	Total
Ridgeley	0	0	12	0	12
Keyser	0	0	0	0	0

Touchdowns—DeRosa, Zimmerman 2. Points after touchdowns—DeRosa and Thompson.

Other attractive games on Saturday include: Gettysburg vs. Lafayette; Franklin-Marshall vs. Muhlenberg; Penna. Military College vs. Lebanon Valley; Upsala vs. Albright; Marshall vs. Scranton; Slippery Rock vs. Grove City; Washington College vs. Juniata; Susquehanna vs. Moravian; Westminster vs. Thiel; and Indiana vs. Mansfield.

Ursinus meets Army in what is regarded as a "breather" for the Cadets while Lehigh tangles with Rutgers at New Brunswick. Dickinson goes south for a tussle with Roanoke.

John Creagan Wins Golf Handicap Meet at CCC
A gross 80 with a 15 handicap for a net 65, was what it took to win the golf handicap tourney at the Cumberland Country Club this week-end, and John Creagan had it.

Creagan's net 65 showed the way for a field of performers who are crowding in the ebbing days of play at the local course.

Again Pro Carroll Boggs made the event doubly interesting by offering prizes for the best approach to all par three holes. The winners were: P. D. Collins, No. 1 hole; H. E. Martin, No. 6; J. W. Holmes, No. 10; R. E. Barnard, No. 12; B. H. McCrackin, No. 13, and George Werkmeister, No. 18.

"And Then There Was One", Sums Up West Virginia Grid Situation
By DICK BOYD
Associated Press Staff Writer
"And then there was one," summarized the college football situation in West Virginia today after another disastrous week-end, but it might have been worse—Marshall, now alone in the undefeated rank, escaped by a hair.

Laidley Field, Charleston's pigskin park, was the scene of two marked upsets, the undefeated Morris-Harvey eleven being slapped down there by a much underrated Davis and Elkins eleven, 26 to 6, Friday night, while West Virginia University was plowed under on the same field Saturday by Washington and Lee, 9-0.

The Generals' victory over the Mountaineers was the first for the Virginians in 24 years, and there was no denying its decisiveness, despite the comparatively small score.

Marshall Has Close Call
Marshall won a close one, over the Dayton Flyers, at Dayton, pounding 70 yards to cross the goal line in the final minute after the score had been knotted at 13-13. The Herd had the advantage in statistics, however, and at one time led the Flyers, 13 to 0.

In other games in which state colleges figured, Wesleyan was battered into its fourth straight defeat by Catholic U. at Washington, 60

At the TRACKS

Sportsman Entries

FIRST RACE—Purse $700, claiming; 3-year-olds and up; five furlongs, out of chute.

Granger Time	116	xWoe Due	103
Last Emison	116	xWoe Due	103
Scottish Mary	119	Golden Due	103
Odd Star	113	Dr. Smith	111
High Santa	113	Shady King	111
Northwest	108	xKing June	108
Star	110	June Girl	110
Sea Shell	108	Tardy Jess	111
Humble Issue	110	Sis Lottie	108

SECOND RACE—Purse $700, maidens; 3-year-olds, seven furlongs, out of chute.

Tonnan	113	xJoseph A.	111
Prima Whisk	113	Osborne B.	111
Miss Gatewood	113	Blue Tint	111
Ona Girl	113	Erma Seve	111
Guinea Lad	116	Miss Reville	111
Alma Nugget	113	Cynical	111
Mothers Pet	113	xBaby Carolyn	108
Deep Dene	113	Sara	116

THIRD RACE—Purse $700, claiming; 3-year-olds and up; six and one-half furlongs.

Granger Time	116	xJoseph A.	111
Prima Whisk	113	Osborne B.	111
Miss Gatewood	113	Blue Tint	111
Ona Girl	113	Erma Seve	111
Guinea Lad	116	Miss Reville	111
Alma Nugget	113	Cynical	111
Mothers Pet	113	xBaby Carolyn	108
Deep Dene	113	Sara	116

FOURTH RACE—Purse $700, claiming; 3-year-olds and up; six and one-half furlongs.

Honey Seat	113	Domiano	111
Tepervine	116	Holiday Tea	110
Granger Time	116	Blue Tint	111
Happy Road	113	Little Hig	111
Born Lucky	113

FIFTH RACE—Purse $700, claiming; 3-year-olds and up; six and one-half furlongs.

Granger Time	116	Blue Tint	111
Happy Road	113	Little Hig	111
Born Lucky	113

SIXTH RACE—Purse $700, claiming; 3-year-olds and up; six and one-half furlongs.

Granger Time	116	Blue Tint	111
Happy Road	113	Little Hig	111
Born Lucky	113

SEVENTH RACE—Purse $700, claiming; 3-year-olds and up; six and one-half furlongs.

Granger Time	116	Blue Tint	111
Happy Road	113	Little Hig	111
Born Lucky	113

EIGHTH RACE—Purse $70

EVERYDAY MOVIES

By Denys Wortman

MOPEY DICK AND THE DUKE—"I think I could do a better job, Duke, if you'd take off your hat."

GRIN AND BEAR IT

By Lichty

"Remind me when it's 4:30—I promised to meet the wife at 2 and she'll be sore if I'm not there when she arrives!"

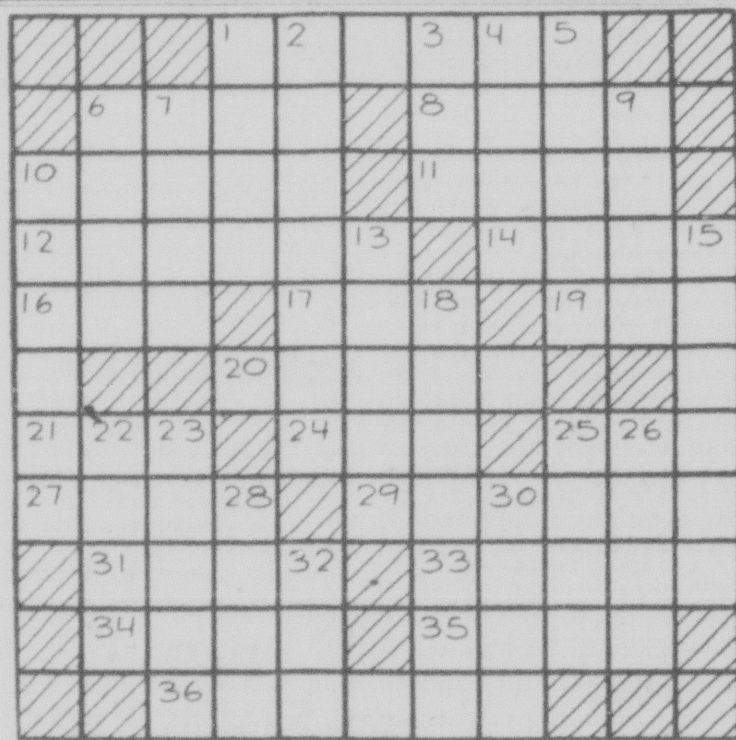

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Registered U. S. Patent Office

By STANLEY

ON THE BACK ROAD

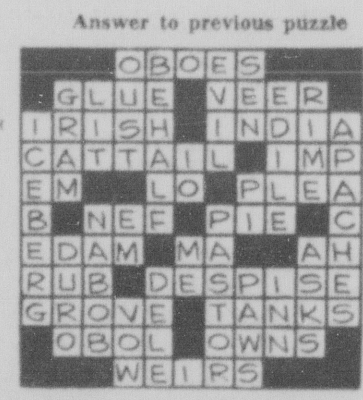

10-23

ACROSS

- 1 Wool coat of sheep
- 6 A region
- 8 Sea eagle
- 10 Despair
- 11 Disembark
- 12 Alter
- 14 Undeveloped flowers
- 16 Over (poetic)
- 17 Vase
- 19 Electrified particle
- 20 The Mohammedan bible
- 21 Suffix forming feminine nouns
- 24 Soak flax
- 25 Lofty mountain
- 27 Place
- 29 Town in Iowa
- 31 Pigeon
- 33 Prepared
- 34 Wisenmouth pitcher
- 35 Crooked
- 36 Growls

DOWN

- 1 Flowerless plant
- 2 Latitudes
- 3 Snakelike fish
- 4 Shellfish
- 5 Boredom
- 6 Dull pain
- 7 Bellow
- 9 Root of the taro

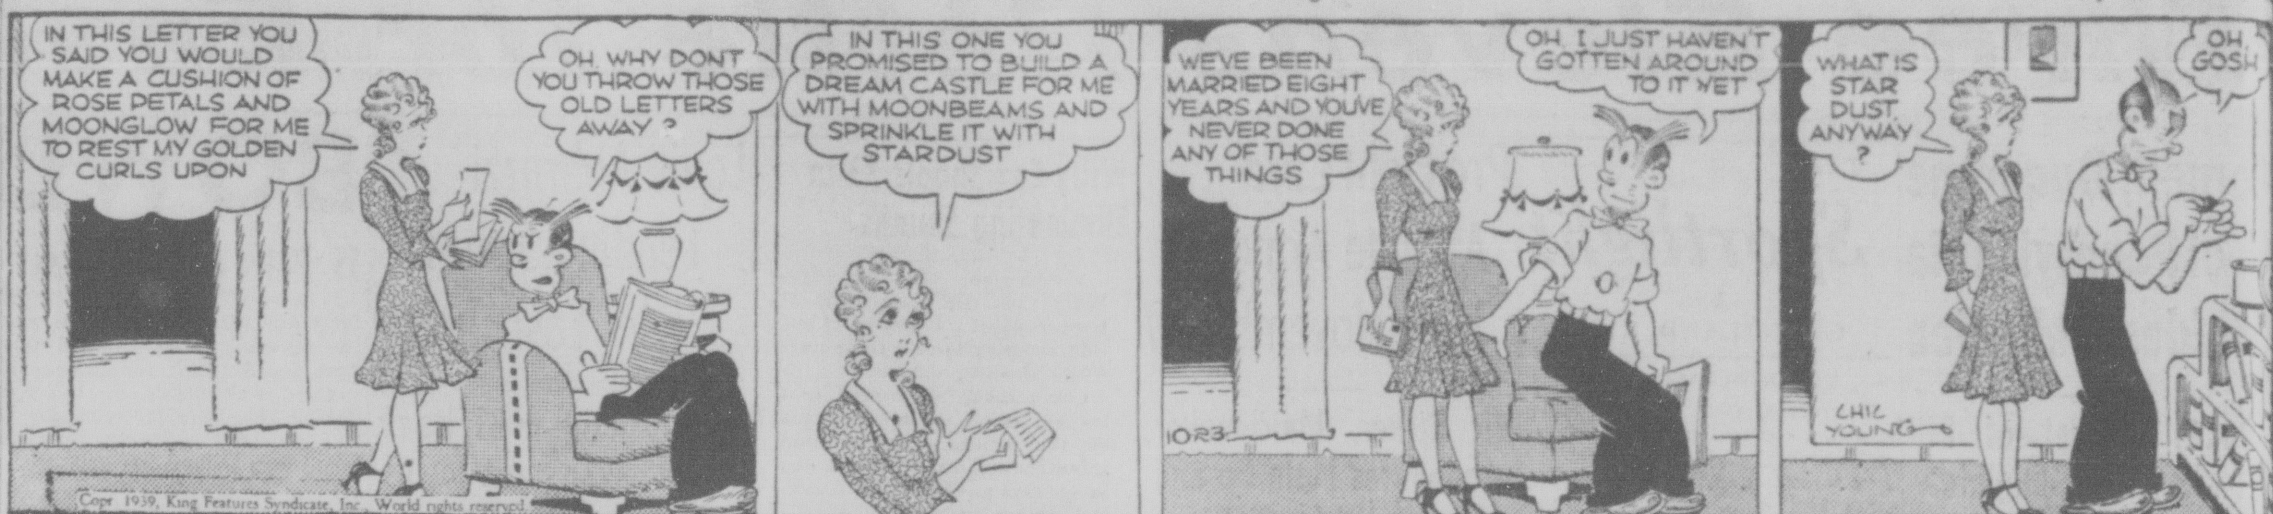

Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

BLONDIE

The Vacuum Cleaner Has a Bagful!

By CHIC YOUNG

BRICK BRADFORD—And the Metal Monster

Registered U. S. Patent Office

By WILLIAM RITT and CLARENCE GRAHAM

MUGGS AND SKEETER

By WALLY BISHOP

BIG SISTER

Registered U. S. Patent Office

By LES FORGRAVE

"BARNEY GOOGLE AND SNUFFY SMITH"

"Painting the Lily"

By BILLY DeBEVER

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

Suppressed Freedom of Speech.

By BRANDON WALLACE

TILLIE THE TOILER

Registered U. S. Patent Office

Mistaken Chivalry.

By WESTON

- Distributed by Kine Features Syndicate, Inc.

Pick Up A Car With Lots of "Pick Up" Under Classification 2

Words of Thanks

Take this means of expressing our appreciation to our friends and neighbors for the kindness extended to us during our recent bereavement. The death of our beloved wife and mother, Mrs. Anna Teter, was a great loss to our family. We wish to thank those who sent floral tributes and those who donated cars for the funeral. OPA H. TETER AND CHILDREN. 10-23-11-8

With thanks to our friends and neighbors for the kindness shown us in recent bereavement, the death of our mother, Mrs. Katherine Maier, we wish to thank those who sent floral tributes and those who donated cars for the funeral. H. MAIER AND CHILDREN. 10-23-11-8

Automotive

Pontiac coach delux, new tires $450.00 cash. Phone 2671-W. 10-23-11-8

OLDSMOBILE COACH, mechanically perfect, extras. Attractive offer. Apply 533 N. Centre St. 10-20-31-N

ED CARS, Hyndman Motor Co. 12-9-11-T

ED CARS at Cumberland's Low Prices. M. G. K. Motor Co. 2-26-11-T

EVYLER-PLYMOUTH, Oscar Wiley, George and Harrison St. Phone 1852. 7-30-11

OLDSMOBILE Sales and Service, Cloud Motor, Phone 14, Frost St. 2-16-11-T

PRIME QUALITY - At reasonable prices. Heiskell Motor Sales, Phone 79. Frostburg Ford Dealer. 7-9-11

See "Dave" or "Art" at RELIABLE MOTORS CO. For a Better Used Car

STEINLA MOTOR AND TRANSPORTATION COMPANY, INC. 1000 GRAHAM INTERNATIONAL. Phone 2556

WE PAY CASH FOR LATE MODEL USED CARS. ELCAR SALES. New Post Office. Phone 344

Taylor Motor Co. THE BEST IN USED CARS. OPEN EVENINGS. Phone 395

Lisan's Garage Distributor Dodge and Plymouth Cars

440 Buick Trade-Ins Thompson Buick CORPORATION. Phone 1476

etcher Motor Plymouth - DeSoto Centre Phone 280 Open Evenings

Eiler Chevrolet Inc. Mechanic St. Open evenings. Phone 143

SPOERL'S GARAGE, Inc. Since 1888. Phone 307

Frantz Oldsmobile Bedford St. PHONE 1994

ED CARS ST. GEORGE MOTOR CO.

Fort Cumberland Motors Packard Cars & White Trucks 361 Frederick St. Phone 2665

32 "B" Roadster Painted, this little four cylinder baby. Motor perfect, good tires, last word in economy. See your old car will probably be sold down payment.

RELIABLE MOTORS CO. Phone 104

UNBEATABLE VALUES For Your Money

Chevrolet Town Sedan...$145
Ford Coupe...$350
Chevrolet Sedan...$275
Chevrolet Town Sedan...$375
Plymouth Coupe...$475

FRUITS
Chevrolet 157" Chassis and...$195
Chevrolet 157" Chassis and...$345
Chevrolet 157" Chassis and...$425

er Chevrolet, Inc. Mechanic St. Phone 143 Open Evenings

SPECIAL 1939 Buick Roadmaster

ELCAR SALES Phone 344

SPECIAL 1939 DeSoto Deluxe Sedan

ELCAR SALES Phone 344

2—Automotive

Eye Appeal Plus Pocketbook Value

1939 Chevrolet Master Deluxe, 2 door Touring Sedan. Heater.

1938 Pontiac 4-Door Touring Sedan. Radio Heater

1937 La Salle 4-Door Touring Sedan. Radio, Heater

1937 Pontiac 2-Door Touring Sedan. Heater

1937 Oldsmobile Club Coupe, Radio Heater

1936 Pontiac 4-Door Touring Sedan. Heater

1935 Pontiac 4-Door Touring Sedan. Heater

1937 Indian Motorcycle. 20 Other Quality Used Cars To Choose From

Spoerl's Garage 32 N. George St. Phone 307

Ford '37 Fordor "85" Sedan Original finish like new. Heater equipped. New tires, and very low mileage make this car an excellent value. Priced extremely low for today only.

RELIABLE MOTORS CO. Harrison at George. Arthur Kamenas. David Sigi. Phone 105

SPECIAL 1939 Chrysler Deluxe Sedan

Can't be told from new. Don't wait if you wish to save a lot of money.

ELCAR SALES Opp. Post Office. Phone 344

Fort Cumberland Motors 361 Frederick St.

Sells Better Used Cars

1937 Olds "B" Deluxe 4-Door Tour. Sedan. A-1 owner, car in perfect condition.

1936 Buick "Special" Bus. Coupe. A-1 owner, car in perfect condition.

1936 Dodge Deluxe 4-Door Touring Sedan. Original black satin finish. Looks like new. A-1 owner, car in perfect condition.

2-Cadillac Model "314" 7 Pass. Sedans in good running shape. For sale at a low price.

TERMS TO SUIT YOUR INCOME LIBERAL TRADES

Fort Cumberland Motors Packard Cars & White Trucks 361 Frederick St. Phone 2665

Buick 1938 Model 41

Four door deluxe sedan. Beautiful blue paint, spotless interior, a one owner car that has had exceptional care. Less than 12,000 actual miles.

RELIABLE MOTORS CO. Harrison at George. Arthur Kamenas. David Sigi. Phone 105

SPECIAL 1938 Dodge Deluxe Sedan

You never looked at a cleaner car than this one.

ELCAR SALES Opp. Post Office. Phone 344

Chevrolet 1934 Master Tour. Sedan

A low priced car that has really been conditioned. New rings, good paint and tires and with a very clean interior. For low priced cars, this is an outstanding value.

RELIABLE MOTORS CO. Harrison at George. Arthur Kamenas. David Sigi. Phone 105

Don't Gamble Buy An Oldsmobile

1938 Olds 4 Dr. Tr. Sedan

1938 Olds Bus. Coupe

1937 Olds 2 Dr. Tr. Sedan

1935 Olds Bus. Coupe

Frantz Olds. Co. 163 Bedford St. Cumberland, Md. Phone 1994

2—Automotive

SPECIAL 1938 Buick Deluxe Sedan

radio, heater, spot light. A beautiful job

ELCAR SALES Opp. Post Office. Phone 344

USED CAR SPECIALS

1938 Pontiac Deluxe 8 Touring Sedan.....$695

Heater, defroster, radio, spot light

1937 Ford 2-door Trunk Sedan $295

TRUCKS

1936 Chev. U. Special 131" Dump.....$525

1930 Dodge Canopy.....$ 65

Hyndman Motor Co. Phone 26 Hyndman, Pa.

SPECIAL 1939 Buick Touring Deluxe Sedan

4,200 miles, same as new. Act quickly—won't stay long.

ELCAR SALES Opp. Post Office. Phone 344

BEST BET'S BUICK

1938 Oldsmobile 4-door Sedan $675

1937 Pontiac 4-door sedan, radio.....$545

1937 Studebaker 4-door sedan.....$495

1937 Pontiac 2-door Sedan.....$495

1936 Plymouth 4-door sedan.....$345

1936 Buick 4-door sedan.....$475

1935 Ford Tudor Sedan.....$225

1933 Terraplane 4-door sedan.....$125

1932 Buick 4-door Sedan.....$145

1931 Buick Coupe.....$ 95

Thompson Buick Corp.

WEEK END SPECIALS

1937 Chrysler 4-Door Sedan.....$489

1937 Pontiac 2-Door Sedan.....$489

1937 Ford Fordor Deluxe.....$429

1937 Ford Coupe.....$389

1936 Dodge Coupe.....$389

TRUCKS

1937 Ford 131" W.B. Dump.....$525

1935 Chevrolet 157" W.B. Chassis and Cab.....$215

1933 Ford Panel.....$115

Many Other Good Low Priced Cars to Choose From

ST. GEORGE MOTOR CO. 215 S. George St. Phone 580

3-A—Auto Glass

AUTO GLASS, National Plate Glass, 415 Henderson Ave. Phone 112. 6-3-11-T

13—Coal For Sale

HELMAN'S SOMERSET big vein. Phone 1184. 9-21-11-T

GENUINE LUMPY 9 Foot Big Vein and Reed's Stoker Coal. Ayer's Coal Co. Phone 3390. 9-19-11-N

Big Vein PHONE 818 Prompt Delivery

GEORGE'S CREEK big vein and stoker coal, $3.50. Phone 2025. 10-14-31-N

JOE JOHNS' Somerset big vein, 3422-W. Cumberland, 2135 Mt. Savage. 10-17-31-T

Good—Rich Coal PHONE 863

GURSON GOOD COAL. Phone 1400. 10-13-31-T

J. RILEY Big Vein and Stoker Coal. Phone 1606-W. 9-23-31-N

H. S. ATHEY coal. Phone 1683-W. 10-7-31-T

WOOD AND COAL. Phone 1752-W. 10-11-31-T

GOOD COAL, $3.25 ton. Phone 2122-J. 10-6-31-T

LITTLE PITTSBURGH VEIN COAL. Special prices. John A. Thomas. MacDonald, Pa. Box 96. 1020-11-W

SOMERSET BIG VEIN, no cinders. Phone 1848-R. 10-20-31-T

15—Electric Work, Fixtures

COOK ELECTRICALLY

Clean, quick, automatic, the most modern cooking method ever enjoyed by mankind.

See Your Electric Dealer or Potomac Edison Company

ELECTRIC WORK MOTOR repairing, wiring and fixtures. Queen City Electric Co. 158 Frederick St. Phone 117. 10-22-11-N

THE TOWN has grown much bigger in the last years, and the Times-News want ads have grown bigger with it. It's still just as easy to tell the fellow on the other side of town, with the help of an ad, what you have to rent or sell as it was when you could walk there in five minutes.

16—Money To Loan

AUTO LOANS Let us refinance your car today and loan you what additional cash you need. Other Companies Paid Off. Lower Payments. Easier Terms. NATIONAL LOAN CO. Lester Millerson, Mgr. 201 So. George at Harrison. Phone 2011

LOANS on Real Estate. Hughes, Heskett, Attorneys, Clark-Keating Bldg. 11-22-11-N

MONEY LOANED on Real Estate. Morris Baron, Attorney, Law Building. 2-1-11-N

• LOANS • MORTGAGES • FINANCING •

McKAIG'S

NEED MONEY ON DIAMONDS, watches, jewelry, luggage, musical instruments, guns, radios and anything of value. We buy old gold. Have unredeemed merchandise at very low prices. Cumberland Loan Co. Pawnbrokers. Phone 607-M. 42 N. Mechanic. 6-30-11-T

17—For Rent

OFFICE ROOMS, Commercial Savings Bank. 11-15-11-N

LOTS OF "Dollar Wise" farmers are taking advantage of the large rural circulation of the Times and News to get the "Top Dollar" for their livestock and farm products. Come to our office write, or Phone 732 today.

19—Furnished Apartments

THREE ROOMS, West Side, reasonable, 17 N. Allegany St. Phone 1298-W. 10-22-31-T

THREE or Four Rooms. Phone 605-R. 9-24-31-T

TWO ROOMS, 656 Fayette, 10-3-11-T

MODERN, CENTRALLY located, adults, $45. Possession November 1st. Phone 1619-J. 221 Baltimore St. 10-10-11-T

THREE ROOMS, heat, Phone 1168-M. 10-18-11-N

TWO ROOMS, 1011 Virginia Ave. 10-13-11-T

BEAUTIFUL TWO room apartment, private bath, central. Phone 2170-J. 10-21-31-T

ONE LARGE light housekeeping room, 218 Walnut Place. 10-21-11-T

20—Unfurnished Apartments

THREE ROOMS, bath, gas, electric, heat furnished. Apply 109 S. Smallwood. 10-22-11-W

FIVE ROOMS, 21 N. Lee. Phone 1161. 10-22-11-W

81 GREENE STREET—3 room and bath apartment, heat, hot water electric refrigerator and stove. Phone evenings 2778-J. day 3453. 8-1-11-T

MODERN FIVE-ROOM apartment. Phone 162-W. 8-8-11-T

446 N. CENTER ST., 2nd floor modern three-room unfurnished apartment. $25 month. Phone 1270, 3490-W. 9-15-11-T

THREE ROOMS, private bath, modern, adults only, no dogs, 702 Maryland Ave. 10-9-11-T

THREE ROOMS, private bath, 712 Maryland Ave. Phone 1469. 10-10-11-T

Modern Apartments, garage 759 Maryland Ave. 10-11-11-T

FOUR ROOMS, porches, heat, furnished, 214 S. Smallwood St. 10-12-11-T

THREE-modern rooms, heat and private bath. 303 Virginia Ave. 10-16-11-W

DUPLEX APARTMENTS, modern 5 rooms and bath, heat furnished, 509 Caroline St., Johnson Heights. Garage. 10-19-31-T

TWO ROOMS, light, heat, gas, $7 week, 223 Baltimore Ave. 10-20-11-N

SO YOU'RE a plumber, carpenter you like to greatly increase your or just do odd jobs. How would volume of business at very low cost? You can run a five-word ad for a month in both the Times and News for a little over two dollars and a half. Start one this month.

22—Furnished Rooms

NICE, HEATED bedroom, 224 Carroll St. 10-23-31-T

HEATED BEDROOM, 104 Decatur St. Phone 621-MX. 10-22-31-T

TWO HOUSEKEEPING rooms, 111 Hanover St. 10-22-11-T

HEATED BEDROOM, Centrally located, 213 Charles. 9-23-31-N

BEDROOM, gentleman, $3. Phone 910. 10-14-11-T

HEATED BEDROOM, 73 Greene St. 10-12-31-T

BEDROOM, modern home, 425 Franklin. 10-14-11-T

HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, 228 Emily St. 10-18-31-T

SLEEPING ROOMS, 101 Bellevue St. 10-19-41-N

LIGHT HOUSEKEEPING rooms, adults, 13 Weber. 10-20-31-N

BEDROOM, also garage, 419 Central Ave. 10-20-31-T

TWO ROOMS, 203 Paca St. 10-20-21-T

KITCHEN, BEDROOM, porch, adults, private family. Phone 229-W. 10-21-31-T

23—Unfurnished Rooms

TWO ROOMS, 18 Euclid Place. 10-22-11-T

FIVE ROOMS, M. P. Moran, Oldtown Road. 10-16-11-W

TWO ROOMS, 802 Maryland Ave. 10-21-21-T

24—Houses for Rent

MODERN EIGHT room house, 3-car garage, 304 Rose Hill Ave. Phone 262. 10-22-31-Su. M. Tu

MODERN SIX room brick, Schley St. All refinished. Call 719-W after 6. 10-22-31-T

SALE OR RENT—House, LaVale, near sub-station, Oscar Bane. 10-22-11-W

LARGE HOUSE, modern except furnace. Call 1893-M. 10-3-11-N

MODERN 9-ROOM HOUSE, 10 Columbia St. Phone 1892-R. 10-11-11-T

SIX ROOM brick house, modern, hot water heat, garage, 609 Kent Ave. Phone 1889-J. 10-17-11-W

THREE ROOMS and bath, modern, $18. Apply 409 Bedford St. 10-18-11-T

SIX ROOMS, modern, 937 Maryland Ave. Phone 2946. Mt. Savage. 10-20-11-W

FIVE ROOMS, bath, $25. Potomac Park. Phone 3599-J. 10-19-11-W

DESIRABLE MODERN house, 114 Virginia Ave. 10-21-31-T

HAS YOUR car seen it's best days of service? If it has, trade it now on one of the late model used cars being offered every day by reliable dealers in the want ad columns.

26—For Sale Misc.

FOR SALE — HUNTING EQUIPMENT. Complete line of everything you'll need for a perfect hunting season. Durable, action-free clothes specially designed for convenience and protection. Wide selection of guns, knives and camping equipment. Check our quality — compare our prices before you buy! Montgomery Ward Order Office... 32 N. Centre St. 10-22-11-T

TWO young rabbit dogs, will trade one for shogun. Apply Bodkin's Garage, near McCoolle. Md. 10-22-11-T

WHEEL CHAIR, $10. Apply Bodkin's Garage, near McCoolle. Md. 10-22-11-T

DELICIOUS and apple butter apples. Irons, Mountain Orchard, 5 1/2 miles out Williams Road. H. W. Miller. Phone 4004-F-21. 9-21-11-T

SOUTHERN PINE LUMBER, flooring, siding and frame in stock. Carload and truckload delivered anywhere. Pennsylvania Lumber & Post Co., Inc., Hyndman, Pa. 9-28-31-T

LEAKING FAUCETS REPAIRED. Phone 10. 10-5-31-T

ONE SPINNER type washer, like new. Cumberland Maytag Co., 66 N. Mechanic St. Phone 848. 10-12

Leslie Helmer Heads Maryland Junior Chamber

Elected President Of Newly-Formed State Organization

L. Leslie Helmer, president of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce, was elected Saturday to head the Maryland Junior Chamber of Commerce, a newly organized federation of all junior chambers or associations in the state.

The election was held in the Lord Baltimore hotel, in Baltimore, with representatives from Cumberland, Frostburg, Frederick, Hagerstown, Hancock, and Baltimore groups attending. Fred Z. Hetzel represented Cumberland, and Ralph Race represented Frostburg.

It is considered a signal honor for the Cumberland association to have Mr. Helmer head the state group, since the local association is the newest in the state, except for Baltimore.

Baltimore Group Chartered

The Baltimore Junior Association of Commerce was presented its charter Friday night at a banquet in the Belvedere hotel, with 200 guests from Maryland, Virginia, and Pennsylvania present.

One of the chief aims of the new state organization is to aid in the establishment of junior chambers or associations in other cities and towns throughout the state, especially on the Eastern Shore. Mr. Hetzel said.

Secretary Here, Too

Cumberland will also have the secretary of the state organization, since the constitution provides that the president and secretary shall be from the same local group. Mr. Helmer will appoint the secretary.

Other state officers elected Saturday are Arley O. Sico, of Hagerstown, and Maxwell Armour, of Baltimore, vice-presidents; and President Storm, of the Frederick chamber, treasurer.

Former Manager Admits Thefts

Embezzled Money From Rosenbaums

A former department manager and buyer of Rosenbaum Brothers' department store pleaded guilty to charges of embezzlement in Circuit court Saturday and was sentenced to eighteen months in the House of Correction.

M. Eugene Beckman, 38, admitted embezzling sums totaling $454.11 between Feb. 15 and July 21. He obtained the money by pretending it was for refunds to customers.

His attorney, Edward J. Ryan, made no plea for clemency.

Sentence was passed by Chief Judge D. Lindsey Sloan and Associate Judge William A. Huster.

Insect Causes Eye Injury

Blinded Driver Hurt Reaching for Brake

A tiny insect and the heavy rain were blamed for three motor accidents in the Cumberland area Saturday afternoon.

Lester H. Haugh, 30, of Oldtown, was driving a truck ten miles west of Frostburg when an insect flew in his eye.

With both of his eyes closed, because of intense pain, he reached for the brake to stop his truck. He struck his head on the instrument board and his right eye was injured by a projecting knob, he said.

Haugh was treated at Miner's hospital, Frostburg, but later was brought here where he was admitted to the local hospital. His condition was "good" last night.

An eight-year-old child, Leona Redman, of 225 Independence street, suffered minor cuts and bruises when the car operated by William Laing, of 324 Furnace street, struck her near her home.

Laing said the child ran in front of his car just after it had stopped raining. He took her to Allegheny hospital where she was treated and released.

In another accident, William A. Campbell, 24, colored, of Washington, was injured about the left arm and face after the coal truck he was driving slid off the National highway on Red Hill, seven miles west of Cumberland, and overturned.

Safety Committee Meets Tonight

The Allegheny county traffic safety committee appointed by Governor Herbert R. O'Connor will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the City Hall to make arrangements for a "follow up" safety campaign to begin November 1.

Luther (Doll) Sahn, safety expert on the staff of Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, will talk at the meeting. He will also show ways of preventing accidents through help of drivers and pedestrians by means of pictures.

John J. McMullen is chairman of the county committee.

CHAMPS FROM PEKIN—Almost everybody enjoyed the bright October Sunday out-of-doors yesterday. These girls were doubly happy, for they posed after winning the championship of the Girls Allegheny County Softball League from South Cumberland's Candy Kitchen girls. Yesterday's games decided the title after each team had won seventeen games and lost only one (to each other) during the league season. The champs, listed in batting order, are Elizabeth Lee, Sedella Schriver, Phyllis Inskeep, Helen Braskey, Marie McMillan, Julia Bundries, Charlotte Muir, Daislean Johnson, Esther Hyde, and Margaret Hyde. Manager is Wilmer Hyde, assistant James Timney.—News Staff Photo.

Shorter Hours For Millions

Wages Rise, Too, Under U. S. Law

Washington, Oct. 22 (AP)—The wage-hour administration estimated today that 2,382,500 wage earners would work a shorter week and 690,000 workers would receive pay increases when the wage-hour law entered the second year of its control over wages and hours on Tuesday.

On that day the twenty-five cents an hour minimum wage in force during the first year of the act changes to thirty cents for employees producing goods sold in interstate commerce. At the same time the maximum work week drops from forty-four to forty-two hours and employers will be required to pay time and a half for all work done in excess of the forty-two hour limitation.

The thirty-cent base pay rate will remain in force for the next six years unless the law is revised by congressional amendment. At the end of six years, the rate becomes forty cents. The maximum work week, however, will be reduced to forty hours next year.

Officials said that approximately three-fourths of the workers now receiving less than thirty cents an hour are concentrated in eleven southern states and five northern industrial states.

During the first year, the wage-hour administration brought charges against ninety-one employers for alleged violation of the act. The administration said the litigation resulted in imposition of $73,350 in fines, collection of $200,000 in back wages, and the jailing of one employer for failing to produce his records.

Enforcement activities, wage-hour officials said, disclosed hourly wages as low as three and four cents paid to home workers.

Shortage of Fats May Harm Germany

Chicago, Oct. 22 (AP)—A former German newspaperman and economist, Peter Drucker, asserted today a shortage of fats would have an actual physiological effect upon the nerves of German people.

"The economic war will first be felt when lack of fats and fodder cracks the nerves of the German civilian population," he said in the University of Chicago's round table broadcast.

"A lack of fats in the diet acts upon the nerves to bring discontent, impatience and discouragement. Germany is lacking in fats, and the fodder for cattle who produce butter and milk."

West Side School Ready For Dedication Tonight

The new West Side School will be dedicated tonight at the year's first meeting of the West Side Parent-Teacher Association.

The dedication program will start at 8 p. m. Teachers will confer with parents in their rooms from 7 until 7:30. The association's business meeting will be held at 7:30.

Deaths

Death of Infant

Shannon Porter, two-and-a-half-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Porter, of Corriantville, died last night at Allegheny hospital.

The body was taken to Stein's Funeral Home.

Mrs. John W. Boone
Mrs. Lucy Boone, wife of John W. Boone, died Saturday at her home, 133 Potomac street, following a lingering illness. She was 66.

Mrs. Boone was born in West Virginia. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Conrad. Surviving, besides her husband, are three sons, Homer, Eaton W. and Floyd Boone, all of Cumberland; five daughters, Mrs. Michael Saverese, of Long Island City, N. Y.; Mrs. C. W. Hawse, Mrs. Bernie Wilkins, Mrs. Melvin Lease and Mrs. James Lancaster, of Cumberland; and five brothers and two sisters. She was a member of Emmanuel Methodist church.

N. O. Secrist
Word was received here Saturday by Richard D. Secrist, of LaVale, of the death of his brother, N. O. Secrist, in Memphis, Tenn.

The body was taken to Roanoke, Va., where Mr. and Mrs. Secrist and their daughter, Peggy, went yesterday to attend the services.

Frederick Haas
Frederick Haas, of Williamsport, Pa., died Friday at his home. He was stricken with a heart attack about a week ago. He was 77.

Surviving are four sons, Frederick C. Haas, of Cumberland; Dr. William I. Dr. Albert C. and Otto G. Haas; and two daughters, Mrs. William Leavy and Mrs. Frank Moyer, all of Williamsport.

Mrs. R. Adah Rosenmerkel
Funeral services for Mrs. Rachel Adah Rosenmerkel, 539 Greene street, who died Wednesday at

Busy Republican Policy Chief Taking Time Off To Speak Here

Former Mayor George Henderson will preside as chairman of the Community Forum's opening lecture Wednesday evening at 8:15 o'clock at Fort Hill High School when Dr. Glenn Frank will lecture and lead the open forum discussion.

Dr. Frank will not announce his subject until he arrives here Wednesday due to the fact that his theme will be on current problems in their national and international relations and he proposes to bring his facts up with the last minute news.

History, Dr. Frank advised the Forum committee, is being made hourly in world politics so that any lecture to be timely must take into consideration happenings on the very day of the talk.

Since Dr. Frank, former president of the University of Wisconsin, occupies now the position of head of the policy committee of the Republican Party his speech here will have national significance, particularly if he discusses the Neutrality Bill now before Congress.

Cumberland will be one of few communities privileged to hear Dr.

Memorial hospital, were conducted Saturday afternoon by the Rev. Vernon N. Ridgeley, pastor of the Centre Street Methodist church. Burial was in Rose Hill cemetery.

Six nephews acted as pallbearers. They were John Marshall, John Steiding, Price Steiding, William Peebles and Nelson and Harold Rosenmerkel.

The Potomac Valley Homemakers Club attended the services in a body.

FHA Officials Coming To Study Housing Plans

Will Check Site Of Co-Op Project On Haystack, Md.

Two ranking, Federal Housing Authority officials will be here Wednesday to study the Cumberland housing situation in general and the layout for the proposed 200-home development on Haystack mountain in particular.

Plans for their visit were announced by J. L. Rodda, an official of the Highlands Buildings Association Inc., the cooperative group which is planning what would be by far the largest housing project ever undertaken here.

Although final FHA approval cannot be given until the local builders are all ready to go, inspections such as will be made Wednesday are designed to give assurance that all FHA requirements can be met.

The officials coming, according to Mr. Rodda, are Edward Flickinger, regional director of the land planning division of FHA, and A. J. Watkins, Maryland evaluator in charge of land planning. Earle Harder, of Annapolis, architect for the project, will also be here.

These officials will look over the development site, check it according to the government's rigid specifications, and make whatever suggestions may be needed. They will also tour Cumberland to establish what is the city's need in the way of new housing.

Mr. Rodda reports considerable interest in the project among prospective home owners, but added that all are taking advantage of the opportunity to study the proposition thoroughly.

The mountain-top tract will be developed by cash payments for lots, and the houses will be built under FHA loans. All houses will be built by one contractor.

Hidden Food Taxes Heavy

Cumberlanders Pay $341,952 Yearly

Families in Cumberland pay an estimated $341,952 in hidden taxes annually through their purchases of food, a National Consumers Tax Commission survey showed today.

"Nearly eight per cent of the total food bill represents shifted taxes buried in the price of every purchase," the report stated. "These unseen levies, for example, take eleven per cent of butter costs, 6 1/2 per cent of bread costs, 10 1/2 per cent of sliced bacon and 14 1/2 per cent of the cost of coffee."

The report was made public through Mrs. Harry L. Harcum, of Salisbury, national committee member, who leads NCTC study groups in Maryland in the educational crusade against "unnecessary consumer-penalizing taxes."

The report added: "Chief offenders, and those that fall most heavily on lower income families, are hidden taxes. These are levied originally against the producer, manufacturer, shipper and distributor. Unable to absorb the load, each must pass on a share of its taxes and the consumer ultimately pays them, usually without knowing it."

The commission, in whose non-partisan crusade groups in approximately 5,000 communities have launched tax study programs, said the hidden tax figure does not include the many other hidden and direct taxes families here have to pay.

The food tax estimate was computed from NCTC averages based on last available U. S. Bureau of the Census figures which placed 1935 food sales in Cumberland at $4,384,000. Government estimates of total sales in the country last year approximate the total in the 1935 study, the NCTC said.

Cooper Predicts German Revolution

New York, Oct. 22 (AP)—Britain's former first lord of the admiralty, Alfred Duff Cooper, predicted today there would be an early right-wing revolution in Germany.

It would originate, he said, from the German army's disillusionment following the German-Russian pact—about the Nazi movement's professed basis of anti-Communism.

A contributing cause, said Cooper—who resigned from the cabinet after the Munich pact but who still is a member of parliament—would be the Nazi movement's antagonism to the national institution of religion.

Although originating in the army, he said, the revolution probably would produce not a military dictatorship but a new monarchy.

Cooper arrived on the liner Manhattan for a several months' lecture tour arranged, he said, before the war started.

Veteran Teacher Honored By Duke Bible Class

The Duke Memorial Men's Bible Class presented Attorney Finley C. Hendrickson with a briefcase when the class met yesterday morning at the Central YMCA.

The gift was given Mr. Hendrickson as a birthday present, and as a token of appreciation of the quarter century he has served as teacher of the class. W. L. Morgan made the presentation.

on High Roads Low Roads and By-Ways

Nature was on a spree yesterday, really painting our part of the world all colors of the rainbow.

We're not exaggerating, either. In the first place, the colors on the mountain couldn't be exaggerated, and in the second place there WAS a rainbow.

We saw it, hanging over Cumberland like a divine blessing, as we came over the Short Gap road, the short cut from Fort Ashby to the McMullen highway.

We stopped at one of the wide places in the road (the WPA has been at work, and this road, although still unpaved, is no longer the dangerous burro trail it used to be) to feast awhile on the view.

It's a grand sweep of country, with the brown cornfields and the rocks of Knebley mountain in the foreground. Celanese buildings gleaming metallically in the middle distance, and far away the Narrows and the smoky haze over Cumberland.

And smack in the midst of all this sunlit autumn splendor was the end of a rainbow, dropping down into Cumberland, where somebody must have the pot of gold.

We rubbed our eyes to see if all this fall coloring, to say nothing of all the pumpkin pie we had had for dinner, hadn't gone to our head.

The rainbow was still there, but an orphaned rainbow it was. It hadn't rained, the sun was bright, and there were no clouds, except a big ball of misty white up over Cumberland. But the rainbow stayed for some time.

We never saw a rainbow under such conditions before. We are inclined to believe it was a good omen for Cumberland. Maybe so.

There certainly was no need for a rainbow yesterday, with all the other color around, but rainbows are that way. They never appear while the storm is raging, they only come when everybody knows the storm has passed and the sun is shining again.

Rainbows are like flowers for the dead, or the kind deeds we remember to want to do for other people after it's too late.

Besides the rainbow, we also ran into a girls softball game out on the Celanese field. It was a football afternoon, but the girls were playing pretty fast ball, and they had plenty of enthusiastic rooters, especially for the Pekin side.

These girls play a pretty good game of ball (they're the county league leaders, of course) and do everything the boys do except chew tobacco.

We only saw the thrilling finish to the game, which Pekin won in an extra inning a la New York Yankees, but we noticed this about the girls.

Whenever they weren't sure just where the ball should be thrown, they would throw it too easy, and the ball would usually hop along clear out of control and not get to anybody. Which is the worst thing that could happen.

When the girls were sure what they wanted to do, like chasing a grounder or stealing a base, they went about it like they meant business. But when they weren't sure which play they should make, they acted like they were trying on all the hats in the store.

X-Ray Pictures Studied To Save Boy's Eyes

Chances for saving the eyesight of 4-year-old Paul Grabenstein, victim of a dynamite cap blast Friday, remained uncertain today pending the completion of more x-ray pictures.

X-rays were taken at Allegheny hospital Saturday, but still others will have to be made today before medical science can tell what might be done to save the child from blindness.

Paul, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Grabenstein, of RFD 5, Winchester road, was burned about the face and chest when he tossed the explosive cap into the family cook-stove.

He is supposed to have gotten the cap from a truck parked in a lime quarry nearby.

His condition was reported as "fairly good" last night.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Carter, of Hyndman, Pa., announce the birth of a son last night at Allegheny hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph J. Kompak, 638 1/2 Lincoln street, announce the birth of a daughter yesterday morning at Allegheny hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Margherita of Ridgeley, announce the birth of a daughter yesterday morning at Memorial hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lancaster of Mt. Savage, announce the birth of a daughter Oct. 15 at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond F. Ackerson, 766 Maryland avenue, announce the birth of a son Oct. 14 at home.

Try New Policy Of Transferring Game Wardens

Fulcher P. Smith Explains Purpose; Minke Moved

Transfer of Deputy Game Warden Joseph A. Minke to Garrett county is in line with the new statewide policy adopted by the state conservation commission at its meeting, Fulcher P. Smith, commission member, said last night.

"It is a new policy we are trying out," said Mr. Smith. "We feel that it will improve the service and is of benefit both to the public and to the wardens if they are shifted about occasionally."

"Other states shift their game wardens. State police and FBI men are shifted like that, too."

"Under the new policy, even our best wardens will be shifted around," the commissioner went on to explain. "When a man stays year after year in a community, he is bound to get the ill will of some groups which will try to hinder his work."

"We think the wardens can do a better job if they are shifted now and then."

Mr. Smith said Minke's transfer is one of seven or eight planned in the state. The transfer policy will apply to all regular-salaried wardens.

The new transfer policy, he said, was mapped out by the commission, but transfer orders will be issued by Lee LeCompte, state game warden.

Deputy Warden Minke will exchange places with Richard Browning, deputy warden for Garrett county, who will be moved here.

Artists Named For Concerts

Co-Op Association Signs 500 Members

The three artists whose music will highlight the Cumberland concert season were announced yesterday as the Cooperative Concert Association's membership campaign reached a successful close.

Some 500 persons subscribed to membership, which will permit them to hear Muriel Dickinson, piano of the Metropolitan Opera Company; Erno Balog, pianist; and Marjorie Edwards, violinist.

Definite dates for the appearance of these three stars here will be announced later.

The membership of the association for this year is about the same as for last year.

Two Workers Fracture Shoulders in Falls

Fractured right shoulders and bruises were sustained by two men when they fell while at work on the week-end.

A 36-year-old orchard worker, Clifford Emeric, of Fairhope, Pa., was treated Saturday at Allegheny hospital after falling about 15 feet from an apple tree.

Charles O. Williams, 41, of RFD 3, was injured Saturday when he fell about twelve feet from a ladder while putting a light fuse in a socket at the Steinla Motor St. South Mechanic street, where he is employed. He was treated at Allegheny hospital.

Both men were released from the hospital after being treated.

'Go Back to School', Young Thief Ordered

"Go back to school," Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., told a 17-year-old Flintstone youth Saturday in Allegheny court.

The youth was ordered to good and return to school after pleading guilty to stealing a twenty-five cent bracelet from a Baltimore street five and ten.

Magistrate Bruce released the youth in custody of his father.

At the same time, a 15-year-old companion who was arrested on police on a similar count, was released in custody of his father.

The War's Not Over Traffic Cops Say

City police last night arrested their first careless driver since Wednesday.

Roy Bruck, of Hyndman, Pa., was apprehended in North Cumberland by Officers Thomas T. Griffin and James E. Kelley.

Bruck was released under a bond after being booked at the quarters. He is scheduled to give a hearing this morning in Police court.

Samuel Leptic, of RFD 1, was arrested late last night on the West Side by Officers T. T. Griffin and J. E. Kelley for speeding. He is to be given a hearing today in Police court.

DeMolay Activities

The Cumberland Chapter of the Order of the DeMolay will hold skating party tonight at Crystal Park from 8 to 11 p. m.

It is also announced that the regular meeting will be held Tuesday, instead of Wednesday, this time.

Leslie Helmer Heads Maryland Junior Chamber

Elected President Of Newly-Formed
State Organization

L. Leslie Helmer, president of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce, was elected Saturday to head the Maryland Junior Chamber of Commerce, a newly organized federation of all junior chambers or associations in the state.

The election was held in the Lord Baltimore hotel, in Baltimore, with representatives from Cumberland, Frostburg, Frederick, Hagerstown, Hancock, and Baltimore groups attending. Fred Z. Hetzel represented Cumberland, and Ralph Race represented Frostburg.

It is considered a signal honor for the Cumberland association to have Mr. Helmer head the state group, since the local association is the newest in the state, except for Baltimore.

Baltimore Group Chartered

The Baltimore Junior Association of Commerce was presented its charter Friday night at a banquet in the Belvedere hotel, with 200 guests from Maryland, Virginia, and Pennsylvania present.

One of the chief aims of the new state organization is to aid in the establishment of junior chambers or associations in other cities and towns throughout the state, especially on the Eastern Shore, Mr. Hetzel said.

Secretary Here, Too

Cumberland will also have the secretary of the state organization, since the constitution provides that the president and secretary shall be from the same local group. Mr. Helmer will appoint the secretary.

Other state officers elected Saturday are Arley O. Sion, of Hagerstown, and Maxwell Armour, of Baltimore, vice-presidents; and President Storm, of the Frederick chamber, treasurer.

Former Manager Admits Theft

Embezzled Money
From Rosenbaums

A former department manager and buyer of Rosenbaum Brothers department store pleaded guilty to charges of embezzlement in Circuit court Saturday and was sentenced to eighteen months in the House of Correction.

M. Eugene Beckman, 38, admitted embezzling sums totaling $454.11 between Feb. 15 and July 21. He obtained the money by pretending it was for refunds to customers.

His attorney, Edward J. Ryan, made no plea for clemency. Sentence was passed by Chief Judge D. Lindley Sloan and Associate Judge William A. Huster.

Insect Causes Eye Injury

Blinded Driver Hurt
Reaching for Brake

A tiny insect and the heavy rain were blamed for three motor accidents in the Cumberland area Saturday afternoon.

Lester H. Haugh, 30, of Oldtown, was driving a truck ten miles west of Frostburg when an insect flew in his eye.

With both of his eyes closed, because of intense pain, he reached for the brake to stop his truck. He struck his head on the instrument board and his right eye was injured by a projecting knob, he said.

Haugh was treated at Miner's hospital, Frostburg, but later was brought here where he was admitted to the local hospital. His condition was "good" last night.

An eight-year-old child, Leona Redman, of 225 Independence street, suffered minor cuts and bruises when the car operated by William Laing, of 324 Furnace street, struck her near her home.

Laking said the child ran in front of his car just after it had stopped raining. He took her to Allegheny hospital where she was treated and released.

In another accident, William A. Campbell, 24, colored, of Washington, was injured about the left arm and face after the coal truck he was driving slid off the National highway on Red Hill, seven miles west of Cumberland, and overturned.

Safety Committee Meets Tonight

The Allegany county traffic safety committee appointed by Governor Herbert R. O'Connor will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the City Hall to make arrangements for a "follow up" safety campaign to begin November 1.

Luther (Doll) Derr, safety expert on the staff of Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, will talk at the meeting. He will also show ways of preventing accidents through help of drivers and pedestrians by means of pictures.

John J. McMullen is chairman of the county committee.

CHAMPS FROM PEKIN—Almost everybody enjoyed the bright October Sunday out-of-doors yesterday. These girls were doubly happy, for they posed after winning the championship of the Girls Allegheny County Softball League from South Cumberland's Candy Kitchen girls. Yesterday's games decided the title after each team had won seventeen games and lost only once (to each other) during the league season. The champs, listed in batting order, are Elizabeth Lee, Sedella Schriver, Phyllis Inskeep, Helen Braskey, Marie McMillan, Julia Bundries, Charlotte Muir, Daislean Johnson, Esther Hyde, and Margaret Hyde. Manager is Wilmer Hyde, assistant James Timney.—News Staff Photo.

Shorter Hours For Millions

Wages Rise, Too,
Under U. S. Law

Washington, Oct. 22 (AP)—The wage-hour administration estimated today that 2,382,500 wage earners would work a shorter week and 690,000 workers would receive pay increases when the wage-hour law entered the second year of its control over wages and hours on Tuesday.

On that day the twenty-five cents an hour minimum wage in force during the first year of the act changes to thirty cents for employees producing goods sold in interstate commerce. At the same time the maximum work week drops from forty-four to forty-two hours and employers will be required to pay time and a half for all work done in excess of the forty-two hour limitation.

The thirty-cent base pay rate will remain in force for the next six years unless the law is revised by congressional amendment. At the end of six years, the rate becomes forty cents. The maximum work week, however, will be reduced to forty hours next year.

Officials said that approximately three-fourths of the workers now receiving less than thirty cents an hour are concentrated in eleven southern states and five northern industrial states.

During the first year, the wage-hour administration brought charges against ninety-one employers for alleged violation of the act. The administration said the litigation resulted in imposition of $73,356 in fines, collection of $200,000 in back wages, and the jailing of one employer for failing to produce his records.

Enforcement activities, wage-hour officials said, disclosed hourly wages as low as three and four cents paid to home workers.

Shortage of Fats May Harm Germany

Chicago, Oct. 22 (AP)—A former German newspaperman and economist, Peter Drucker, asserted today a shortage of fats would have an actual physiological effect upon the nerves of German people.

"The economic war will first be felt when lack of fats and fodder cracks the nerves of the German civilian population," he said in the University of Chicago's round table broadcast.

"A lack of fats in the diet acts upon the nerves to bring discontent, impatience and discouragement. Germany is lacking in fats, and the fodder for cattle who produce butter and milk."

West Side School Ready For Dedication Tonight

The new West Side School will be dedicated tonight at the year's first meeting of the West Side Parent-Teacher Association.

The dedication program will start at 8 p. m. Teachers will confer with parents in their rooms from 7 until 7:30. The association's business meeting will be held at 7:30.

Deaths

Death of Infant

Shannon Porter, two-and-a-half-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Porter, of Corriganville, died last night at Allegheny hospital.

The body was taken to Stein's Funeral Home.

Mrs. John W. Boone

Mrs. Lucy Boone, wife of John W. Boone, died Saturday at her home, 133 Potomac street, following a lingering illness. She was 66.

Mrs. Boone was born in West Virginia. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Conrad.

Surviving, besides her husband, are three sons, Homer, Easton W. and Floyd Boone, all of Cumberland; five daughters, Mrs. Michael Saverese, of Long Island City, N. Y.; Mrs. C. W. Hawse, Mrs. Bernie Wilkins, Mrs. Melvin Lease and Mrs. James Lancaster, of Cumberland; and five brothers and two sisters.

She was a member of Emmanuel Methodist church.

N. O. Scerist

Word was received here Saturday by Richard D. Scerist, of LaVale, of the death of his brother, N. O. Scerist, in Memphis, Tenn.

The body was taken to Roanoke, Va., where Mr. and Mrs. Scerist and their daughter, Peggy, went yesterday to attend the services.

Frederick Haas

Frederick Haas, of Williamsport, Pa., died Friday at his home. He was stricken with a heart attack about a week ago. He was 77.

Surviving are four sons, Frederick C. Haas, of Cumberland; Dr. William I. Dr. Albert C. and Otto G. Haas; and two daughters, Mrs. William Leavy and Mrs. Frank Moyer, all of Williamsport.

Mrs. R. Adah Rosenmerkel

Funeral services for Mrs. Rachel Adah Rosenmerkel, 539 Greene street, who died Wednesday at

Busy Republican Policy Chief Taking Time Off To Speak Here

Former Mayor George Henderson will preside as chairman of the Community Forum's opening lecture Wednesday evening at 8:15 o'clock at Port Hill High School when Dr. Glenn Frank will lecture and lead the open forum discussion.

Dr. Frank will not announce his subject until he arrives here Wednesday due to the fact that his theme will be on current problems in their national and international relations and he proposes to bring his facts up with the last minute news.

History, Dr. Frank advised the forum committee, is being made hourly in world politics so that any lecture to be timely must take into consideration happenings on the very day of the talk.

Since Dr. Frank, former president of the University of Wisconsin, occupies now the position of head of the policy committee of the Republican Party his speech here will have national significance, particularly if he discusses the Neutrality Bill now before Congress.

Cumberland will be one of few communities privileged to hear Dr.

Memorial hospital, were conducted Saturday afternoon by the Rev. Vernon N. Ridgeley, pastor of the Centre Street Methodist church. Burial was in Rose Hill cemetery.

Six nephews acted as pallbearers. They were John Marshall, John Steiding, Price Steiding, William Peebles and Nelson and Harold Rosenmerkel.

The Potomac Valley Homemakers' Club attended the services in a body.

Midshipman recovering from Labor Day crash

The condition of Midshipman Burton Andrews, 23, of the U. S. Naval Academy, who was critically injured Labor Day when he was struck by a car while standing along Glendale road at Deep Creek, was reported "good" last night at Memorial hospital.

Midshipman Andrews suffered a fractured skull and multiple cuts and bruises. The car was driven by Hopwood J. Woodell, of Oakland.

Midshipman Andrews suffered a fractured skull and multiple cuts and bruises. The car was driven by Hopwood J. Woodell, of Oakland.

Midshipman Andrews suffered a fractured skull and multiple cuts and bruises. The car was driven by Hopwood J. Woodell, of Oakland.

Midshipman Andrews suffered a fractured skull and multiple cuts and bruises. The car was driven by Hopwood J. Woodell, of Oakland.

Midshipman Andrews suffered a fractured skull and multiple cuts and bruises. The car was driven by Hopwood J. Woodell, of Oakland.

Midshipman Andrews suffered a fractured skull and multiple cuts and bruises. The car was driven by Hopwood J. Woodell, of Oakland.

Midshipman Andrews suffered a fractured skull and multiple cuts and bruises. The car was driven by Hopwood J. Woodell, of Oakland.

Midshipman Andrews suffered a fractured skull and multiple cuts and bruises. The car was driven by Hopwood J. Woodell, of Oakland.

Midshipman Andrews suffered a fractured skull and multiple cuts and bruises. The car was driven by Hopwood J. Woodell, of Oakland.

Midshipman Andrews suffered a fractured skull and multiple cuts and bruises. The car was driven by Hopwood J. Woodell, of Oakland.

Midshipman Andrews suffered a fractured skull and multiple cuts and bruises. The car was driven by Hopwood J. Woodell, of Oakland.

Midshipman Andrews suffered a fractured skull and multiple cuts and bruises. The car was driven by Hopwood J. Woodell, of Oakland.

Midshipman Andrews suffered a fractured skull and multiple cuts and bruises. The car was driven by Hopwood J. Woodell, of Oakland.

Midshipman Andrews suffered a fractured skull and multiple cuts and bruises. The car was driven by Hopwood J. Woodell, of Oakland.

Midshipman Andrews suffered a fractured skull and multiple cuts and bruises. The car was driven by Hopwood J. Woodell, of Oakland.

Midshipman Andrews suffered a fractured skull and multiple cuts and bruises. The car was driven by Hopwood J. Woodell, of Oakland.

Midshipman Andrews suffered a fractured skull and multiple cuts and bruises. The car was driven by Hopwood J. Woodell, of Oakland.

FHA Officials Coming To Study Housing Plans

Will Check Site
Of Co-Op Project
On Haystack, Md.

Two ranking, Federal Housing Authority officials will be here Wednesday to study the Cumberland housing situation in general and the layout for the proposed 200-home development on Haystack mountain in particular.

Plans for their visit were announced by J. L. Rodda, an official of the Highlands Buildings Association Inc., the cooperative group which is planning what would be by far the largest housing project ever undertaken here.

Although final FHA approval cannot be given until the local builders are all ready to go, inspections such as will be made Wednesday are designed to give assurance that all FHA requirements can be met.

The officials coming, according to Mr. Rodda, are Edward Flickinger, regional director of the land planning division of FHA, and A. J. Watkins, Maryland evaluator in charge of land planning. Earle Harder, of Annapolis, architect for the project, will also be here.

These officials will look over the development site, check it according to the government's rigid specifications, and make whatever suggestions may be needed. They will also tour Cumberland to establish what is the city's need in the way of new housing.

Mr. Rodda reports considerable interest in the project among prospective home owners, but added that all are taking advantage of the opportunity to study the proposition thoroughly.

The mountain-top tract will be developed by cash payments for lots, and the houses will be built under FHA loans. All houses will be built by one contractor.

Hidden Food Taxes Heavy

Cumberlanders Pay
$341,952 Yearly

Families in Cumberland pay an estimated $341,952 in hidden taxes annually through their purchases of food, a National Consumers Tax Commission survey showed today.

"Nearly eight per cent of the total food bill represents shifted taxes buried in the price of every purchase," the report stated. "These unseen levies, for example, take eleven per cent of butter costs, 6 1/2 per cent of bread costs, 10 1/2 per cent of sliced bacon and 14 1/2 per cent of the cost of coffee."

The report was made public through Mrs. Harry L. Harcum, of Salisbury, national committee member, who leads NCTC study groups in Maryland in the educational crusade against "unnecessary consumer-penalizing taxes."

"Chief offenders, and those that fall most heavily on lower income families, are hidden taxes. These are levied originally against the producer, manufacturer, shipper and distributor. Unable to absorb the load, each must pass on a share of its taxes and the consumer ultimately pays them, usually without knowing it."

The commission, in whose non-partisan crusade groups in approximately 5,000 communities have launched tax study programs, said the hidden tax figure does not include the many other hidden and direct taxes families here have to pay.

The food tax estimate was computed from NCTC averages based on last available U. S. Bureau of the Census figures which placed 1935 food sales in Cumberland at $4,384,000. Government estimates of total sales in the country last year approximate the total in the 1935 study, the NCTC said.

The commission, in whose non-partisan crusade groups in approximately 5,000 communities have launched tax study programs, said the hidden tax figure does not include the many other hidden and direct taxes families here have to pay.

The food tax estimate was computed from NCTC averages based on last available U. S. Bureau of the Census figures which placed 1935 food sales in Cumberland at $4,384,000. Government estimates of total sales in the country last year approximate the total in the 1935 study, the NCTC said.

The commission, in whose non-partisan crusade groups in approximately 5,000 communities have launched tax study programs, said the hidden tax figure does not include the many other hidden and direct taxes families here have to pay.

The food tax estimate was computed from NCTC averages based on last available U. S. Bureau of the Census figures which placed 1935 food sales in Cumberland at $4,384,000. Government estimates of total sales in the country last year approximate the total in the 1935 study, the NCTC said.

The commission, in whose non-partisan crusade groups in approximately 5,000 communities have launched tax study programs, said the hidden tax figure does not include the many other hidden and direct taxes families here have to pay.

The food tax estimate was computed from NCTC averages based on last available U. S. Bureau of the Census figures which placed 1935 food sales in Cumberland at $4,384,000. Government estimates of total sales in the country last year approximate the total in the 1935 study, the NCTC said.

The commission, in whose non-partisan crusade groups in approximately 5,000 communities have launched tax study programs, said the hidden tax figure does not include the many other hidden and direct taxes families here have to pay.

The food tax estimate was computed from NCTC averages based on last available U. S. Bureau of the Census figures which placed 1935 food sales in Cumberland at $4,384,000. Government estimates of total sales in the country last year approximate the total in the 1935 study, the NCTC said.

The commission, in whose non-partisan crusade groups in approximately 5,000 communities have launched tax study programs, said the hidden tax figure does not include the many other hidden and direct taxes families here have to pay.

The food tax estimate was computed from NCTC averages based on last available U. S. Bureau of the Census figures which placed 1935 food sales in Cumberland at $4,384,000. Government estimates of total sales in the country last year approximate the total in the 1935 study, the NCTC said.

The commission, in whose non-partisan crusade groups in approximately 5,000 communities have launched tax study programs, said the hidden tax figure does not include the many other hidden and direct taxes families here have to pay.

The food tax estimate was computed from NCTC averages based on last available U. S. Bureau of the Census figures which placed 1935 food sales in Cumberland at $4,384,000. Government estimates of total sales in the country last year approximate the total in the 1935 study, the NCTC said.

The commission, in whose non-partisan crusade groups in approximately 5,000 communities have launched tax study programs, said the hidden tax figure does not include the many other hidden and direct taxes families here have to pay.

The food tax estimate was computed from NCTC averages based on last available U. S. Bureau of the Census figures which placed 1935 food sales in Cumberland at $4,384,000. Government estimates of total sales in the country last year approximate the total in the 1935 study, the NCTC said.

The commission, in whose non-partisan crusade groups in approximately 5,000 communities have launched tax study programs, said the hidden tax figure does not include the many other hidden and direct taxes families here have to pay.

The food tax estimate was computed from NCTC averages based on last available U. S. Bureau of the Census figures which placed 1935 food sales in Cumberland at $4,384,000. Government estimates of total sales in the country last year approximate the total in the 1935 study, the NCTC said.

The commission, in whose non-partisan crusade groups in approximately 5,000 communities have launched tax study programs, said the hidden tax figure does not include the many other hidden and direct taxes families here have to pay.

The food tax estimate was computed from NCTC averages based on last available U. S. Bureau of the Census figures which placed 1935 food sales in Cumberland at $4,384,000. Government estimates of total sales in the country last year approximate the total in the 1935 study, the NCTC said.

The commission, in whose non-partisan crusade groups in approximately 5,000 communities have launched tax study programs, said the hidden tax figure does not include the many other hidden and direct taxes families here have to pay.

on High Roads Low Roads and By-Ways

Nature was on a spree yesterday, really painting our part of the world all colors of the rainbow.

We're not exaggerating, either. In the first place, the colors on the mountain couldn't be exaggerated, and in the second place there WAS a rainbow.

We saw it, hanging over Cumberland like a divine blessing, as we came over the Short Gap road, the short cut from Fort Ashby to the McMullen highway.

We stopped at one of the wide places in the road (the WPA has been at work, and this road, although still unpaved, is no longer the dangerous burro trail it used to be) to feast awhile on the view.

It's a grand sweep of country, with the brown cornfields and the rocks of Knobley mountain in the foreground. Celanese buildings gleaming metallically in the middle distance, and far away the Narrows and the smoky haze over Cumberland.

And smack in the midst of all this sunlit autumn splendor was the end of a rainbow, dropping down into Cumberland, where somebody must have the pot of gold.

We rubbed our eyes to see if all this fall coloring, to say nothing of all the pumpkin pie we had had for dinner, hadn't gone to our head.

The rainbow was still there, but an orphaned rainbow it was. It hadn't rained, the sun was bright, and there were no clouds, except a big ball of misty white up over Cumberland. But the rainbow stayed for some time.

We never saw a rainbow under such conditions before. We are inclined to believe it was a good omen for Cumberland. Maybe so.

There certainly was no need for a rainbow yesterday, with all the other color around, but rainbows are that way. They never appear while the storm is raging, they only come when everybody knows the storm has passed and the sun is shining again.

Rainbows are like flowers for the dead, or the kind deeds we remember to want to do for other people after it's too late.

Besides the rainbow, we also ran into a girls softball game out on the Celanese field. It was a football afternoon, but the girls were playing pretty fast ball, and they had plenty of enthusiastic rooters, especially for the Pekin side.

These girls play a pretty good game of ball (they're the county league leaders, of course) and do everything the boys do except chew tobacco.

We only saw the thrilling finish to the game, which Pekin won in an extra inning a la New York Yankees, but we noticed this about the girls.

Whenever they weren't sure just where the ball should be thrown, they would throw it too easy, and the ball would usually hop along clear out of control and not get to anybody. Which is the worst thing that could happen.

When the girls were sure what they wanted to do, like chasing a grounder or stealing a base, they went about it like they meant business. But when they weren't sure which play they should make, they acted like they were trying on all the hats in the store.

X-Ray Pictures Studied To Save Boy's Eyes

Chances for saving the eyesight of 4-year-old Paul Grabenstein, victim of a dynamite cap blast Friday, remained uncertain today pending the completion of more x-ray pictures.

X-rays were taken at Allegheny hospital Saturday, but still others will have to be made today before medical science can tell what might be done to save the child from blindness.

Paul, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Grabenstein, of RFD 5, Winchester road, was burned about the face and chest when he tossed the explosive cap into the family cook-stove.

He is supposed to have gotten the cap from a truck parked in a lime quarry nearby.

His condition was reported as "fairly good" last night.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Carter, of Hyndman, Pa., announce the birth of a son last night at Allegheny hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph J. Kompak, 638 1/2 Lincoln street, announce the birth of a daughter yesterday morning at Allegheny hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Margherita, of Ridgeley, announce the birth of a daughter yesterday morning at Memorial hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lancaster, of Mt. Savage, announce the birth of a daughter Oct. 15 at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond F. Arker, 766 Maryland avenue, announce the birth of a son Oct. 14 at home.

Veteran Teacher Honored By Duke Bible Class

The Duke Memorial Men's Bible Class presented Attorney Finley C. Hendrickson with a briefcase when the class met yesterday morning at the Central YMCA.

The gift was given Mr. Hendrickson as a birthday present, and as a token of appreciation of the quarter century he has served as teacher of the class. W. L. Morgan made the presentation.

DeMolay Activities

The Cumberland Chapter of Order of the DeMolay will hold a skating party tonight at City Park from 8 to 11 p. m.

It is also announced that a regular meeting will be held Tuesday, instead of Wednesday, this time.

Try New Policy Of Transferring Game Wardens

Fulcher P. Smith Explains Purpose; Minke Moved

Transfer of Deputy Game Warden Joseph A. Minke to Garrettsville is in line with the new state policy adopted by the state conservation commission at its meeting, Fulcher P. Smith, commission member, said last night.

"It is a new policy we are trying out," said Mr. Smith. "We feel it will improve the service and of benefit both to the public and the wardens if they are shifted about occasionally."

"Other states shift their game wardens. State police and FBI men are shifted like that, too."

"Under the new policy, even the best wardens will be shifted around," the commissioner went on to explain. "When a man stays year after year in a community, he is bound to get the ill will of some groups which will try to hinder his work."

"We think the wardens can do better job if they are shifted now and then."

Mr. Smith said Minke's transfer is one of seven or eight planned for the state. The transfer policy will apply to all regular-salary wardens.

The new transfer policy, he said, was mapped out by the commission, but transfer orders will be issued by Lee LeCompte, state game warden.

Deputy Warden Minke will exchange places with Richard Brown, deputy warden for Garrett county, who will be moved here.

Artists Named For Concerts